As it stands, the edifice that is Joliet Township High School is just a hollow shell without purpose or life. Only when you, the young men and women of this school, enter the halls and classrooms of the building does it come alive; only then is its existence as a school justified.

These pages, too, would be empty without the story of your school year to tell. So, it is fitting that this, the "J" of '62," be dedicated to you.

The Students of Joliet Township High School.

"Miss J" of 1962

Assuming that yearbooks are for looking, what better looking is there than at a picture of a beautiful girl. In an attempt to help satisfy the people's desire to "feast their eyes," the editors of the J of 1962 have designated a "sweetheart of the yearbook." The primary function of our "Sweetheart," by looking "pretty as a picture," is to set the mood and create a proper atmosphere in the opening pages as our readers prepare to browse through this annual pictorial record of Joliet Township High School. No better representative of photogenic beauty could have been selected, this year by Pat Boone, nationally renowned entertainer, than our own vision of loveliness, Miss Janis FitzHenry.

—The Editors of the J of 1962

JANIS FITZHENRY, "MISS J" OF 1962

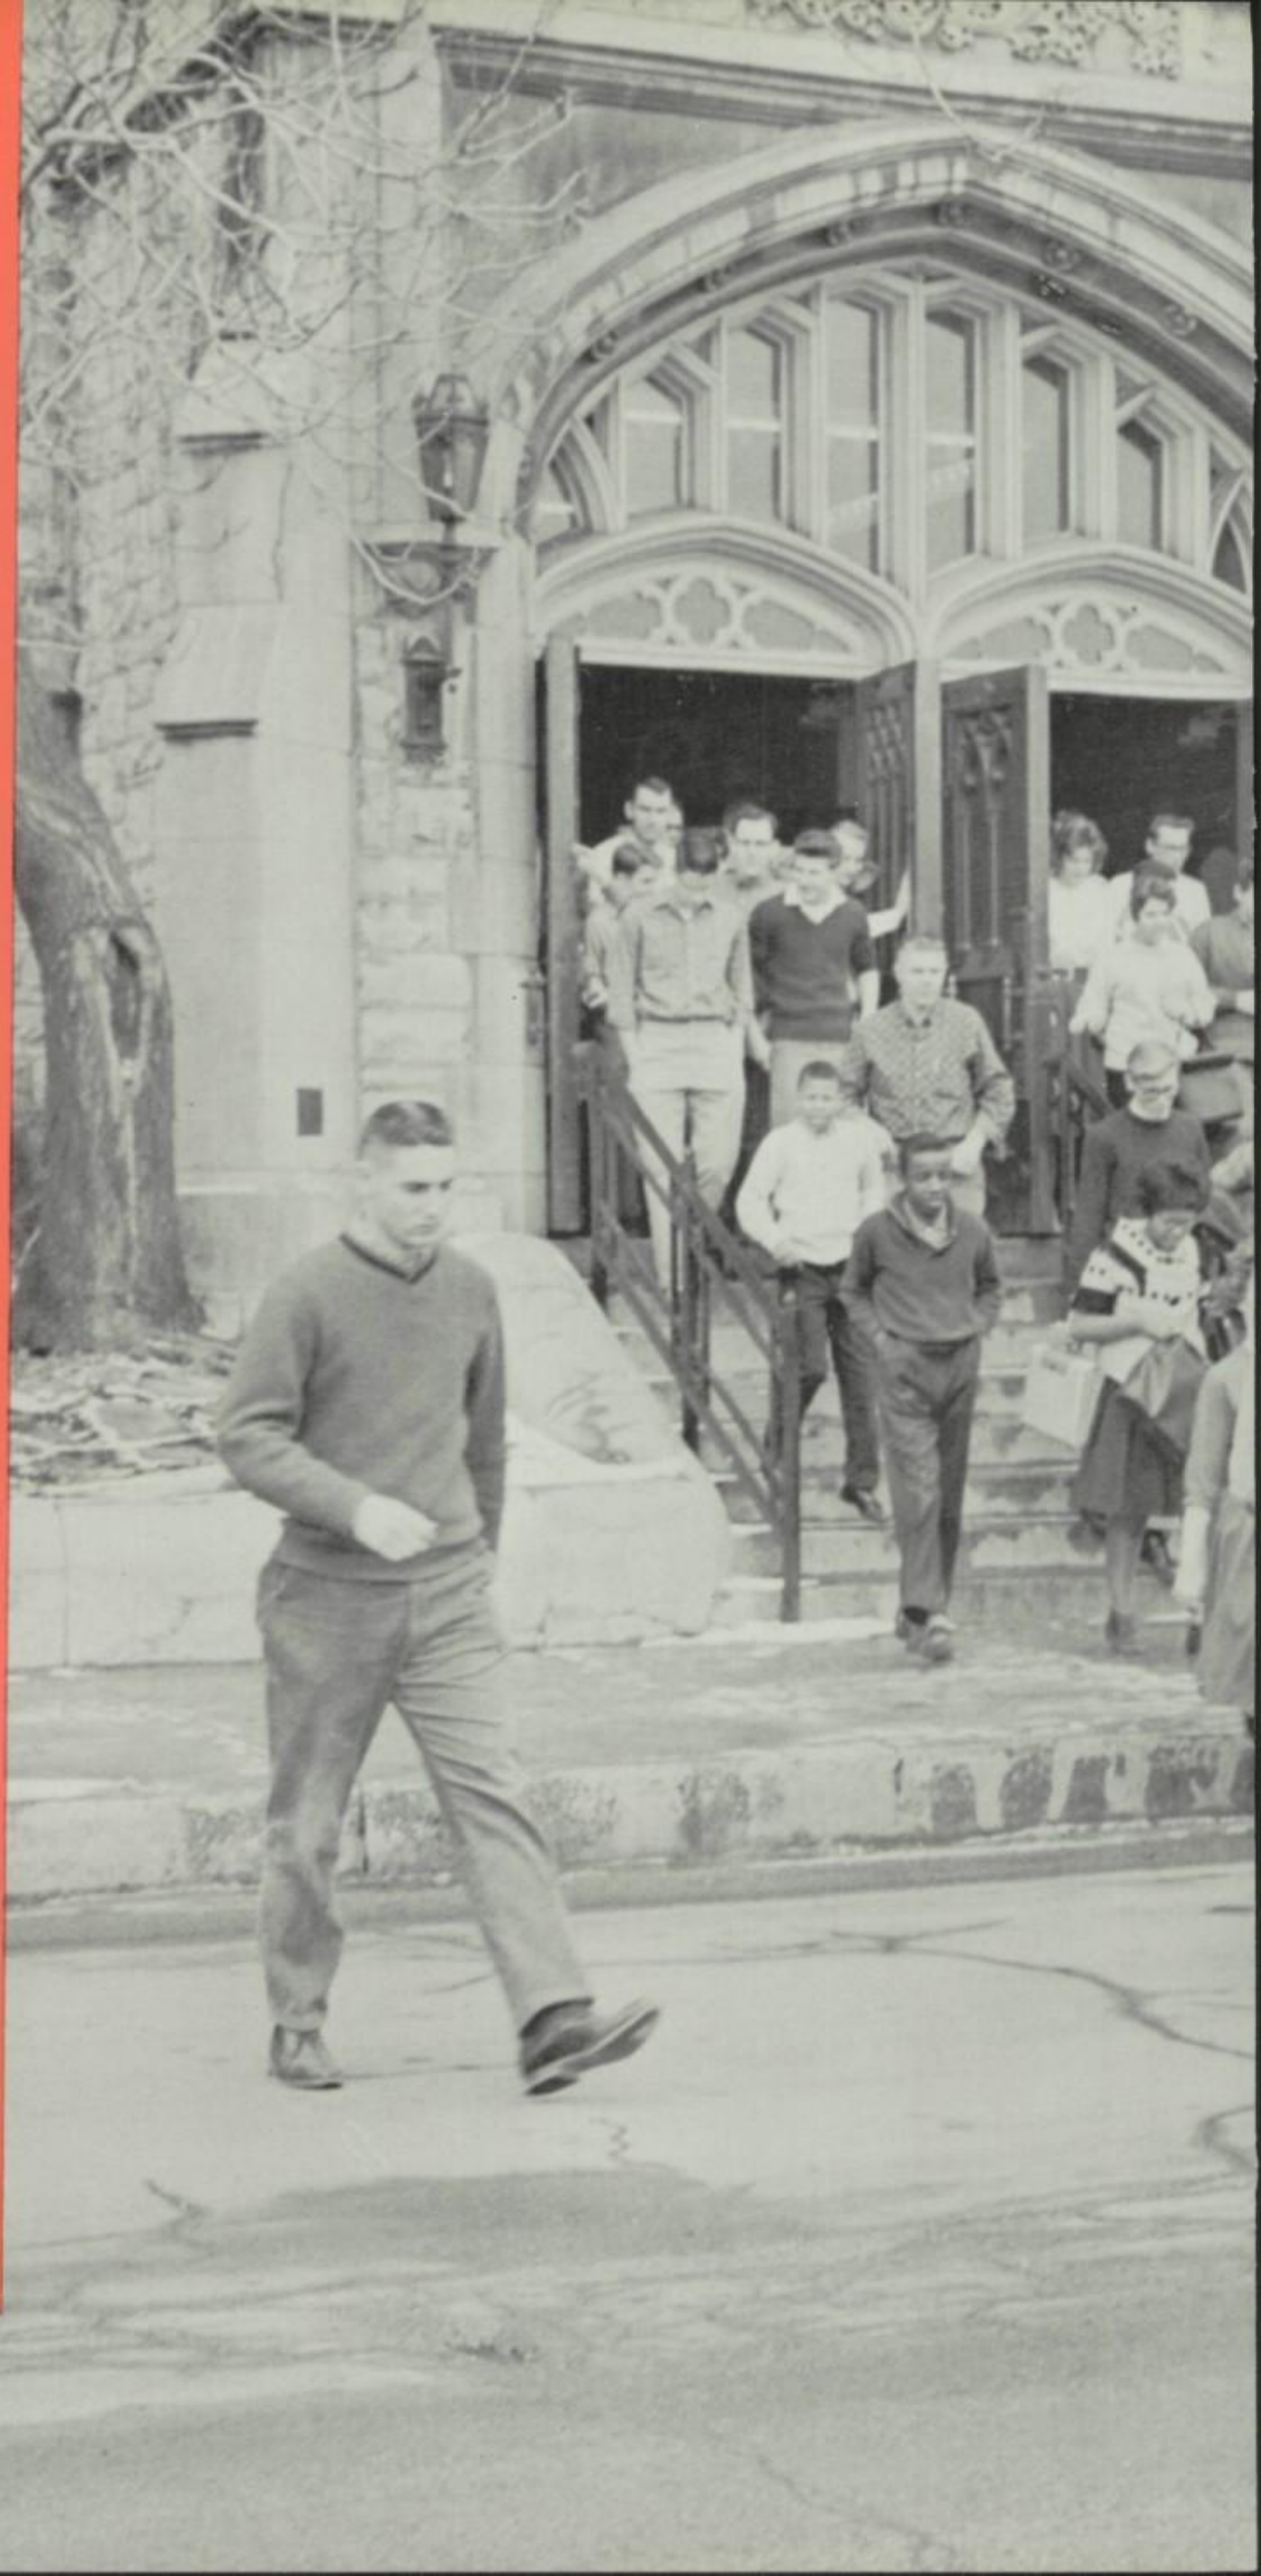

She's not only pretty, but she bowls well, too. Janis is veritable proof that beauty, intelligence, and physical dexterity do mix to create the nation's most endeared artifact—the All-American Girl.

The cafeteria? Why, it's right down those stairs and to your left.

Just $1.00 gets you your own key to the elevator!

Ode to A Freshman

Oh, Freshman, thou art still so small.
We look at you and we grow tall.
You ones who crowd the halls in masses,
Must all bring forth thy bright green passes.
Thou carriest so many books,
Thou dost receive some funny looks.
Five free minutes to change thy room.
Down the halls you runneth—like vooooom!
Thou art so scared if we yell, Boo!
Feel not thou foolish. We've been there too!
—Betsy Eneix

That wasn't the Freshman Library!

What pass?

Essentials for Smooth-Running Homerooms

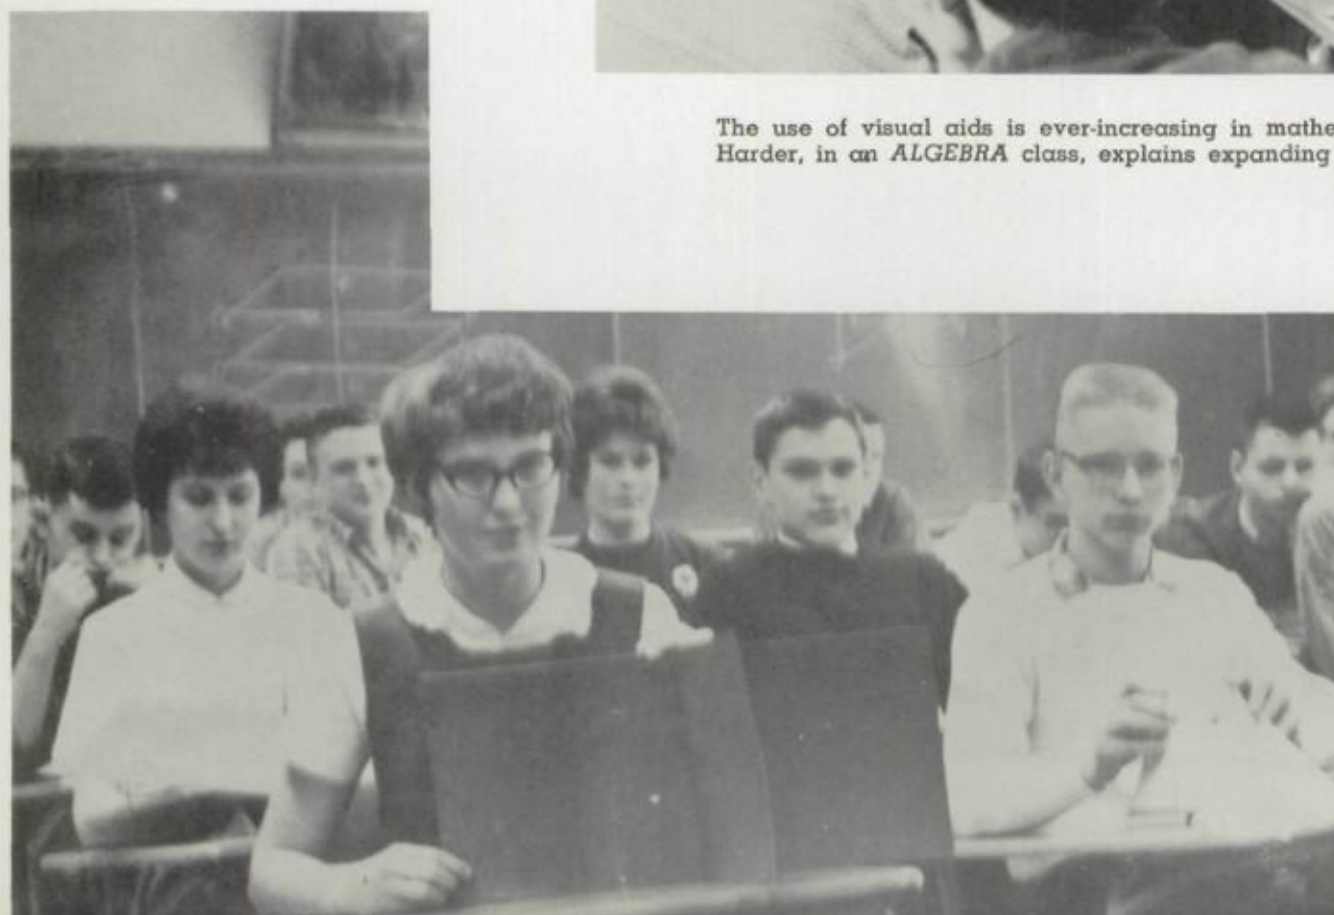

Math Department's Yardstick for Success:

"Just a minute, Craig, I'll find it," says Emily Williams as Craig Cameron asks her to find a logarithm in TRIGONOMETRY.

The use of visual aids is ever-increasing in mathematics. Here, using an opaque projector, Mr. Harder, in an ALGEBRA class, explains expanding and combining terms in an equation.

Miss Fisher looks on as several students in her SOLID GEOMETRY class experiment with intersecting planes...

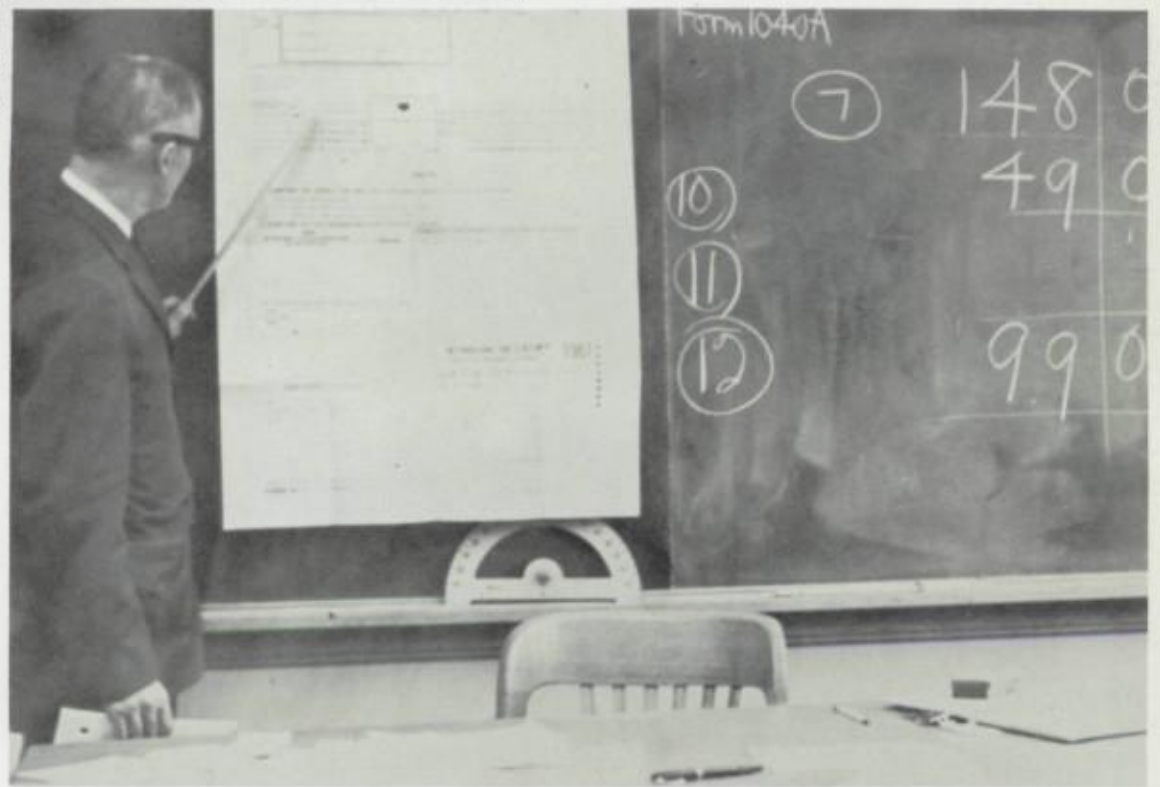

Continued Practice, Application of Facts

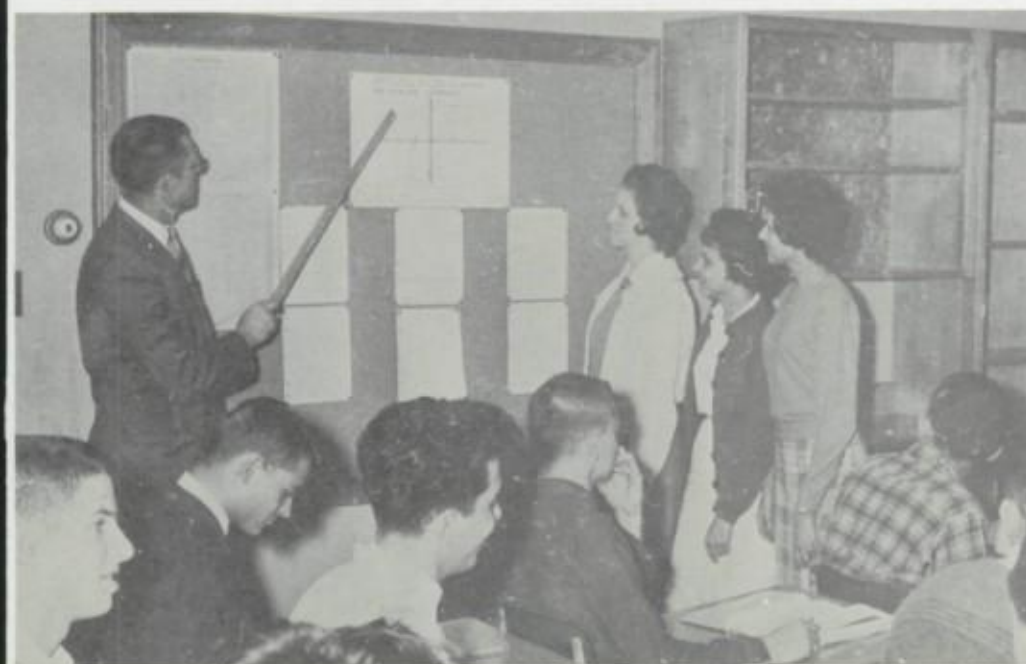

For those students who don't wish to begin their high school mathematics program with algebra, GENERAL MATHEMATICS classes, such as this one taught by Miss Hartman, have been organized.

Income tax computation is important to all of us at some time. Mr. O'Brien teaches the correct method of filling in the income tax form in this GENERAL MATHEMATICS class.

Mr. Edwards illustrates on the graph the projection of a point and of a line segment in his PLANE GEOMETRY class.

Proficiency in mathematics is necessary for all adults regardless of their occupation, and, at JT, students are able to prepare themselves properly by studying the various phases of mathematics available to them. Some elect to take math only a year or two; others participate in the program which is climaxed in the senior year with such courses as college algebra and analytic geometry which may be taken for college credit if so desired. But, whether it is an "X" or regular class, general math or solid geometry, the instructors work diligently to help each student develop his mathematical skill to its fullest extent.

A major aid in learning WORLD HISTORY, this map is being examined by Mr. Howard, Barb Jager, Diane Grohne, and Paul Kingsbury.

Social Science is the study of man's endeavors on this earth since he appeared some few million years ago. The history courses examine in detail his development from prehistoric times to the complex, industrialized society in which he now lives. The many regions of the globe which he inhabits are the focal points for geographical study. Some courses deal exclusively with the system of government, social problems, and economic structure of today's man in America. And so, man's horizon broadens and his understanding deepens as he studies himself in relation to his past activities and to the role he now plays in shaping his own destiny.

Man's Activity in His World

"Here's Joliet as located on a map of the United States," remarks Mr. Jack Richardson to Mary Ann Foote, a student of U.S. HISTORY.

These freshmen begin the study of the social sciences in Mr. Mitchell's SOCIAL STUDIES class.

One technique of teaching is the panel discussion. At left, Mr. Waltz's SOCIAL PROBLEMS students participate in one of their many interesting discussions.

History "South of the Border" is taught by Mr. Robinson, at right, in LATIN AMERICAN HISTORY.

Is Truly a Social Science

AT LEFT, Mr. Hodgman, in WORLD GEOGRAPHY, exhibits jute fiber from East Pakistan. BELOW, learning the essentials of a democracy is the goal of the students in the AMERICAN GOVERNMENT classes. Here Richard Westerwelle, aided by Jack Schroeder and Pam Williams, is describing the methods of amending the United States Constitution.

As Dennis Kimsey, at right, explains the methods of raising revenue in Russia, Mr. Miller's ECONOMICS class listens attentively.

To Communicate Effectively Is

AT RIGHT, Nancey Bales and Shirley Cornelius act as "guinea pigs" for Karen Keehn and Robert Zaring. Make-up is an important phase of acting as taught in Miss Wood's DRAMATICS class.

Jorn Justeson, our Foreign Exchange student, makes use of his varied experiences when making a speech in Mr. W. W. Johnson's SPEECH class.

An English department has been defined as a "Chamber of Commas." However, grammar and composition are only two of the many facets of English study at J.T. The exploration of great literature, journalistic experiences, and opportunities for the improvement of reading and speaking techniques are all available to the students. Because of the ever-rising standards for college entrance, many engage in a four year program of English study. This is shown by increased enrollment in such classes as World Literature, English Literature, Advanced Reading and, Prep English.

AT RIGHT, Paula Nofftz is absorbing it all as Miss Eldred explains a portion of ENGLISH LITERATURE to her.

Mr. B. F. Johnston, Mr. W. W. Johnson, and Mrs. Louise Longman combine their efforts in this "team teaching" project of their sophomore English classes. The sliding doors separating the rooms make it possible to combine all three classes for "joint teaching."

the Mark of Civilized Man

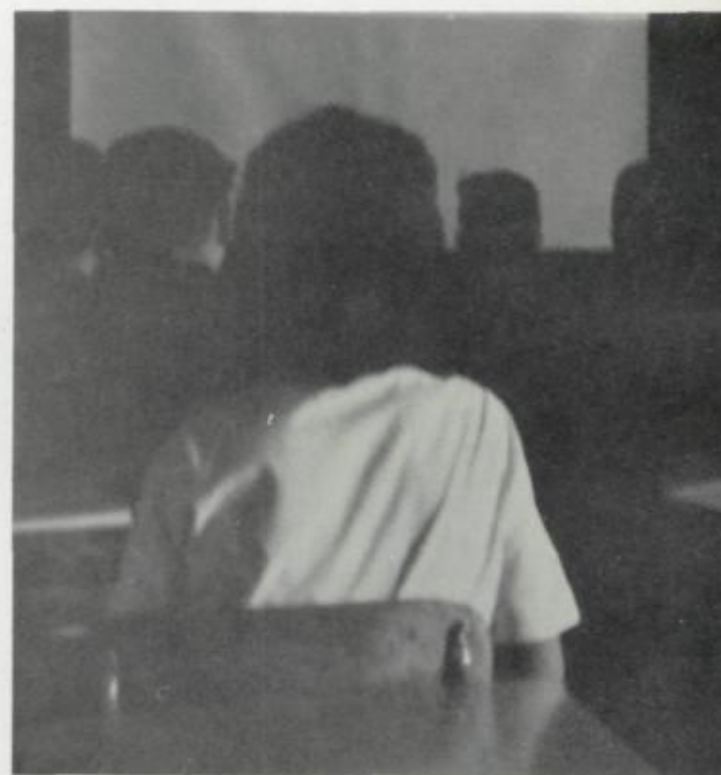

Conscientious students improve their reading speeds by practicing with the shadow scope, a fairly recent addition to the ADVANCED READING classes.

Kathy Manthei, Judy Grossman, Ken Brown, Terry Smith, Paula Eich, Judy Akin, and Ken Carlson pause while viewing literature from all parts of the world as supplied by Mr. Pottgen in his WORLD LITERATURE class.

AT RIGHT: Book orders placed by the students of Miss Eldred's freshman X-ENGLISH class are being distributed to the subscribers.

In BASIC READING (above) increasing the reading speed and comprehension of students is accomplished partially by the "controlled reader."

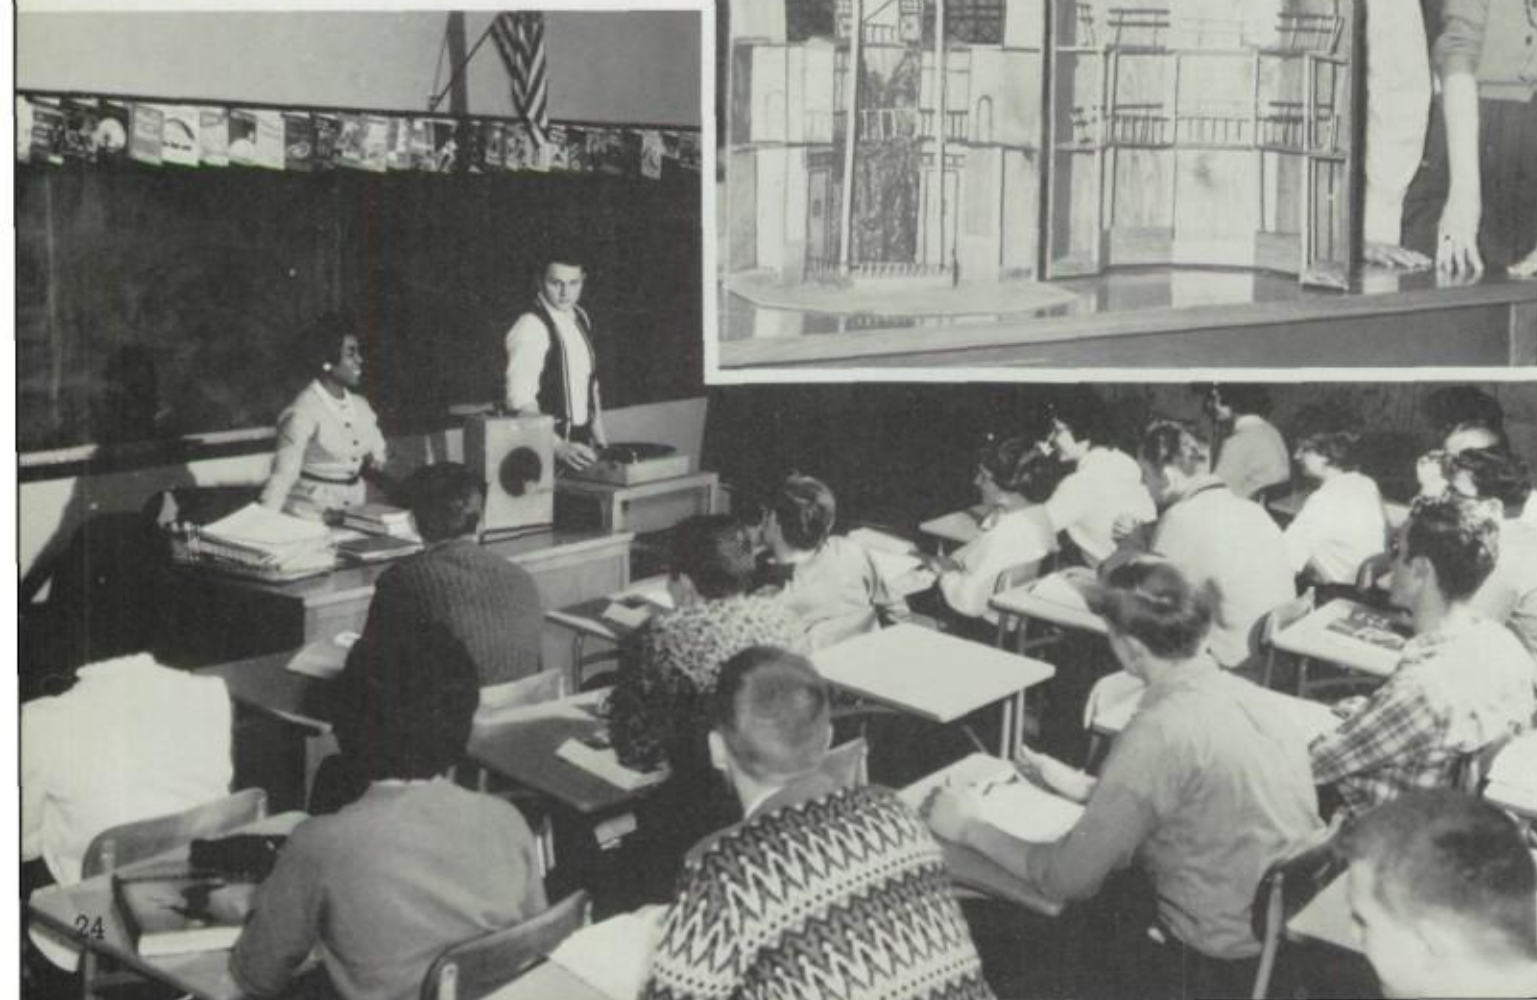

A demonstration on badminton by Karen Salisbury illustrates one type of presentation learned in Miss Wood's sophomore SPEECH class.

Language Arts Backbone of Academic Program

Fact and Fascination Combine

The entire history of science can be looked upon as a story of achievement from small and crude accomplishments to the big jobs of today.

At the physical level, science follows nature around like a great detective. But its objective is not to find a criminal, but to trace the history and evolution of every particle of matter from the tiniest atom to the greatest star.

The science program at JT is quite practical. It tries to teach basic facts and theories of science which can help the pupils in their daily living, and aid their understanding of the world about them. On the other hand, it aims at stimulating the imagination and curiosity so necessary to develop the scientific approach to the future.

If Mark Puddicomb spills any of this vile liquid, he may explode the entire laboratory. In any CHEMISTRY class, precaution must be taken to prevent any such minor accidents. Kay Starnes and Jack Schroeder look as if they expect Mark to spill some anyway.

The reaction of six compasses when surrounding a magnetized rod is demonstrated by Mr. Hartman. Magnetism is a complex field studied by all students who elect to study PHYSICS.

Freshman EARTH SCIENCE is, in essence, the study of the earth. Here, Mr. Graham compares the contours of several parts of the country on a contour map while observed by Tom Mattson in the front and Sam Mallory and Linda Meier in the back.

Measuring the voltage of a dry cell battery involves a little "know-how" in this PHYSICS class. Some of the people who "know-how" in this class are Barb Booth, Bill Wehrspann, John Stelwag, Judy Grossman, Dan Bergstrom, Carol Erckman, and Florone Griffin.

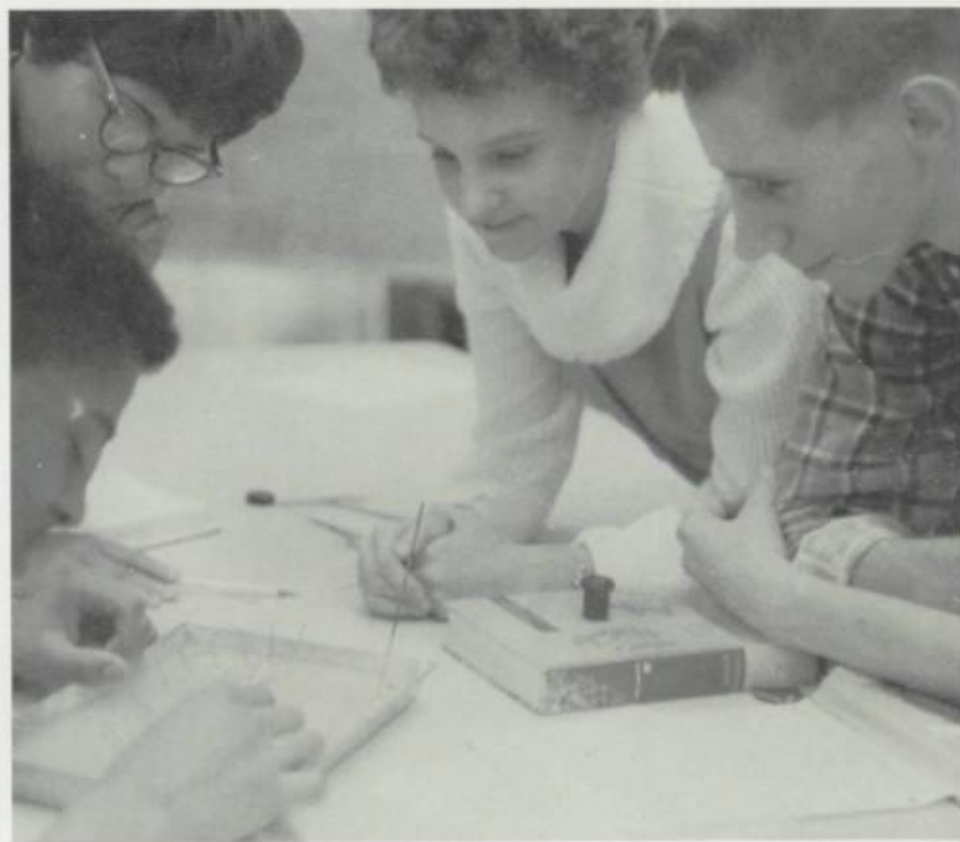

to Further the Sciences

LEFT: BIOLOGY in itself is an interesting subject, but the many displays used in the classrooms add an extra touch which attracts the interest of the students. This display of reptiles is admired by Sandy Kokal and Dick Wagner. Mr. Wagner, the instructor, looks on.

ABOVE: Not only the earth itself is studied in EARTH SCIENCE, but the infinite area surrounding it. The moon encircles the earth as inevitably as the earth encircles the sun. Roger Williams, Pam Liberty, and Alan Chesko draw this conclusion from a model located on their table.

RIGHT: "Do you see this tube, Jan?" asks Mr. Wimberly. The intricacies of the inner ear are explored by Janet Rasmussen and Bob Edman in Mr. Wimberly's HEALTH class.

Foreign Languages Develop Understanding

Gathered around the tape recorder, a vital necessity in a LATIN class, are Diane Spinks, Miss Margetis, and Daryl Alderson.

Because of the expanding role of the United States in international commercial, cultural, and political affairs, Americans have become aware of their need for the study and mastery of foreign languages. At J.T. this is being reflected both in the increase in enrollment and in the addition of courses offered in foreign languages. At present, four years of French, German, Latin, and Spanish are available as well as beginning courses in Greek and Russian.

The overall aim of instruction in foreign languages is to equip the pupil with skills necessary for effective communication. While all four skills—understanding, speaking, reading, and writing—are taught, the emphasis is being placed on the understanding and speaking skills through the aid of tape recorders, and a language laboratory which is being planned.

GREEK, the most recent course addition to our language department, has in attendance high school and college students and teachers who wish to broaden their scope of knowledge. Mr. Kennedy teaches this class Tuesday thru Friday at 4:00 p.m. immediately following regular school hours. Lucy Kurtz, Miss Anna Peterson, Margaret Converse, Miss Emily Peterson, Mr. Kennedy, and Susie Richards don't mind staying after hours to do the necessary work.

Appreciation of Other Peoples, Cultures

New this year in the language department, is a SPANISH program in which emphasis is placed on oral learning.

RIGHT: Miss Frenk practices with the entire class.

But language study also opens the door to an understanding of peoples in other lands, their way of life, their physical environment, and their cultural and historical contributions.

Members of the Foreign Language Department are: French—Miss Alice Hartman, Mr. William Burns, Mr. P. Jestin Trahan; German—Mr. Eric Fielitz, and Mr. Arthur Walters; Greek and Latin—Miss Lula Margetis and Mr. William Kennedy; Spanish—Miss Eunice Frenk, Mrs. William Hornvale, and Miss Cecilia Trizna.

ABOVE: Jay Carlin, Terry Hoyt and Linda Tribley look as if they can translate the GERMAN which Mr. Fielitz has placed on the board for the class.

LEFT: Students such as Dave Roth and Chuck Southcomb find it easier to learn GERMAN when they can see pictures showing portions of Germany itself.

Future Artisans Are Competently

ABOVE: Girls in a MECHANICAL DRAWING course? Yes, and they are in Mr. Rawlins' class. Here he explains the structure of an ellipse to Sandy Robinson and Rita Rozich.

Courses in industrial arts are offered in several areas. The General Shop for freshmen consists of six six-weeks courses in six different industrial areas and are designed to acquaint the student with industry in general. Industrial Arts courses, a semester or a year in length, are offered to sophomores, juniors, and seniors either as exploratory or as pre-vocational courses.

Peering beneath the hood of the instructor's car, the boys in AUTO SHOP, below, learn first hand how to keep a car in top-running condition.

There are many things which can go wrong with any automobile engine. Above, Mr. Algeo directs Jerry Fratini and Richard Schulte in the installation of a new piston.

BELOW: Patience as well as skill is needed to work with basic amplifiers as Chris Blase and Pete White, ELECTRONICS students, will tell you.

In WOOD SHOP, the articles constructed by the students have practical use. Above, final touches are being put on a gunrack by its builder.

Trained, Guided in Their Skills

Vocational courses, for three hours daily, are taken by juniors and seniors wishing to enter a trade upon graduation from high school. Photography and Driver Education are also a part of the Trade-Industrial Technical Division.

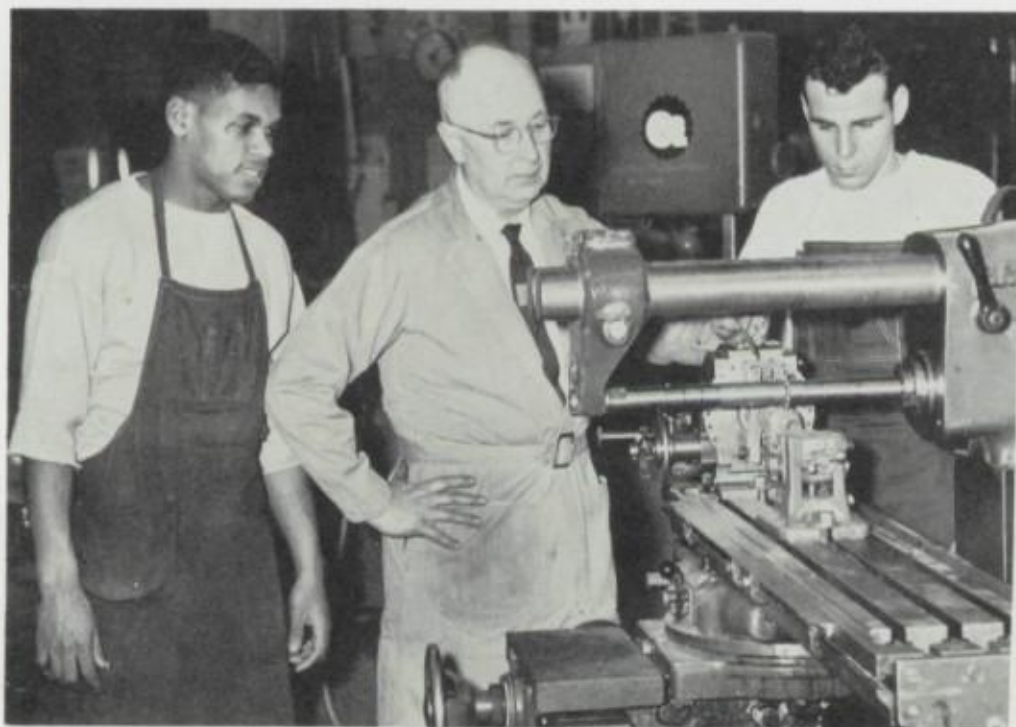

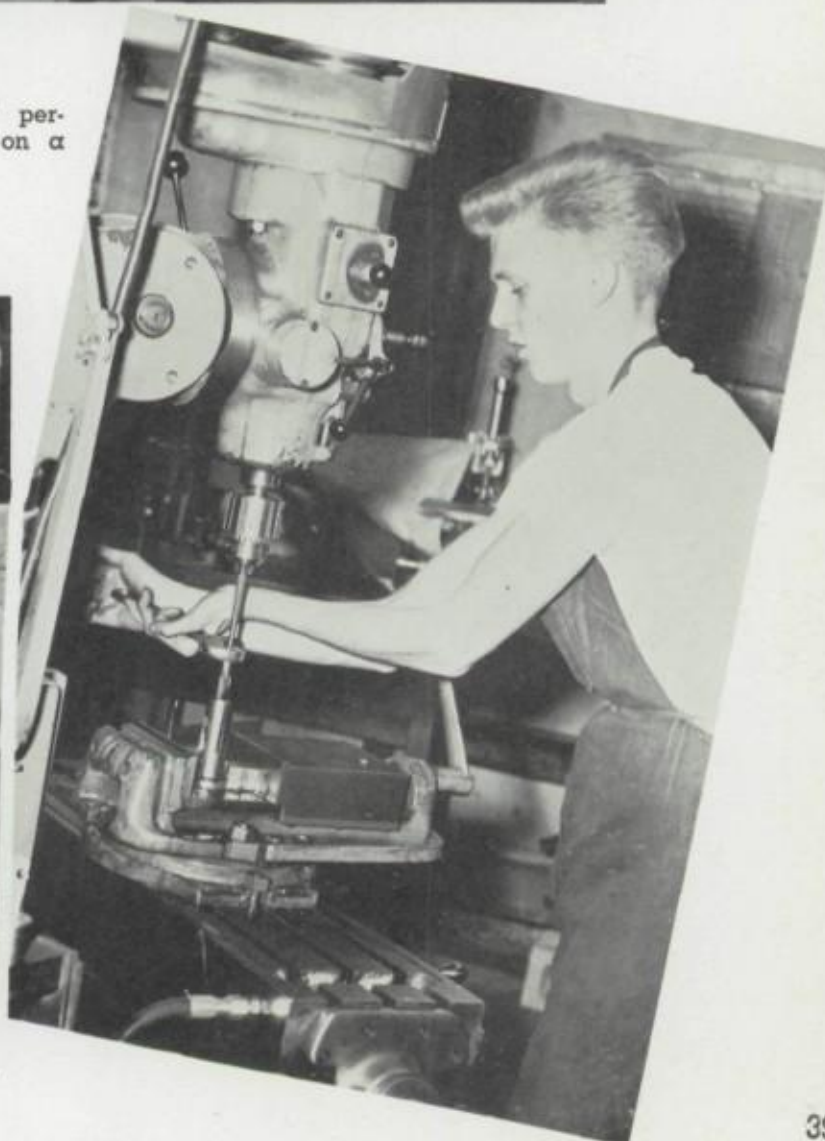

Printing courses offer students practical experience in all phases of the trade. At left, Larry Gualdoni, student of VOCATIONAL PRINTING, operates a linotype machine. BELOW: Dick Fahrenholz in a GENERAL SHOP GRAPHIC ARTS class, prints personalized telephone message forms.

BELOW: All proper safety precautions are taken by Dan Wintersteen in GENERAL SHOP METALS as he pours the molten substance into a mold.

AT RIGHT: John Shreffler performs a minor adjustment on a drill press.

Industriously engaged in creating new garments, the members of this Home Economics class, at right, concentrate on cutting out their patterns.

Almost every woman, single or married, becomes a homemaker some day. To do a good job of running a home requires top-level management. Today's homemaker is expected to be a combination purchasing agent, meal manager, community worker, human relations expert, equipment specialist, and housing authority. Our homemaking curriculum is designed to help our students learn about intelligent management of the house and the things in it, so as to have more time left over for the things that make a house a home.

Several steps in the making of new frocks are shown above by Mrs. Bonar in a survey class.

Good cooks may be few in number at the beginning of the year, but the girls' skill is greatly improved by spring. On a classroom stove, at right, Rachel Orosco stirs the "lesson for today."

To Make a House-a-Home

RIGHT: Much practical knowledge of homemaking is gained by the girls; at right, proper food serving methods are being practiced.

Bad manners in the cafeteria are illustrated by Tina Harsha, Barbara Fowler, Gloria Vargo, and Delores Navarro, above, in Mrs. Och's Home Economics class.

FAMILY LIVING classes deal with many phases of home activities. At left, a panel discussion on the moral standards of dating is in progress.

Quiet Please! Students at Work

Student librarian Barb Boban, right, shares the desk with Mrs. Shawmaker, a professional librarian.

Thumbing through two of the many periodicals to which the Freshmen have access are Sandy Scheffler and Marilyn Keagle.

Student librarians readily assume the responsibilities of handling books in the Freshman library.

Joliet Township students find in the libraries a silent atmosphere of knowledge induced by the volumes surrounding them. With books and references so near at hand, assignments that once were chores seem almost pleasant. The thousands upon thousands of books contained in both the Freshman and High School Libraries have gates that open in every direction for those who wish to probe their pages. There are books here to suit the tastes of every individual ranging from epoch poems to hot-rods, romances to scientific formulas, and fairy-tales to the world's greatest classics.

Students take advantage of the excellent reference section of the high school library. Rick Armstrong is one of these students.

Learning to use the vertical card catalog is a major step in probing the mysteries of a library. Taking a major step is Janet Clugston.

Education in Business Provides Fundamentals

Mrs. Linton, at right, uses a tape recorder to present dictation exercises to the students in her SHORTHAND class. This method gives the student practice in taking dictation from a number of people.

What are the goals of the department of Business Education? Let the students speak. "I already have an office job for next year as a bookkeeper-stenographer," said one business senior to another.

"I'll be able to type all my papers at college," said one college-bound lad.

"Two things I'm going to do when I get out of school—have a saving account and take out insurance," said a member of the general business class.

for Personal Use and Vocational Training

"Under our free enterprise system, I can have my own business," said an "econ" student; "I'll make it despite competition."

In effect, then, the objectives of Business Education are:

- To provide training in those fundamentals of business everyone needs to know. (Personal use)
- To train in skills for initial job competency. (Vocational use)
- To develop knowledge, understanding, and appreciation which will aid in life adjustment.

TYPING is an essential in the business world. These girls strive to increase their speed and accuracy above.

AT LEFT: Mrs. E. Dellinger's BASIC BUSINESS course teaches the fundamentals which all future business men and women must learn.

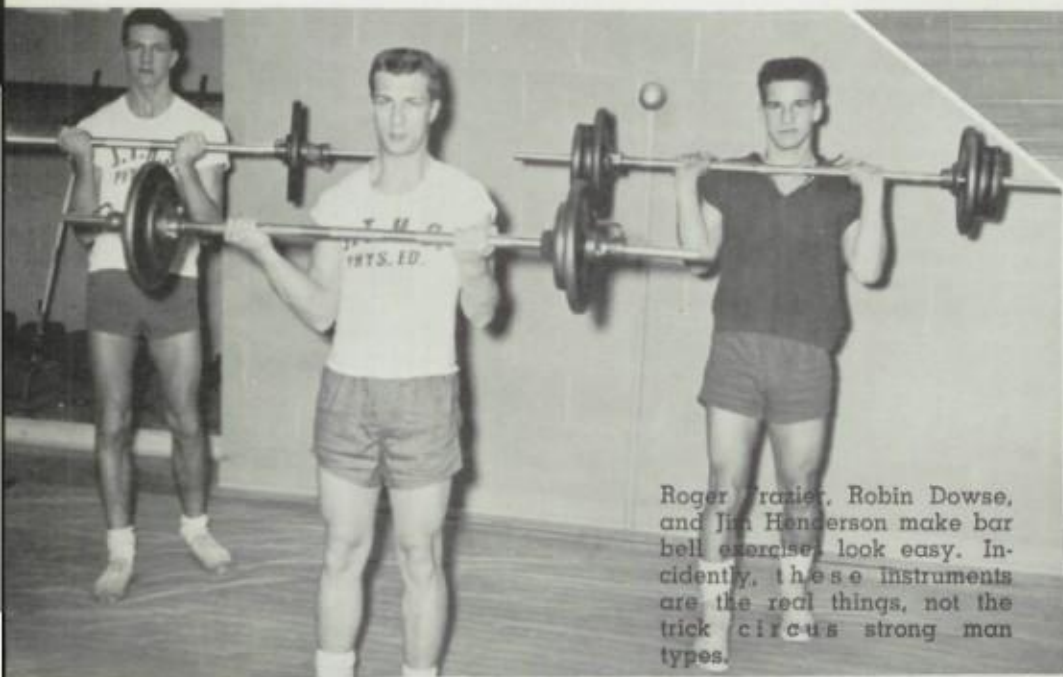

ABOVE: There are many types of calculating machines used in the modern office. Here a class in CLERICAL OFFICE PRACTICE is learning to use the comptometer.

Physical Education Develops the

Roger Frazier, Robin Dowse, and Jim Henderson make bar bell exercises look easy. Incidentally, these instruments are the real things, not the trick circus strong man types.

Determination is reflected on the face of Walter Burzawa as his teacher, Mr. Gil Bell, makes notes on form and procedure.

Typical physical education procedure is demonstrated in this general view of the boys' gymnasium during a class period.

This antic defies description. No report of a broken head or a dislocated sacroiliac was forthcoming so we assume he made it.

Heeling and toeing it around the inside running track are students working under the direction of Mr. Neil Lance. In case you're interested, the little guy barely visible behind the two big bruisers in front, elbowed his way through and won the race.

The traditional pyramid is demonstrated by these P.E. students and it looks real good. Moments later the pyramid collapsed and the four men on the bottom were mighty slow in getting up.

Boy's Physical Education is indeed the education of the body. Under the guidance of skilled instructors, the boys develop skill in controlling their muscles and improving their sense of balance as well as co-operating with each other in team sports.

At the end of four years, boys who have been enrolled in the physical education program are mentally alert and physically well-trained.

Mind As Well As the Body

Nancy Newkirk and Linda Surges won't lose their balance (we hope!) because their bases, June Puddicombe and Donna Powers have been well trained in this freshman tumbling class.

As Jackie Lauer and Mrs. Beulah Hoffer look on, Jo Ann Duso arranges a physical education sport display.

Vocational Agriculture Training Prepares

ABOVE: Everett Hauert and Veryl Lichtenwalter view their herd boar with the impressive title of Duke Mars. First in his class at the Illinois State Fair this past year, he has sired some outstanding pigs for Everett and Veryl. His sire is the top Landrace boar in the United States.

AT RIGHT, Everett Hauert proudly displays one of his six sows that have farrowed during February, with an average of nine pigs per litter. Everett, a senior this year, plans to farrow 20 to 25 litters while attending Joliet Junior College.

AT LEFT is shown an excellent litter of three-week-old Landrace pigs owned by Everett Hauert. Special care must be given them with the aid of a heat lamp and farrowing stall which keeps the mother from lying on the little ones.

AT LEFT, Veryl Lichtenwalter holds one of his baby pigs. He farrowed 55 pigs from his herd of seven registered Landrace sows this year. In addition to this project, Veryl farmed five acres of corn, five acres of beans, and two acres of oats this year.

This purebred Angus steer, one of two owned by Veryl Lichtenwalter, was bought in October 1961 and will be ready for market in August 1962. This is the seventh steer Veryl has "fed out" while in high school.

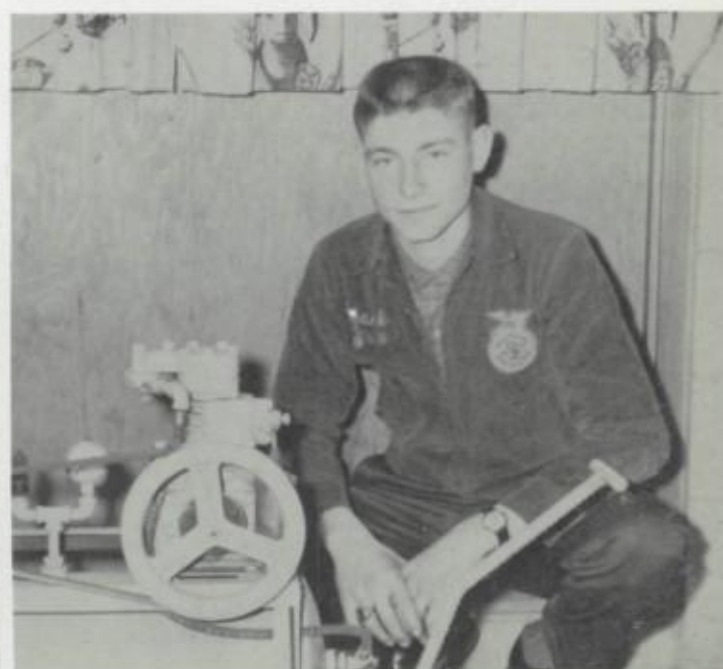

This Holstein calf, one of Everett Hauert's dairy projects for the Future Farmers of America, was born in September 1961. She will begin producing milk in January 1964.

Young Men to Assume Farm Management Roles

Vocational agriculture encompasses the wide complex of extracting from the soil benefits to mankind and extending the science of animal husbandry. Carried on are continuous studies of soils, their proper use, practices of conservation; crop rotation, crop yield and expansion, crop quality improvement, and the intricate science of produce marketing. In the study of animals, students learn procedures with animal breeding and tending, the use of domesticated animals, the utilization of stock as producers, raising stock for market, and the economics of stock raising and marketing. Countless allied facets of farming are logically and practically integrated into the curriculum to help a student prepare for comprehensive farm management. In so doing, students develop competent, aggressive rural and agriculture leadership. The course helps to strengthen the confidence of farm boys and young men in themselves and their work. They learn to create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations. They take pride in the knowledge that they are training for an occupation with a bright future.

Jack Taylor is shown below using a power saw which he just purchased to cut down dead elm trees on his family's farm. He was the recipient of the Sectional Farm Mechanics Award.

Jack Taylor (above) shares "star" billing with an air compressor which he constructed entirely himself. The compressor is used for inflating tires, spraying paint, and air cleaning intricate recesses in machinery. Jack's plans include continued preparation for a career in agriculture.

Culinary skill is shown at the left by Mike O'Connor, Dan Plese and Jack Taylor as they prepare pancakes and sausages for 200 farmers at an annual clinic held in the JT agriculture building.

As part of the all-day soil, seed and fertilizer clinic, soil testing is in full swing. Here Max Kuster, VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE instructor, examines solution used to make the test for available nitrogen.

Charles Gura, Veryl Lichtenwalter, Ed Hollister, and Brent Lingle examine new crop seed varieties exhibited at the annual soil, seed and fertilizer clinic.

Physical Senses and Mechanical Devices Combine

Jack Evans utilizes the services of Barb Baldego as a model in PHOTOGRAPHY.

Mr. Denison's JOURNALISM students are taught that the five W's, as listed on the blackboard, are essential in reporting a story.

Donna Duff seems to have a flair for drawing portraits.

"Where did you say the engine was?" Sue Hutter isn't sure.

RIGHT: Beware! These young people will soon be young drivers after successfully completing this DRIVERS EDUCATION class conducted by Mr. Deininger.

BELOW: Working with mosaic tiles requires patience and a steady hand. Sheryl Engimann's steady hand is creating a complex design.

Student and Employer Alike

Cooperative training enables the pupils to combine classroom work with supervised and coordinated business experience. Supervised training, supplemented by directed study, is the core of the program. Pupils work a minimum of fifteen hours a week and are paid a beginning hourly wage.

There are many advantages of the Co-operative training program to the pupil, the employer, and the school.

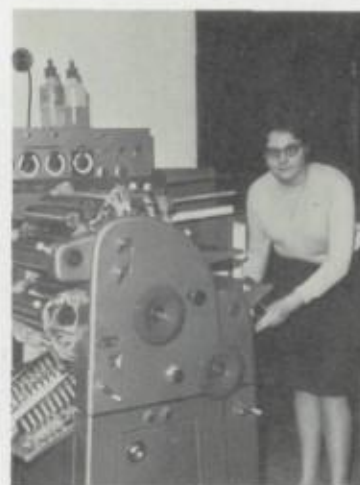

The pupil gains practical experience without sacrificing time in finishing his high school education. He obtains more insight into the business than the regular employee, since it is agreed by the cooperating employers that they are assisting in an educational program and not simply procuring employees to perform immediate tasks. The pupil has a reasonable chance of being hired full-time upon graduation, by the business in which he has worked as a pupil. He gains much more from his classroom work since it takes on new meaning in view of his practical experience. He has an opportunity to decide on his needs for further education as a result of practical experience in one occupation. He is further able to earn something toward his school expenses while earning credits towards graduation.

The employer gains a new supply of interested and satisfied workers who are being trained in office occupations and are able to intelligently perform immediate tasks. This program also reduces the cost of recruiting and training for the business.

The school is able to aid pupils in making the adjustment between school and job. It also enables the school to provide vocational training adjusted to the needs of the local business community and leads to an understanding of mutual problems.

JT Offers Wide Summer Program

Students study BIOLOGY under the supervision of Mr. Young

The summer program affords opportunities for students of all levels of learning to utilize their time during the summer months to accelerate their regular program or to make up deficiencies.

RIGHT: Time does not stand still. What has already happened is now history. Mr. Wills, in conducting a course in WORLD HISTORY, explains the relationship of the present and future to past events.

Workaday Education Demands Overtime

The process of developing and printing pictures is demonstrated by Mr. Leatsler in his photography class.

The use of the metal lathe requires a great deal of mental alertness in this metal shop course.

A pinch of that and a dash of this teaches young housewives the art of creative cookery.

Youngsters and oldsters collaborate to try to find out the cause of trouble in this auto shop class.

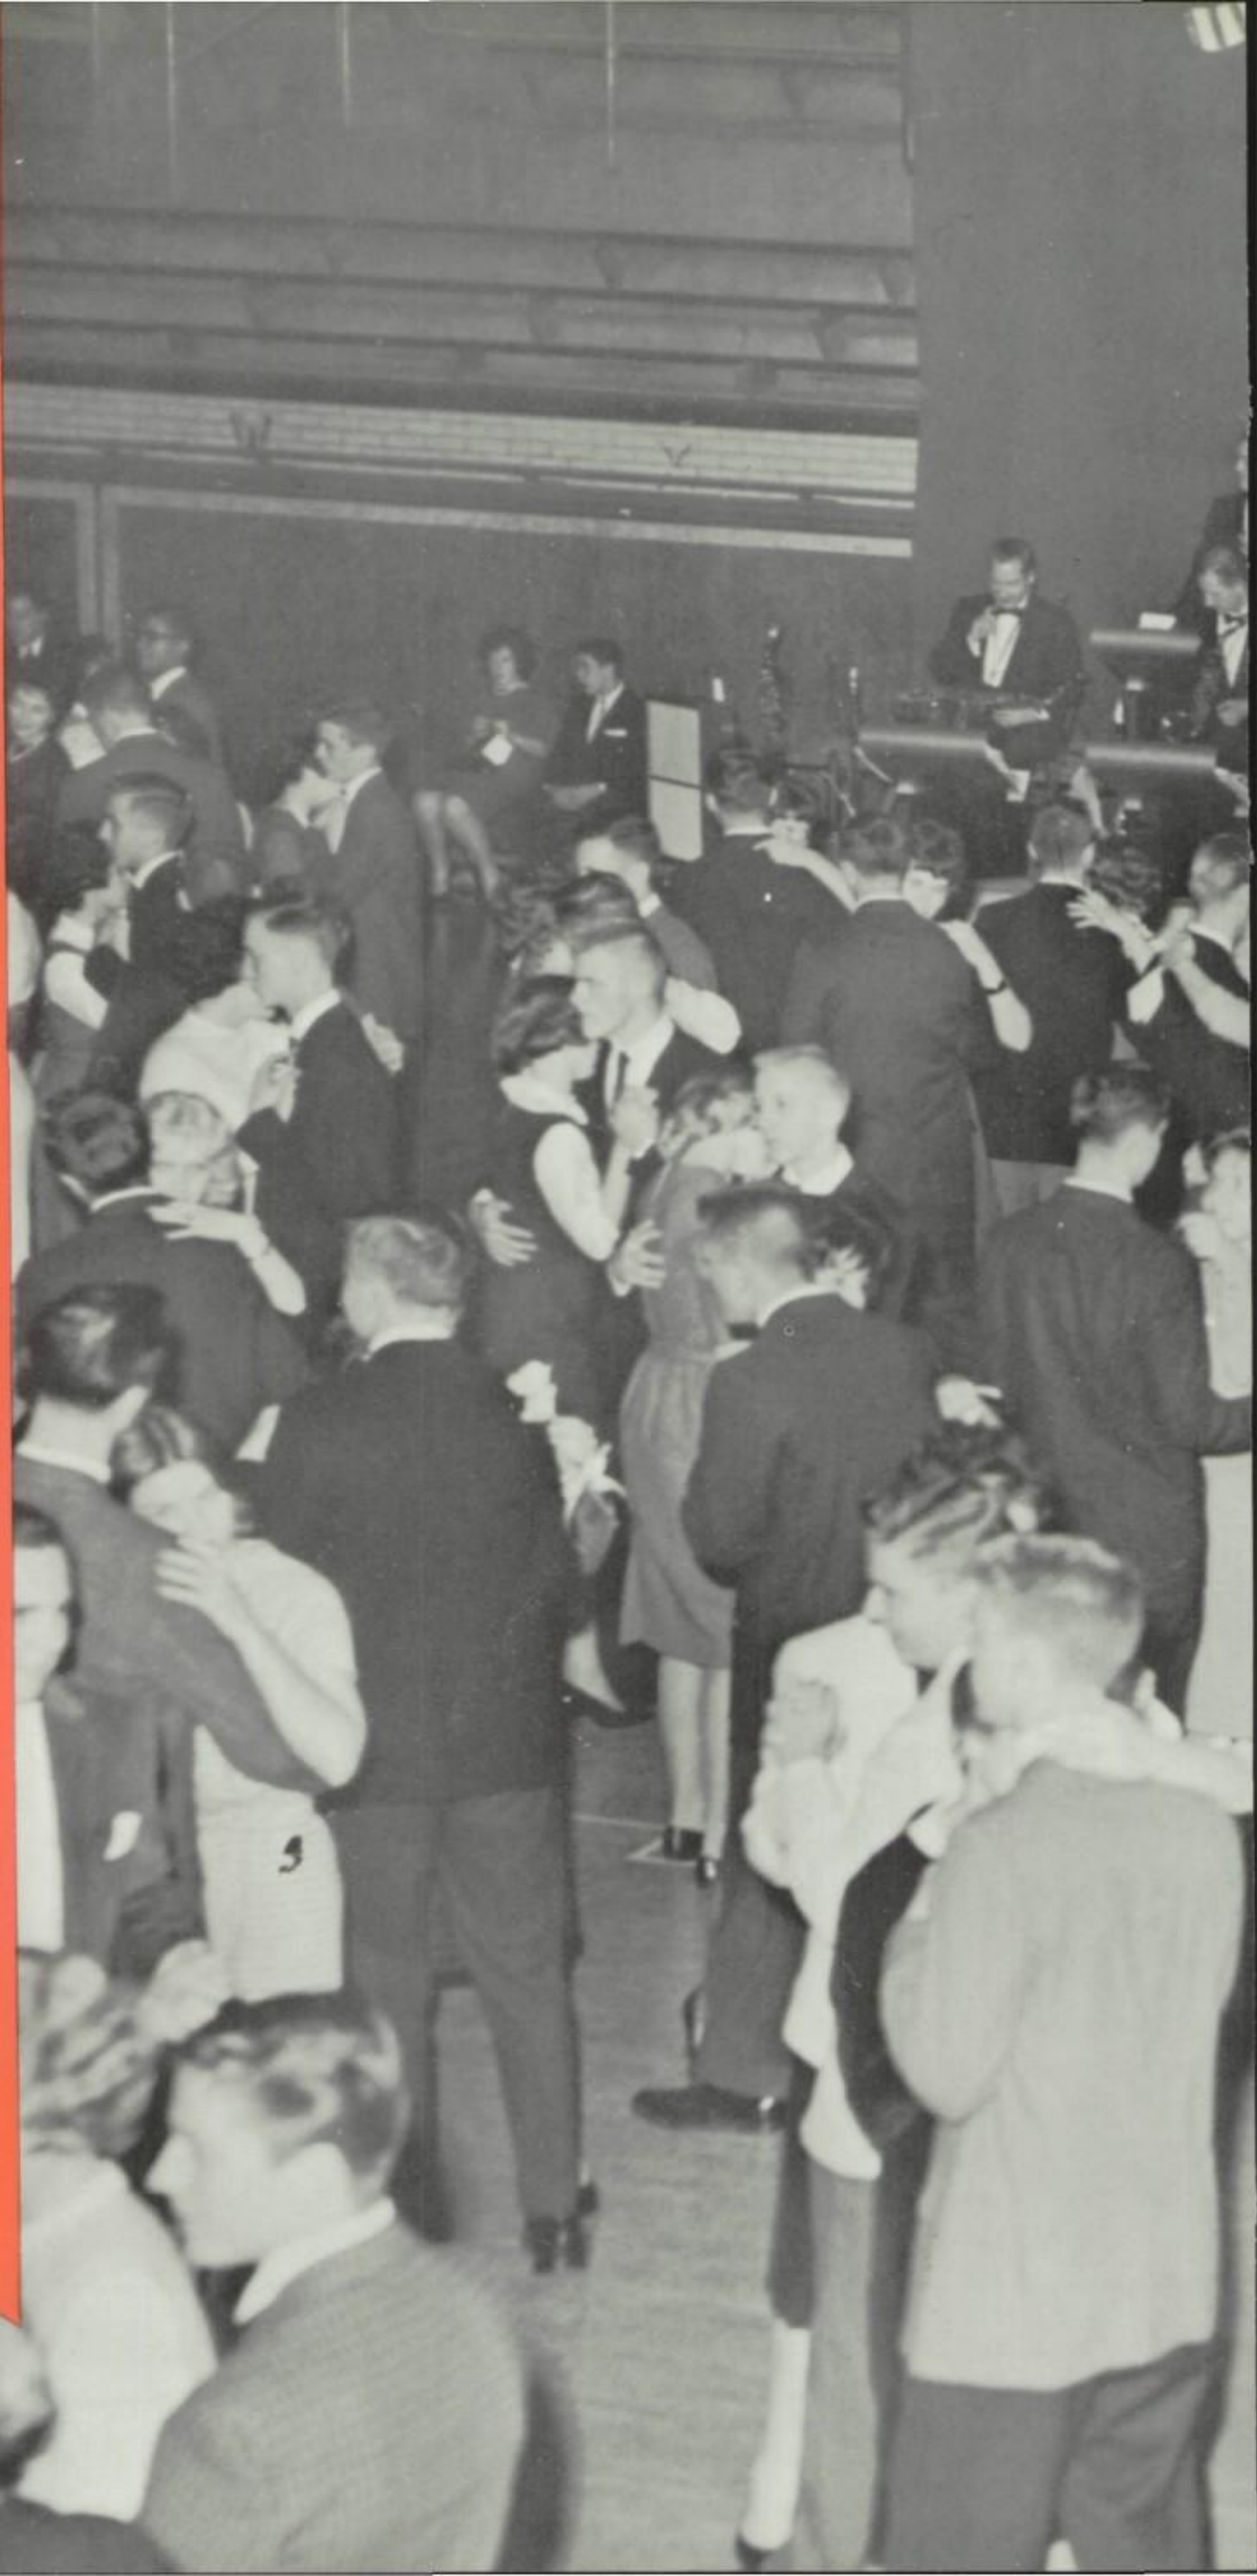

Tailoring provides an outlet for those women with creative ability in the field of clothing accessories.

You're never too young or too old to learn. The expansive Adult Education program at JT makes this possible. The varied courses offered make it possible for interested individuals to complete their pre-high school education if they were, for some reason, unable to do so. The Adult Education program also gives a second chance to those who, for a good reason, had to leave high school after their third year and before graduation. The Americanization classes provide an opportunity for our newly-arrived Americans to speak and comprehend the English language. In addition to all of the aforementioned, JT offers many courses for the personal enrichment of those who don't wish to take a course for high school, college, or graduate credit.

The J. T. Adult Education program is the originator of the supervised Home Study program in Illinois. Emphasis is placed on the quality of study and not the quantity. Many other schools have asked for our aid in organizing their Home Study Programs since ours is the most comprehensive in the state.

Winning Float the Result of Originality, Ingenuity, and Lively Imagination

Much time and effort is given by JT students as they work while trying to make their organization's float the winner.

All organizations of JT were encouraged to submit an entry in the homecoming float competition. This year the floats were requested to be built around a song title to help develop a theme.

A Cappella Choir and General Choir combined their efforts and were awarded first prize with "Mack the Knife;" Orchestra received second place with "Sentimental Journey;" the Band captured third place with "Steam Heat." Other organizations which participated were: Alpha Beta Sigma chapter of Hi Y with "1812 Overture," Future Teachers of America with "Memories," Publications (Yearbook and J-Hi Journal) with "Surrender," ROTC with "Wild One," Sophomore Chorus with "Blue Hawaii," Spanish Club with "South of the Border." The student council, sponsor of the homecoming weekend, constructed the float for the Queen and royal court titled "Ain't She Sweet."

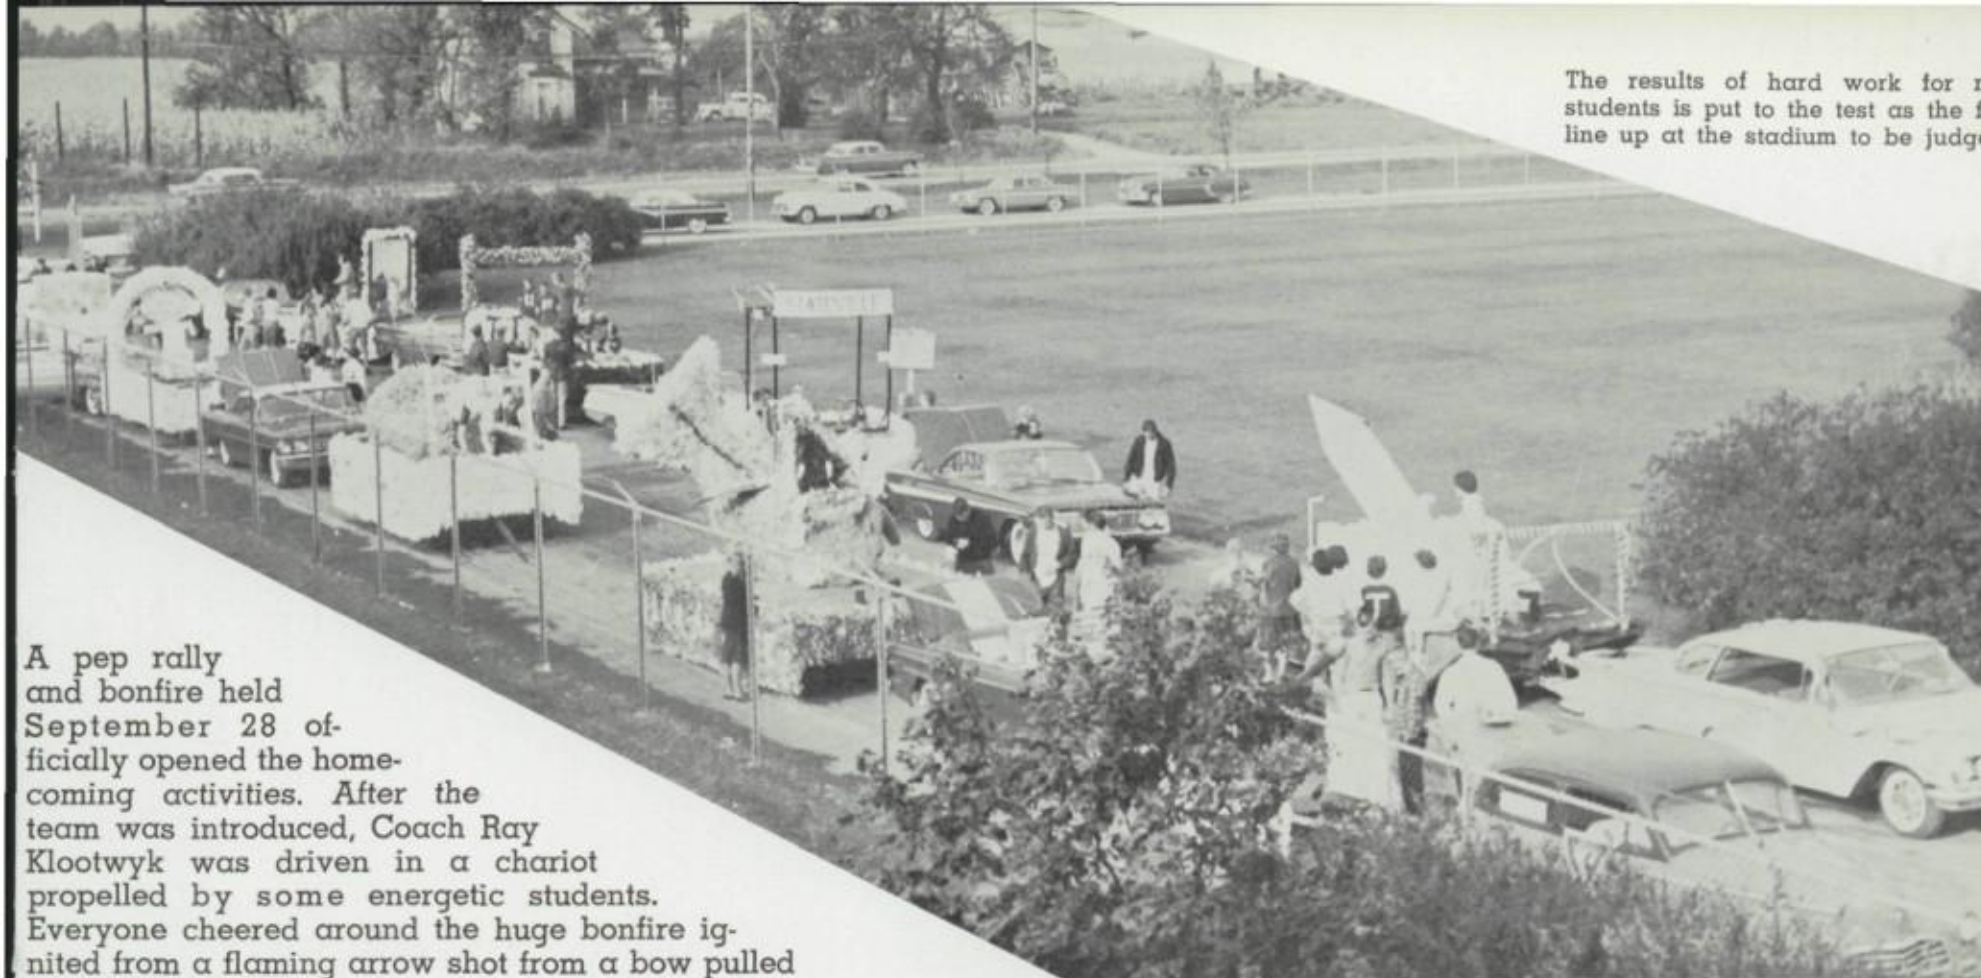

A Cappella and General Choir can be proud of their float which captured first place honors. The float was composed chiefly of wire netting and napkins of brilliant blue, gray and red.

The homecoming parade moves down Chicago Street as crowds gather.

The results of hard work for many students is put to the test as the floats line up at the stadium to be judged.

A pep rally and bonfire held September 28 officially opened the homecoming activities. After the team was introduced, Coach Ray Klootwyk was driven in a chariot propelled by some energetic students. Everyone cheered around the huge bonfire ignited from a flaming arrow shot from a bow pulled by Dr. W. C. French.

The main attraction was the proclamation of the Royal Entourage. Smiles and tears enveloped the face of Ginny Harrison who was announced Queen; Sally Huey, freshman court representative; Georgene Savich, sophomore court; Jerry Fitzer, junior court; Sue Kurtyak, senior court.

A spirited feature of the homecoming festivities was the parade staged after school the day of the homecoming game. The parade has become an integral part of the program of events for the last few years. Comprising the parade were the gaily decorated floats, stirring music of the band, and throngs of students who converged on the downtown area to herald homecoming at JT.

The annual homecoming dance, "Moments to Remember," sponsored by the Student Council, provided a perfect ending for the homecoming weekend. Bob Baxter supplied the appropriate music.

An added attraction was the appearance of Queen Ginny on the bandstand, who commented briefly on the homecoming activities and expressed personal appreciation for amenities in her behalf. She also offered her congratulations to the team on their thrilling victory over Thornton.

Looking back on Homecoming 1961, we may all say we have many cherished moments to remember.

"FINIAN'S

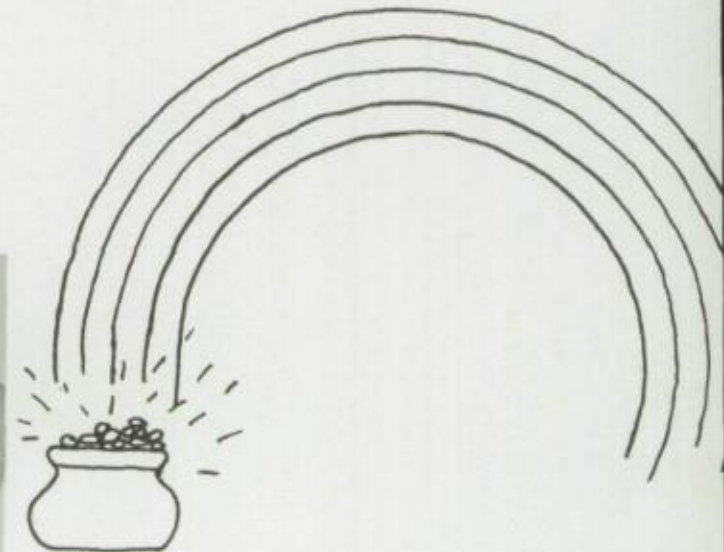

Sharon, a role enacted by Gayle Bachman, is enthralled by the serenading of Woody Mahoney, played by Russ Wunderlich.

"Finian's Rainbow," a musical comedy based on the story of an immigrant who makes his home in the mythical state of Mississippi, was presented in the JTHS auditorium on March 20 and continued through March 22, 1961. The musical was presented by the school's A Cappella choir.

One of the highlights of the operetta was a chorus of 20 dancers working under the direction of Mrs. Jack Powell. The dancers were featured in such numbers as "If This Isn't Love," "Look to the Rainbow," and "Come and Get It Day."

Finian, the lead character, was portrayed by Don Eken. Gale Bachman was his daughter, Sharon, one of the romantic leads. Russ Wunderlich was Woody Mahoney, the other romantic lead, while Charlene Oliver portrayed his sister, Susan. Og, the Leprechaun who follows Finian from Ireland, was played by Lee Roth. Bob Ploch took the role of Senator Billboard Rawkins and added much humor to the musical; Jim Arnold was the senator's publicity agent, Buzz Collins. Tim Mann was featured as the sheriff.

Other members of the cast were Bruce Nelson, Larry Mason,

Senator Billboard Rawkins, played by Bob Ploch, lays it on the line as he "zeros in" Buzz Collins, his publicity agent, played by Jim Arnold.

With credit extended (from Shears and Sawbuck) all the sharecroppers got what they wanted.

There is invariably "horse play" in any make-up session. The boys "horse it up," while the girls, more accustomed to making-up, play it straight. The horn?? It's perfectly at home—they're using the band room for this stint.

Presents for Your Pleasure

RAINBOW"

Wallace Allen, Kenneth Palmer, and Diane Johnson. Rene Clark, Lauoux Minor, Larry Cormier, Richard Kursell, Mark Graham, Ted Boydston, and Larry Peet were also cast members.

The 140-voice A Cappella Choir completed the cast as sharecroppers in the mythical land of Rainbow Valley, Missitucky.

Selected citizens of Rainbow Valley in Missitucky gather around the village watering place for a bit of fun and frolicking. However, from the apparent effects of the imbibing, that isn't branch water they're drinking. These carefree souls are (l to r) Linda Larson, Larry Peet, Diane Jontes, Fred Kirk, George Georgis, and behind the well, Gene Sebben.

In her role of the dancing mute, Susan, Charlene Oliver, captivates the audience with her terpsichorean artistry.

Susan, a mute dancer, played by Charlene Oliver seems demurely receptive to the romantic overtures of Og, portrayed by Lee Roth.

Og, the leprechaun, holds the "kids" spellbound as he spins a fantastic tale of old Ireland.

Assemblies Beneficial Educational Diversions

A Cappella and General Choirs blend with the JT band as both create inspiring music with such favorites as "My Buddy" and "Roses of Picardy" which were performed during Veterans' Day program.

"Goodness snakes alive," was the reply heard by Janet Anderson, Kay Downing, and Laurie Brown, l. to r., as they demonstrate snake behavior on reptile education.

Above and left: Heads of Championship Steelmen hang low as they pay their last respects to what's left of the other South Suburban teams at a typical pep assembly.

Annual All-School Play Reflects Life in the Exotic Orient

Claire Williams
Assistant Director

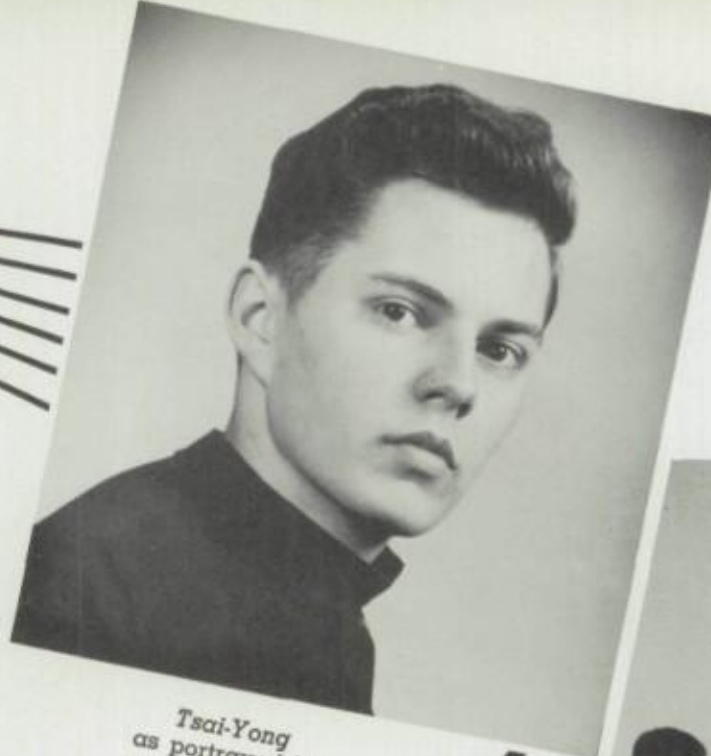

"Lute Song," this year's all school play, sponsored by the senior class, was translated from the ancient Chinese play written by Kao-Tong-Kia. It is a story of a young man, Tsai-Yong (Bob Zaring), who decides to leave his wife, Tchao-On-Niang (Holly Smith) and parents to seek fame and fortune at the palace of Prince Nieou (Tim Mann). Here Princess Nieou-Chi, portrayed by Helen Fricke, falls in love with him and the emperor decrees that they should marry. Meanwhile, famine destroys his land and his parents die of hunger. Tchao-On-Niang comes to the palace where her husband lives to beg for food. Tsai-Yong is reunited with her and Princess Nieou-Chi gives up her title to become his second wife.

"Lute Song" is a very emotional, yet simple play. To create Oriental atmosphere, ushers donned Chinese costumes, Chinese music was played during the performance, and incense was burned.

The play was presented on October 20 and 21. After the last performance, a buffet supper, held on the stage, was attended by all cast and committee members. Without the various committees and crews working behind the scenes, the play would not have been the success that it was.

The artistic talents of Tom Bojeski, Will Reid, and Mary Ann Foote are utilized to perfect the scenery which added the proper atmosphere to the play.

The sound of a Chinese gong which is produced by striking a cymbal with a drum stick is done effectively by Skip Fletcher at receiving the signal from Judy Neutzmann, sound engineer, assisted by Bob Johnson, who is in charge of production. All the Fun in the World Started in 1889, the YMCA World Service Program has become a vital international helpfulness program.

Upon request, the North American YMCA World Service has given assistance to 76 YMCA's around the world, in agricultural and vocational training, recreation and education. The World Service Fund helps to build YMCA's in communities that have no such program on which to call.

Each year, both in Joliet and throughout North America, youth plays an important role in raising this fund. This year our Tri Hi Y and Hi Y sponsored its annual "World of Fun" and raised $675, the largest sum for such an enterprise to date. This was made possible in part by every member working diligently under the supervision of Jackie Lauer, general chairman.

The smiles on the faces of the Variety Show cast imply that the final result deserved the time and work contributed.

Looking quite satisfied, Larry Feldman takes full advantage of Sally Smith's services during Twirp Season. The privilege of flirting with boys openly is enjoyed by the girls during Twirp Season.

One week of Twirp (The Woman is Requested to Pay) Season at JT enables the boys to safeguard their bank accounts and enjoy the privileges of "free loading." Girls are required to treat the boys and perform other dutiful courtesies usually assumed by the boys.

Held on November 17 "Somethin' Sweet," theme of this year's GAA Dance, provided an opportunity for the girls to ask boys for dates to the dance. Candy, sodas, and ice cream cones helped to carry out the theme of the sports dance.

While the orchestra takes a short breather between dance selections, the crowd relaxes momentarily in light small talk.

All JT organizations took part in presenting "Mistletoe Magic," the first semi-formal dance held at JT during the Christmas season. On December 22 the holiday-spirited crowd gathered for an evening of dancing. A heavy snowfall added a "winter fairyland" atmosphere to the festive occasion.

Capturing the festive mood of the season while dancing around the colorful decorated twenty foot Christmas tree, are Kathy Pickett and Dick Walsh; Janis FitzHenry and Nick Seehafer; Gloria Vercellotti and Larry Sak; Diane Diemer and Larry Mancini.

ISSUING EQUIPMENT

Ray Klootwyk, head football coach at JT, sent out a call for all prospective players to report on August 26th. On that day, medical check-ups were completed and the equipment was issued. The following day practice began under the hot August sun. For the rest of the summer they practiced twice a day and refreshed their knowledge of fundamentals. By having them challenge each other for positions, the coach gave the players a goal, which helped make this season the most successful ever at JT.

Township's coaches Howie Scheit, Ray Klootwyk, and Frank Miller map gridiron strategy for the season.

Joliet Township Stomps Catholic High

For the second time in two years, our mighty Steelmen handed a loss to the cross-town rivals, the Hillmen. What a better way to start the story of a successful season than by "Stomping Over the Hill" by a 19-6 margin on the wet stadium turf.

Joliet Township's offense and defense proved excellent as JT marched for three touchdowns, while holding the Hillmen to six points. Dave Kienlen, junior halfback, was given the Caterpillar Sportsmanship award. This game marked the beginning of a new season as well as a new era in football at Joliet Township High.

Dave Keinlen, recipient of the Caterpillar Sportsmanship award, crashes through Joliet Catholic's defense for first down yardage.

Joliet Swamps West Aurora 25-0

Forty-two Steelmen were used in this clash with old Big Eight rival West Aurora. An almost torrential rain and the first, second, and third strings of Joliet proved too much for the Blackhawks as JT trounced over them 25 to 0. Joliet was given 10th place in the weekly Associated Press poll of high school football teams in Illinois after this game.

Season's Beginnings Foreshadow Success

Joliet Steelmen Edge Thornton 14-12

Seventy-five hundred cheering spectators filled Joliet Memorial Stadium for our Homecoming game against Thornton of Harvey. This record crowd watched what most people called, "the game of the year."

Indeed, the come-from-behind victory for Joliet was one of the most exciting games ever. Thornton led 6-0 at the half. In the third quarter, Sam Miller plunged over the goal line for a touchdown and Bob Meyer kicked the extra point. With the score 7-6 Thornton scored again during the last quarter. With 1:14 left in the game, Tom Rickhoff went in for the winning TD and Meyer again kicked the point after touchdown. Those 2 points after touchdowns gave Joliet Township a victory over tough Thornton. This was a game that will be remembered by JT fans for a long time to come.

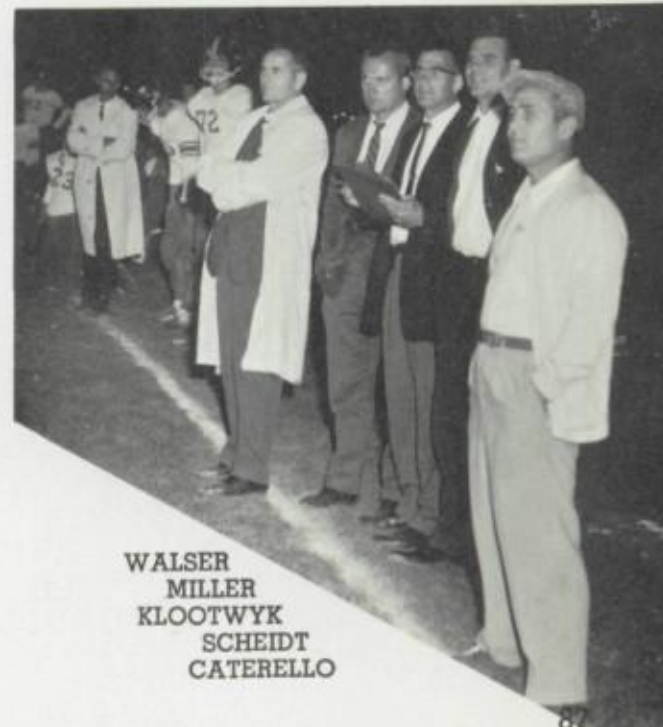

The talented toe of Bob Meyer was the extra margin needed by Joliet to beat Thornton 14-12.

Joliet Invades and Conquers Bloom

"Veni, vidi, vici." We came; we saw; we conquered. We came alright. The Joliet fans outnumbered the Bloom rooters at Bloom's home gridiron. The Band went to perform at an away game for the first time in 15 years.

We really saw. We saw a powerful ground display by our fiery Steelmen. JT made the most of every scoring possibility by scoring five touchdowns and two extra points.

We conquered. We ripped apart the highly touted Bloom Trojans 32 to 12. Our successful season was now really underway.

JT Squeaks Past Porters 7-2

For 45½ minutes Lockport was able to hold Joliet scoreless. With 2 minutes and 22 seconds left on the clock, halfback Dave Kienlen shook loose for a 19 yard run for the touchdown. Bob Meyer kicked the extra point. Joliet had now beaten Lockport 7-2, making the Porters the 6th victim in the present Steelmen winning streak.

In a freak play in the third quarter, Jim Walser centered the ball into and out of the Lockport end zone for an automatic safety and 2 points for Lockport, Joliet led in rushing with 162 yards to 74 for Lockport on the muddy Porter field.

Joliet Blanks Kays 13-0

Friday the 13th proved no bad luck to our high flying Steelmen as Joliet racked up its fifth win of the season over Kankakee 13-0.

Fullback Bill Wehrspann scored all 13 points. A third TD, a 60 yard run by Wehrspann, was called back because of an offside penalty against Joliet. While Wehrspann was chalking up 121 yards, two touchdowns, and an extra point, the JT defense held the Kankakee squad to a meager 83 yards.

(BELOW) With 2½ minutes left in the game, Joliet's Dave Kienlen finds a hole in Lockport's line and races for the only TD of the game.

Joliet's State Rating Soars

27-0 Joliet Steamrolls Thornridge

As the victorious Steelmen entered their dressing room, Head Varsity Coach Ray Klotwyk was leaning on the locker room door beaming. Coach Klotwyk exclaimed, "We could have poured it on them, but we wanted to play as many of the boys as we could."

Klotwyk was referring to the neat job Joliet had just done in polishing off Thornridge of Dalton, 27-0. Many Joliet substitutes saw action in a game that saw junior fullback Wallace Allen pour it on for 2 touchdowns. Dave Kienlen and Tom Rickhoff were credited with one TD apiece; while Bob Meyer was kept busy kicking 3 extra points. Again our stonewall defense proved almost impregnable by giving Thornridge only 24 yards on the ground. In all Joliet piled up 269 yards against the Falcons.

Jim Henderson, Joliet Township's number 2 quarterback, goes on a keeper play around the left end for five yards against Argo.

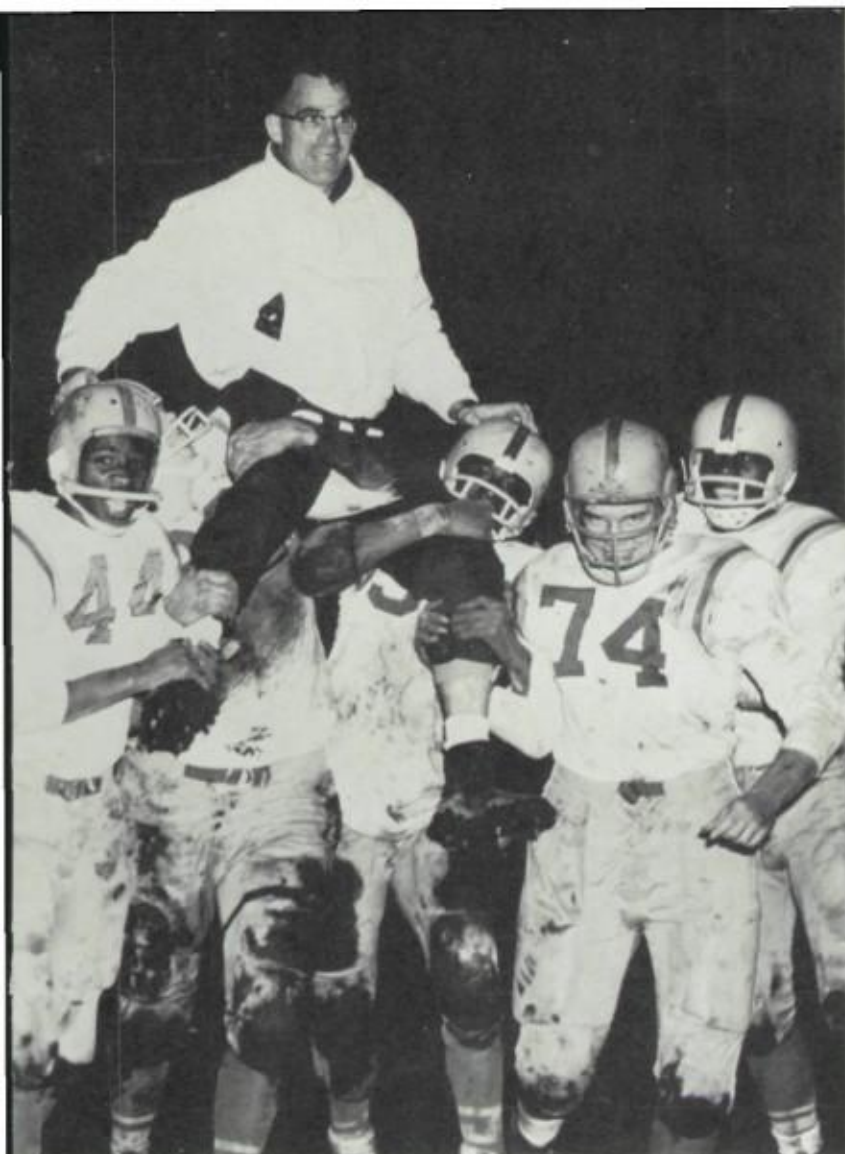

Tom Rickhoff breaks through the Thornridge line on a 70 yard quarterback sneak for a Joliet touchdown.

Joliet Whips Argo

The Argonauts fell to the mighty Joliet Steelmen 35-0. It was a long night for the Argo team. Joliet made 418 yards to Argo's 67 yards gained. Six Argo passes were intercepted by the alert Steelmen. Joliet made 12 first downs to Argo's 1.

Dave Kienlen made two TDs., while Sam Miller ran for 3 touchdowns for Joliet. Bob Meyer connected for 3 extra points. This wrapped up the scoring in the game. Joliet played one of their best games of the season as they extended their winning streak to 8 games.

Ray Klootwyk, head coach of the conference champion Joliet Steelmen, rides off the gridiron after the Argo game on the shoulders of his team.

Jubilant Joliet Township Steelmen celebrate the winning of the conference championship in the locker room after the Argo game.

It was a brisk November evening at Joliet Memorial Stadium. Joliet Township H.S. was beating Argo by a score of 35-0. The public address system announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, your attention please." A hushed silence fell over the throng. "Thornton has beaten Bloom 27-21." The hush was broken. 5,000 JTHS fans broke out in a wild spontaneous celebration. Bloom's loss meant that JOLIET TOWNSHIP HAD WON THE SOUTH SUBURBAN LEAGUE TITLE. The noisy observance of the end of the football drought at Joliet was joyously received. After many years of defeat and humiliation, the Steelmen had reached the pinnacle of state high school football.

"We have the fighting spirit, on to victory we will go." At last those words meant something.

The Drought Is Over

Joliet Hits Blue Island With a 32-7 Loss

The gun sounded the end of the game—WE HAD DONE IT. For the first time in the long history of Joliet High, a Varsity football team had gone through a season without being beaten or tied. This victory marked the end of the playing season, but the beginning of a new era in football at JTHS.

In the game itself, Sam Miller spearheaded the touchdown drives with 21 yard and 33 yard touchdown runs. Dave Kienlen made a pass interception pay off in a spectacular 80 yard run for a TD. Wallace Allen and Charlie Winters picked up a touchdown apiece.

This game marked the first TD scored against JT since the Bloom game. This in itself shows our tremendous defensive effort throughout the entire season. A good game to end a terrific year.

Sam Miller starts off on a 33 yard touchdown carry in the game at Blue Island.

Hard Work Pays Off

Many individuals made outstanding performances during the season, but everyone who participated deserves a lot of credit. Many seniors went through all four years of football without playing much. However, these players deserve as much recognition for their effort as those who were known for their outstanding play.

Charles Winters was the first sophomore ever to make All Conference and Honorable Mention in All-State polls. If this is a sign of teams to come, Joliet will continue to be one of the biggest football powers in the state of Illinois.

Ray Klotwyk, "king" of football at Joliet Township High School, addresses an all-school assembly called to honor the history making Varsity champions. Coach Klotwyk was given a tumultuous standing ovation by the student body.

Well, the season had ended. The student body and the citizens of Joliet had shown their appreciation. Their appreciation to the football team and the football coaches that had given Joliet the South Suburban League title and a lofty position in state football circles. In three short years Coach Ray Klotwyk and his assistants Frank Miller and Howie Scheit had built up the greatest football team ever. This is the end of our most successful season.

This is the second SSL championship for Joliet Township's sophomore teams in two years. The 1961 Steelmite football team had a final record of seven wins, one loss, and one tie. Jim McGee scored 74 points for Joliet. JT's Gale Bucciarelli ended the season with 62 points to his credit.

Freshmen Go Undeclared, Again!

For the second time in three years our freshmen team has gone undefeated. Over the past three years Joliet has rolled up an astounding 18 wins, 2 ties, and only 1 defeat. Joliet has a great deal to look forward to with teams like these.

The 1961 version of freshman football team, under the guidance of head football coach, Bob Mitchell, came through the season with 6 wins and 1 tie. Coach Mitchell along with assistant coaches Russ Leksell and Al Meyers have gotten this year's squad members off to a terrific start in their high school football careers.

Quarterback Jim Peterbok had the option to feed the ball to either fleet halfbacks Bill Lucky and Jim Nicholson or to piledriving fullback Wayne Johnson. An excellent utility man, Wayne at one time or another had played all positions.

According to Coach Mitchell this year's freshman line sparked by Jack Kulak and Ken Stogis proved to be one of the toughest in the school's history. The tackle spots were held down by Delmar Miller and Larry Levy who stopped virtually all action in their area.

No Pool - Will Swim

The paradox of the Joliet swim team is that it has neither a coach nor a school pool. Yet, the team still came in third in the South Suburban League meet (the other 7 SSL schools have both a coach and a pool). The boys got together at the Y.M.C.A. pool at 7:00 A.M. during the swim season to work out. These boys organized a swim team with a little friendly advice from Track Coach Don Kienlen.

During the season the swimmers compiled a record of four wins and four losses. Lockport, Thornridge, East Aurora, Carl Sandburg fell to the Steelmen swimmers. We were outdistanced by Thornton, West Proviso, Bremen, and East Aurora in the second meeting with our old Big Eight rival.

At the conference meet we came in third behind Thornridge (1) and Thornton (2). Joliet broke three conference records at the meet. In the 400 yd. freestyle Dave Kienlen bettered the old record of 4 min. 42 sec. by 14 sec. Tom Besley shaved a second off the old record of 2 min. 8 sec. in the 200 yd. freestyle. The 200 yard medley found Tom Rickhoff, Don Kienlen, Dave Kienlen, and Ward Kramer of Joliet change the record from 1 min. 55.7 sec. to 1 min. 54.2 sec. Ward Cramer (50 yd. freestyle), Larry Gray (100 yd. butterfly) and the freestyle relay team of Don Leonard, Ray Benson, Larry Gray, and Tom Besley all picked up third place awards at the SSL meet. At the district meet Joliet placed fifth. Dave Kienlen qualified for the state meet in two events.

The wrestling teams of JT have always done well in competition. The record compiled by this year's team is one of the most outstanding ever achieved by our Steelman grappling teams.

In regular season play the team scored 12 victories without suffering a loss or a tie. We clobbered competition with such scores as 47-3, 48-3, and 43-9. We never let a team get closer than 14 points to us.

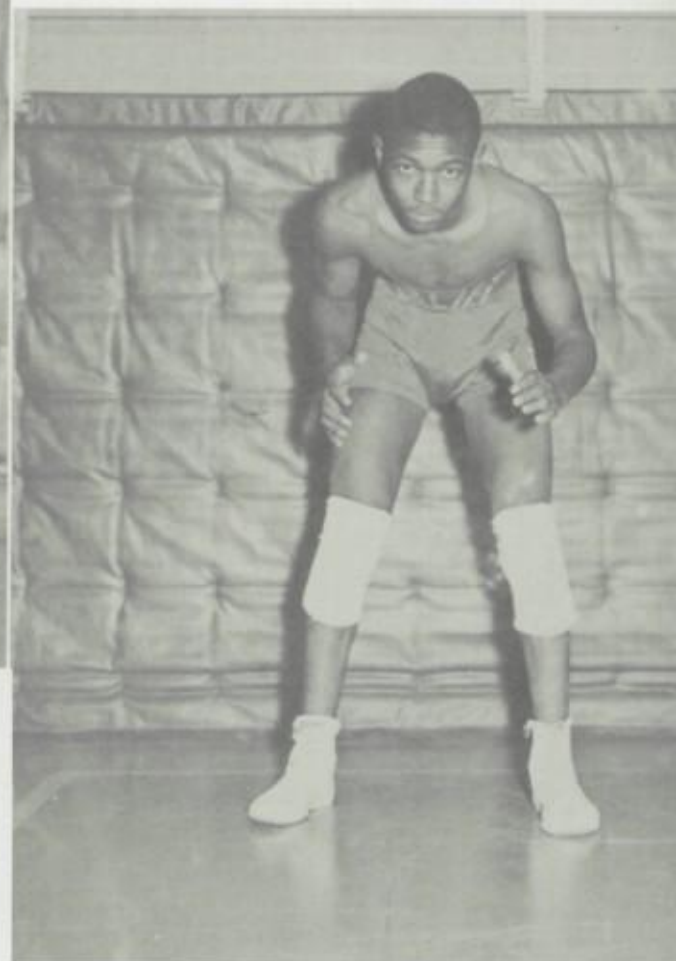

Joliet beat all competition in the district meet at Lockport and won the first place trophy. At the sectional meet at Thornton Fractional South, three wrestlers survived the tough competition and earned the right to go on to the state meet. These three were Sam Epps, Bob Furlan, and Al McCullum. In state competition at Arlington Heights, Al McCullum fought his way to third place in his weight class.

The SSL championship trophy and the first place trophy won at the district meet by the 1962 Steelmen wrestlers will proudly stand in our trophy case as a fine tribute to our great wrestling team.

Steelmite Grapplers Down 12 Opponents

The sophomore wrestling team of Joliet Township went through twelve regular seasons without tasting defeat. Fewer than ten points were scored against the sophs., by seven of their opponents and only three points were scored by Bloom and North Fractional. With a perfect record in regular play, the Steelmite with 74 points were second only to Blue Island with 86 points in the South Suburban League Conference Meet.

Heading the list of top-ranking sophomores was John Gates (145), undefeated SSL champion in 15 matches. Heavyweight Bill White experienced 10 seasonal victories and 2 in tournament competition. Once beaten 180 pounder Charlie Winters took the conference title as did Jerry Gea in the 133 pound class. Five others placed in the meet. The sophs showed much promise in their ability to beat all competition.

Under the instruction of Coach Howie Scheidt, the Freshmen wrestling team of Joliet had a winning season. A 25-25 tie with Blue Island marred an otherwise perfect slate. This tie was later avenged by the Steelmidgets, who came out on top of Blue Island 26 to 22 the second time around.

JOLIET TOWNSHIP WINS

Morris Holiday Tourney Crown

Joliet was the winner of the Regional Tournament held this year at Bloom. This was a big moment in one of the finest seasons ever for a basketball team at JTHS.

In the first game, Joliet battled Marian Catholic of Chicago Heights. This was a nip and tuck game right down to the final minutes. At half-time the game was all tied up 29-29. Not until the fourth quarter did JT break away from Marian and finally win the game 59-51. Joliet's scoring honors were divided among Boyce (15 pts.), Ziech (17 pts.), and Wehrspann (11 pts.).

Joliet Township met crosstown rival Joliet Catholic in the semi-finals of Regional play. This game promised to be one of the biggest games of the season as well as the first time the two Joliet teams had ever met on a "neutral" court. The game was hot and furious as games with Catholic High usually are. In the end JT proved to be the better team by whipping JC 66-61. This was the third time this season that the Hillmen had fallen to defeat at the hands of our Joliet Steelmen.

Joliet was pitted against Rich East for the championship of the Bloom Regional. In one of the most exciting regional championship games ever, Joliet came out on top of an overtime ordeal, 57-56. The red hot Rich Rockets had blasted Homewood-Flossmoor and edged Lockport 48-47 to reach the championship fight. In the game Joliet alternated a man to man defense with a zone defense. At the end of regulation time, the score stood 52-52. In the exciting 3 minute overtime JT scored 5 points to Rich's 4. This point gave Joliet the Regional crown. After the game, Joliet was presented with the first place trophy and the nets from the baskets as rewards for winning the tourney.

Joliet Township's Don Hettich (11) is about to pass the ball to Doug Ziech (23) while Joliet Catholic players stare in amazement at JT's ability.

Morris Holiday Tourney

Joliet Steelmen, playing for the first time in the Morris Holiday Tournament, took the coveted first place trophy. JT defeated their first opponent, Rockford Harlem, by the score of 73-54. The second round game against Morris proved to be a thriller. When the final buzzer sounded, the Steelmen were victorious by the narrow margin of 63 to 61. Joliet was matched with Ottawa, defending champions of the tourney, in the final game. JT came out on top, 53 to 45, and added another trophy to its collection.

Joliet Holiday Tourney

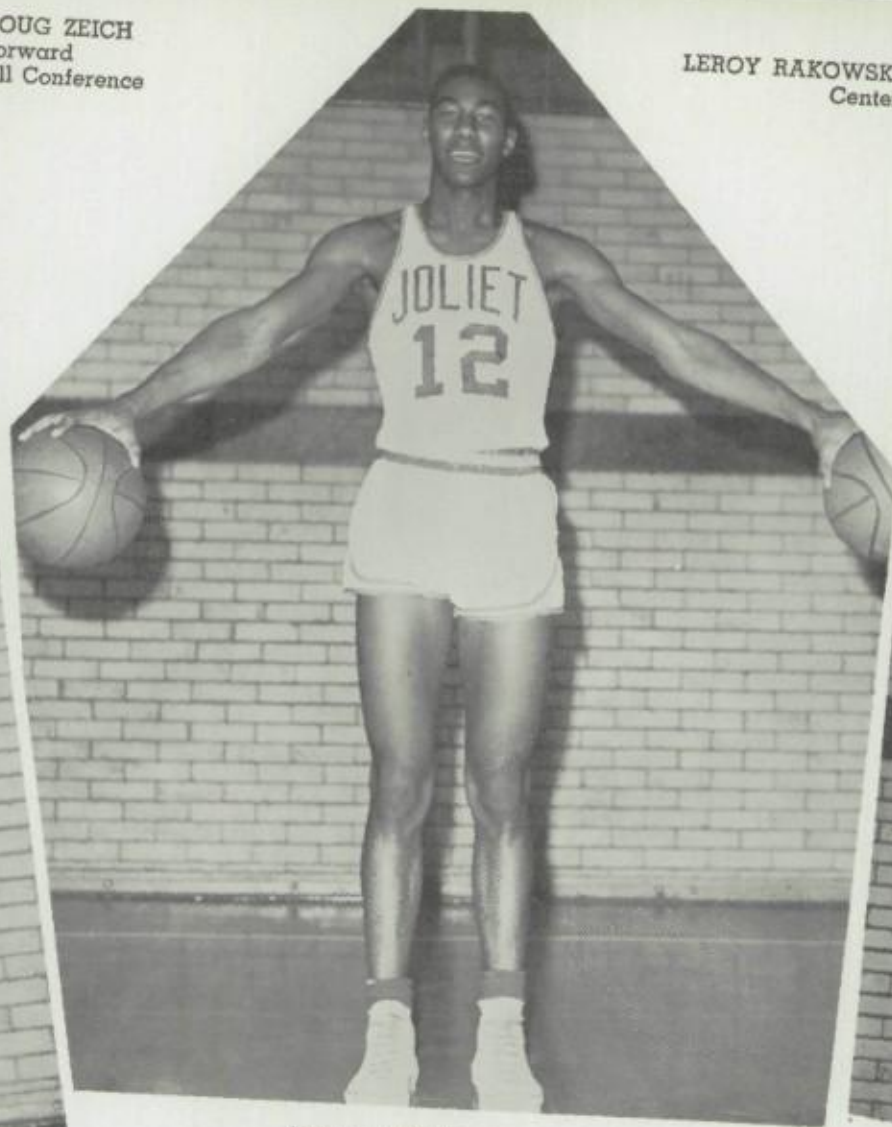

Going into their home holiday tournament, Joliet Township's undefeated Steelmen were rudely jolted when Wheaton beat the Blue and Gold cagers by a single point, 65-64. JT came roaring back to win both games in the consolation bracket and the consolation trophy by whipping Riverside-Brookfield 65-45 and, in the final game, Carl Sandburg 59-54. Hinsdale defeated Wheaton for the Joliet Tourney title, while North Chicago beat Joliet Catholic for third place honors.

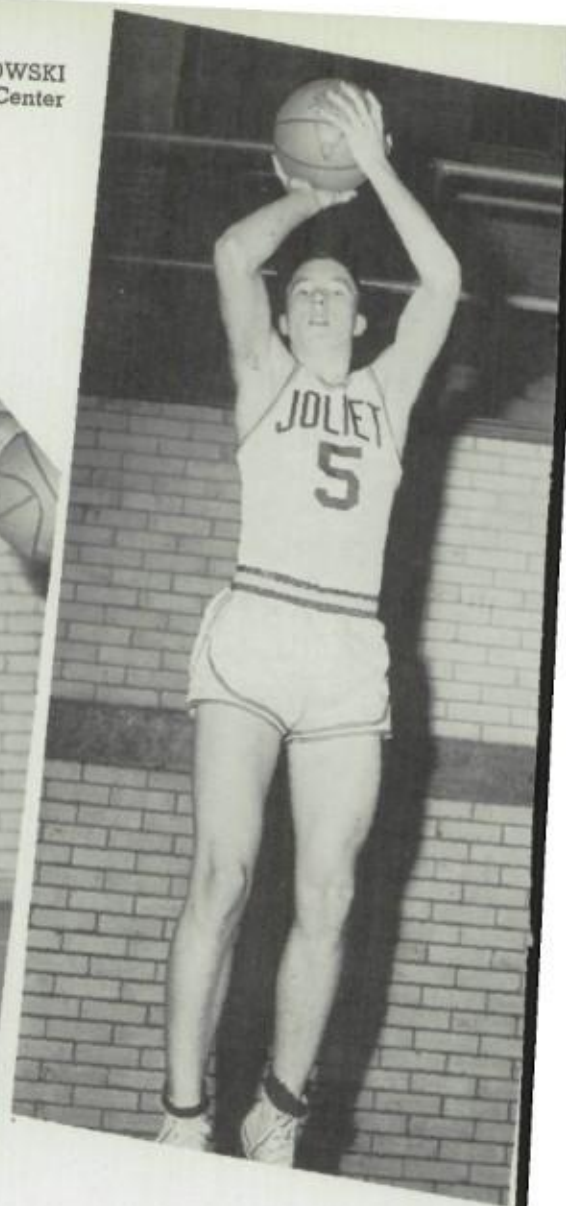

Willie Boyce grabs one of the many rebounds made by JT in the first regional game against Marian Catholic.

Joliet's Varsity Basketball

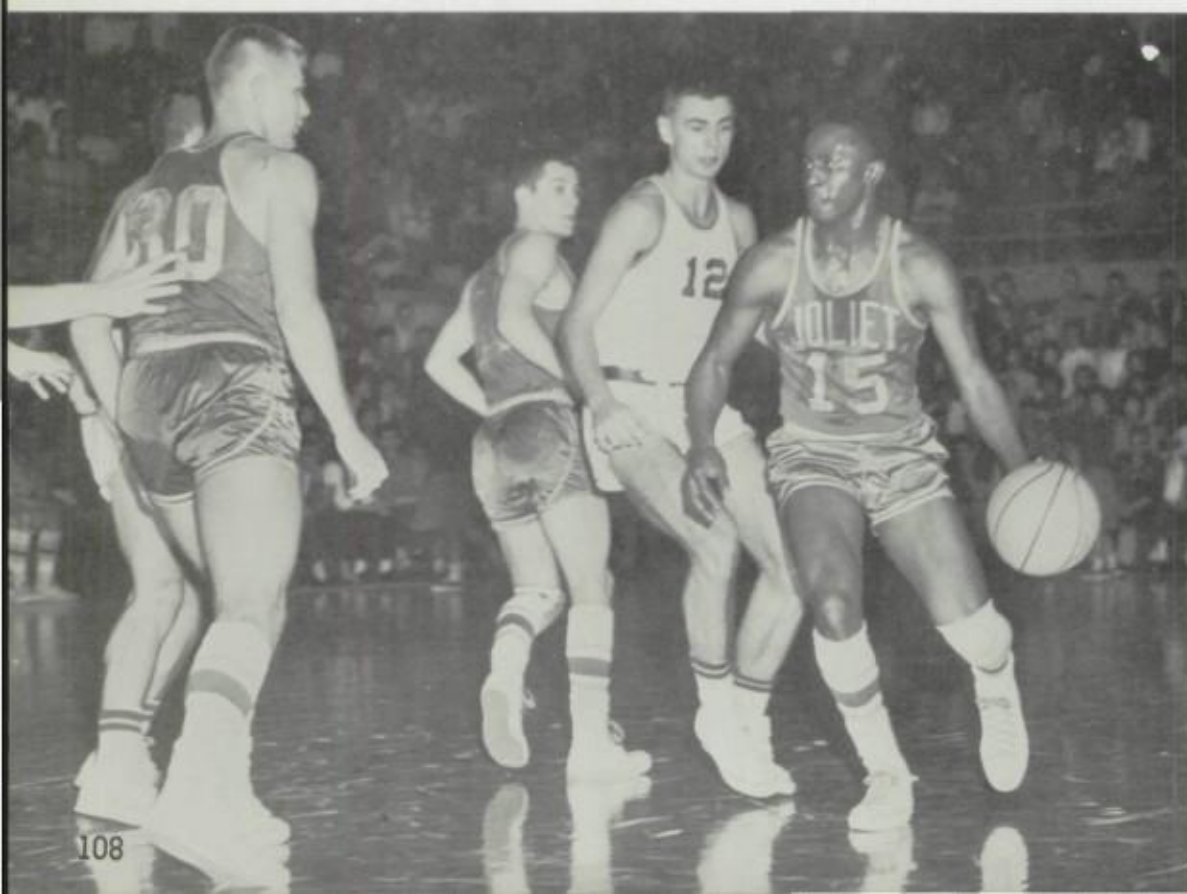

1961-1962 BASKETBALL TEAM OF JOLIET TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

Sam Miller (15) dribbles around a Morton West player in the sectional contest as Bill Wehrspann (30) and Don Hettich (11) watch cautiously.

The 1961-1962 varsity basketball season was one of the most successful in many years as Joliet Township's Steelmen won the Regional Tournament, won the Morris Holiday Tourney, won the consolation trophy in the Joliet Holiday Tournament, and came second in the South Suburban League competition. This was a season that saw Joliet start strong and become a state rated power (On two occasions JT rose to become the sixth rated team in the state). Tough losses in late season play lost JT state prestige as well as the conference championship. However, an end of the season drive earned Joliet a first place trophy in regional competition. This was, indeed, a good year for basketball at JTHS.

In the sectional tournament, Joliet met Morton West at Thornton. We lost this game 74 to 79. It was a heart-breaker for JT fans as well as the basketball players.

In this game senior standout, Doug Ziech made 38 points. Doug was Joliet's high scorer for the second straight year. His outstanding efforts during the regular season made him a unanimous choice for the All-Conference team. Although unfortunately overlooked by state all star teams, Doug is one of the finest players ever to wear a Blue and Gold uniform.

Seniors playing their last game for JT were: Don Hettich, Sam Miller, Leroy Rakowski, Ken Widlowski, Frank Lionberger, and Rich Walling. Of the seniors, Hettich and Miller made the All-Conference team. Juniors who would be back next year were: Bill Wehrspann, Willie Boyce, Ken Howard, Rick Armstrong, and Tom Williams. Bill Wehrspann was the only junior to make the All-Conference team.

Team Rolls up Twenty-two Wins

All Conference forward Doug Ziech shows some of that "go-power" that made him a standout player.

Coach Ken Parker looks over the records with Sam Miller, Willie Boyce, Doug Ziech, Don Hetlich, and Rich Walling.

(RIGHT) THIS IS NO TIME FOR PUSHUPS, SAM. Sam Miller of JT appears to be doing pushups while a Kankakee player is trying to lure a fleeting basketball into his hands . . . In the background Doug Ziech (with blackeye) is seemingly puzzled by the whole situation.

The team watches from the bench as the 1962 basketball season draws to a close.

Sophomore Cagers Have Winning Season

The JT sophomore basketball team finished a successful season with 18 wins and 5 losses. The team reached the finals in the Wheaton Tournament for sophomore teams by defeating Arlington Heights and Wheaton. In the championship game Joliet was defeated by the slim margin of 63 to 58 by a determined Lockport squad. This same Lockport team, with the help of Thornton's sophs cost Joliet the South Suburban championship in the sophomore division. The Steelmities ended in second place in the SSL standings at the end of the season.

This year's sophomore squad was one of the finest Mr. Gutierrez has ever coached at Joliet Township. Members of this team showed promise of doing great things on the varsity team in the near future.

of Athletic Activities for Boys

The intramural sports program is an integral part of the total athletic program at JTHS. The chance to participate in varied sports activities is offered to all the boys in our high school. Ribbons are given to first, second, and third place winners in individual events. An accumulation of points for participation in the IM program can win a boy a letter for IM sports.

Sports such as touch football, basketball, volleyball, and baseball are offered for boys that wish to participate on a team. If a boy wants to be active as an individual, he can go into such sports as table tennis, golf, tennis, wrestling, boxing, and swimming.

"HOWLAND'S HAWKERS," 1st place, Jr.-Sr. league in football. 3rd place in Jr.-Sr. league basketball. Dennis Howland.

Participation in the Girls' Athletic Association provides its members with the opportunity not only to improve their physical dexterity and co-ordination but also to experience the sense of pride and satisfaction which team spirit evokes. Under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Kay Dawson, sponsor, and the other instructors of the girls' physical education department, the members engage in individual and team sports as well as classes in ballet, modern and square dance. And the amiable atmosphere which exists among the girls is present in the teacher-student relationships as well. In addition to the after-school classes for the girls themselves, there are occasions throughout the year in which their parents and the G.A.A. members from other schools may share the fun and companionship.

Mrs. Kay Dawson, club sponsor, posts one of the many activities for the girls throughout the year.

There may be a lot of clubs in the bag, but Sue Kurtyak, golf sporthead, knows how and when to use them all.

Two girls and one basketball could cause some difficulties. However, Donna Price (far left) and Barb Craig are merely practicing ball-handling techniques. Meanwhile, Judy White-side (also at left) concentrates on shooting accuracy. All three are basketball sportheads.

"Ball two, strike one!" is the count on Sonja Perhutina, as she and Cheri Douglass, softball sportheads, run through a little pre-game warmup.

Problems of paint running down arms and dripping off elbows, hammer-smashed fingers, and paint-flecked hair (assorted colors) are occupational hazards willingly combatted by these enthusiastic G.A.A.'ers to get their homecoming float constructed. Slaving away are Karen McAlister, Avace Gregory, and Terry Fitzer.

The joint planning committee for the annual J.T.-St. Francis Playday discusses final arrangements: Karen Skikas (JT), Margaret Mores (SFA), Barb Meiferdt (SFA), Lois Litherland (JT).

"Whoopie!" exclaims the father of one of the G.A.A. members as he joins in the trampoline frolicking at the annual "Dads' Night."

It's just a small pin, but it's a big event when G.A.A. members are formally initiated. Here Karen Skikas pins Jane Schiek while Sandy Palmer receives hers from Lois Litherland.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Pete Nordstrom
Vice-President

Representing the 647 Seniors at JT in all official matters pertaining to class administration are the six duly elected officers, who assumed their respective offices last spring. Aspirants to each office must petition for nomination. The general election is conducted in junior homerooms in May. Elected personnel immediately replace the officers representing the graduating class. In order to secure a petition for nomination, the prospective candidates must have a 'C' average. These Senior Class officers conduct five meetings during the year for the purpose of informing the Seniors as to what is being planned in their behalf. According to class bylaws, a minimum of two officers are required to be in attendance at every meeting of the Student Council to insure proper representation. One of the major obligations of the officers is to plan the distribution and sale of tickets to the senior class play, which is one of their main fund-raising projects. The planning of the senior class trip to Washington, D.C., usually conducted during the spring vacation, is the most time-consuming duty of the officers. In the spring of the year, the officers combine efforts with the Junior Class officers to plan the Junior-Senior prom.

Academic Diligence Garnerers Ample Rewards

Dr. William C. French poses with six of the outstanding students of JT. The students and their honors are, LEFT TO RIGHT: Steve Azuma, senior class president; Judy Jackson, ivy bearer; Jim Stine, class orator; Sandy Jensen, commencement speaker; Skip Pauson, junior class president; Judy Neutzmann, class poet; and Dr. French.

Dr. French congratulates Skip Pauson, junior class president, who will receive the flag from the senior class president, and Judy Neutzman, class poet.

Sandy Jensen and Jim Stine pose with Dr. William C. French after learning that they are to be commencement speaker and class orator respectively.

Shown here with Dr. French is Steve Azuma, senior class president, who will present the flag to the junior class president, and Judy Jackson, ivy bearer.

After much deliberation, the Committee composed of English teachers, class counselors, and administrators, selected the seniors who were to fill the coveted positions of class orator, poet, and commencement speaker.

Selected by the dean of women, the scholar designated to bear the sprig of ivy carries the plant in the formal procession to the scene of the ceremonies. Among the messages delivered is the speech in which the class orator challenges his fellow students to make proper application of their formal education in the adult world they are entering. Also presented to the assembled seniors is the poem dedicated to the Class of 1962.

Without a doubt, the climax of any student's high school career is the memorable evening in which he is given his certificate of completion—his diploma. But before this moment arrives, several traditional ceremonies must be performed. The senior class president participates by formally presenting the American flag to the junior class president. The main address is then given by the commencement speaker.

Every year, the members of the Senior Class treat themselves to an attendance officer's nightmare known as "Ditch Day." On this "ill-fated" day, the graduating seniors go to school in the morning but "ditch" the entire afternoon.

A well rounded education includes various intellectually stimulating (?) activities.

Senior psuedo-athletes try their acrobatic skill.

Although on the verge of graduation, these seniors revert to status of grade schoolers and live it up on the merry-go-round.

Frolicsome Frivolity Feature of Senior Class Picnic

On the day of the great debacle, all seniors leave the sanctity and security of a tranquil high school atmosphere, and migrate to Inwood Park where all elements of decorum are sacrificed. Throughout the afternoon, they let their hair down and remove the cloak of dignity usually befitting a senior. From then on, it's every man for himself as the last informal gathering of the Senior Class begins.

A game of badminton captures the interest of a group of students at Senior Class Picnic.

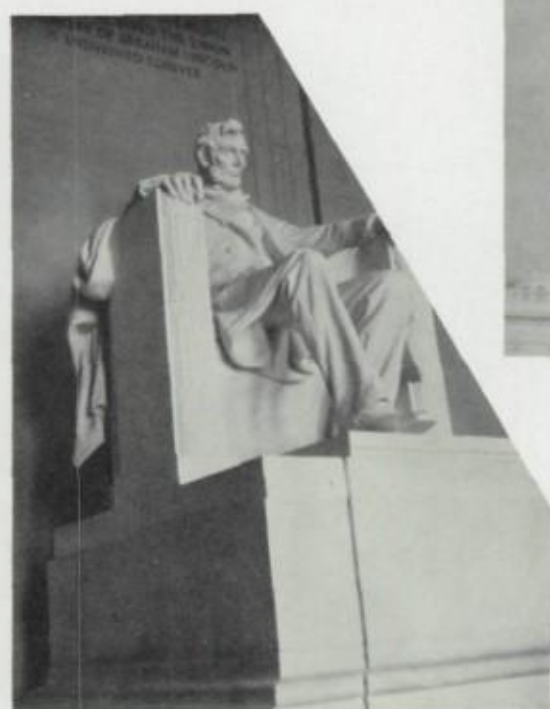

Seniors' Annual Visit to Nation's Capital

One of Year's Highlights

Bonnie Shingler seems to be overcome with emotion at her first sight of the famous Liberty Bell.

The reproduction of the immortal scene that took place at Iwo Jima during World War II reminds American citizens of the tragic price that was paid for freedom and democracy.

On the visitation list of all tourists in Washington D.C. is the magnificent statue of Abraham Lincoln.

Perhaps the most impressionable landmark is the first awe-inspiring sight of the nation's Capitol Building in Washington, D.C. The impact on the soul at seeing the edifice which houses the governmental bodies is a sobering sensation.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is the place where every American should come to pay tribute to all of the American G.I.'s who gave their lives for their country and for the freedom of the dominated peoples of the world.

The United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland, is where America's future military leaders are trained. They will be the men who will guard our shores against all present and future enemies.

and arrived Washington, D.C. early the next morning. They were conducted around Washington by a professional guide, and stayed at the Marriott Hotel throughout the duration of the trip. The trip lasted approximately four days with the total cost of less than $100.00.

Ivy Symbolism Conjures Materialistic Application

Solemnity is decreed for the annual Ivy Day ceremonies as Doctor William C. French, in his capacity as superintendent of Joliet Township High School, charges the graduating seniors and reminds them of their obligations to society as they enter the adult world. For many of the graduates, this sobering reference to their responsibilities as citizens is brought to bear on their minds for the first time in such a compelling manner. It is hoped the gravity of the occasion leaves a lasting impression.

Ivy Day is a traditional ceremony which is begun each year by a solemn procession of all graduating seniors, and is ended by the planting of the ivy. The ivy is a symbol of growth and lofty attainment which each class leaves as a memorial to its accomplishments. As the ivy grows and struggles to maintain life, so will each member of the class also toil to survive and blend successfully into this chaotic world of today.

Judy Jackson, the Ivy Bearer for the graduating class of 1962, is congratulated by Miss Helen Mahany, Dean of Women.

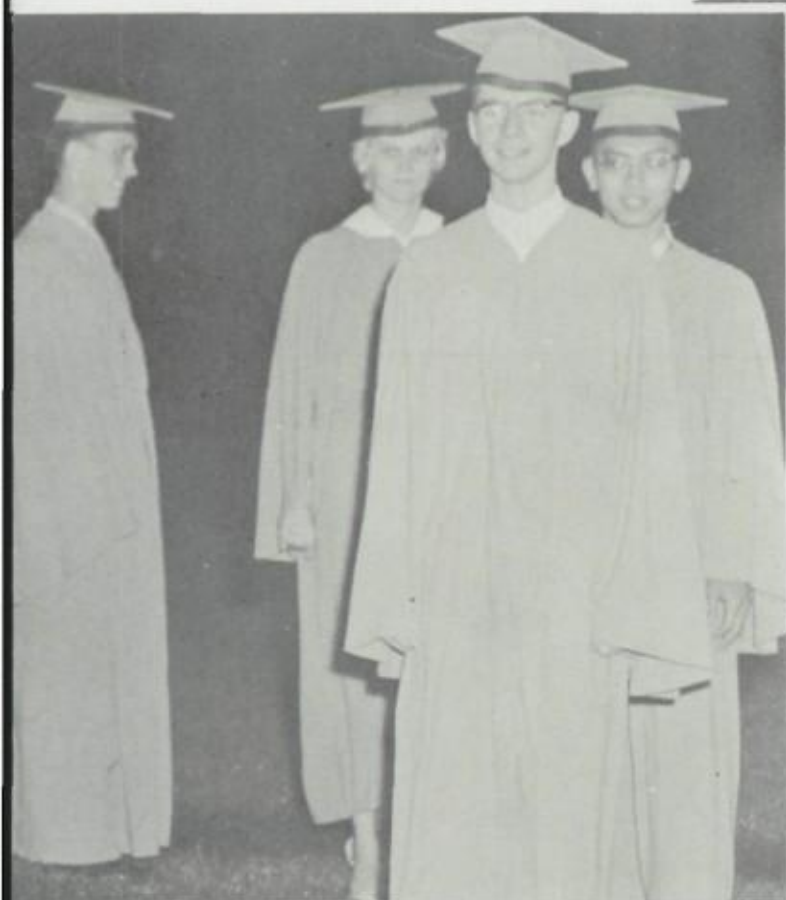

Not the End . . . but the Beginning

It's so sad—yet she's glad. Janis Fitzhenry is faced with the sudden realization that her high school days have come to an end.

At the far end of this long procession, these seniors will receive their just rewards.

One of the honor guides stands ready to offer a smile of assurance as the members of the graduating class file by her to their seats for the commencement exercises.

The long gray line, a procession of graduating seniors, is a traditional procedure at commencement.

The smiles on the faces of these graduating seniors could be signs of self-satisfaction from four years of hard work, or prompted from eager anticipation of the future.

Having completed the required course of study prescribed by the Illinois High School Association and the Board of Education of Joliet Township High School, the members of the Senior Class of 1962 are presented diplomas by the president of the school board, Dr. Robert Geist. This senior class counts among its graduating candidates students of the highest moral and mental calibre, who are destined to achieve success and happiness. There are also those who will claim fame and fortune. However, no matter what fate holds for these graduates, JT can be justly proud of their records throughout the four years and can be assured of credit reflected on the school.

Honor guides proceed onto the field to assume their assigned posts to assist the graduating seniors as they prepare to sever their final connection with high school life.

Enterprising Seniors Merit Recognition

Winnie Sorenson was this year's recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award. This honor is awarded to a senior girl on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. In effect, the award pays tribute to youthful character and calls attention to the qualities which are desirable in good citizens. Selection is

Every year, one boy and one girl from each class are presented with the Adam Award which is based on scholastic averages. Members of the Class of '62 who have received the award are, SEATED, Martha Alderman, freshman year; Ruth Katzin, sophomore year, Sandy Jensen, junior year, and, STANDING, Jim Cottingham, freshman year; Jay Berlinsky, sophomore year; and Allan Horwitz, junior year.

Sandra Jensen, the recipient of the Junior Citizenship Award presented by the Joliet Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Doctor William C. French, Superintendent of Joliet Township High School and Junior College, hold the plaque which designates the honor that is awarded once each year to the most outstanding high school student in Will County. Also pictured are Sandy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Jensen.

These seniors have won the National Council Award which is sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Nominated in their junior year, the winners were announced during their senior year. The selection was based on several compositions which were turned in to the council last spring.

Sandy Jensen stops a moment to check the announcements on the Junior College bulletin board and tries to establish reason from the maze of papers plastered from here to yonder.

"Good Knight, Mike! It's not that confusing," replies Karen Skikas while Mike Hamrin looks bewildered as these senior-freshman match wits in a perplexing game of chess.

High Schoolers Integrate Realm of College

Any high school senior may attend Junior College at the beginning of their senior year, if they meet several requirements. The requirements that must be met and channels that must be followed before a senior student can be admitted to Junior College are long and numerous. The student must have a 4.0 scholastic average; he or she must have a recommendation from their homeroom teacher, and the recommendation must be supplemented by their counselor's approval. Then, the request is sent to the high school principal who affixes his signature to the recommendation and he transfers the request to the dean of the college. The dean either accepts or rejects the request for admission. In order to take more than one junior college subject, the student must have at least 17 high school credits. The credit that he receives upon the completion of the college course may be applied to his college record.

Betsy Eneix picks up a copy of "College Casuals" the Junior College bulletin which is issued regularly to help keep the college students informed about activities being promoted around school.

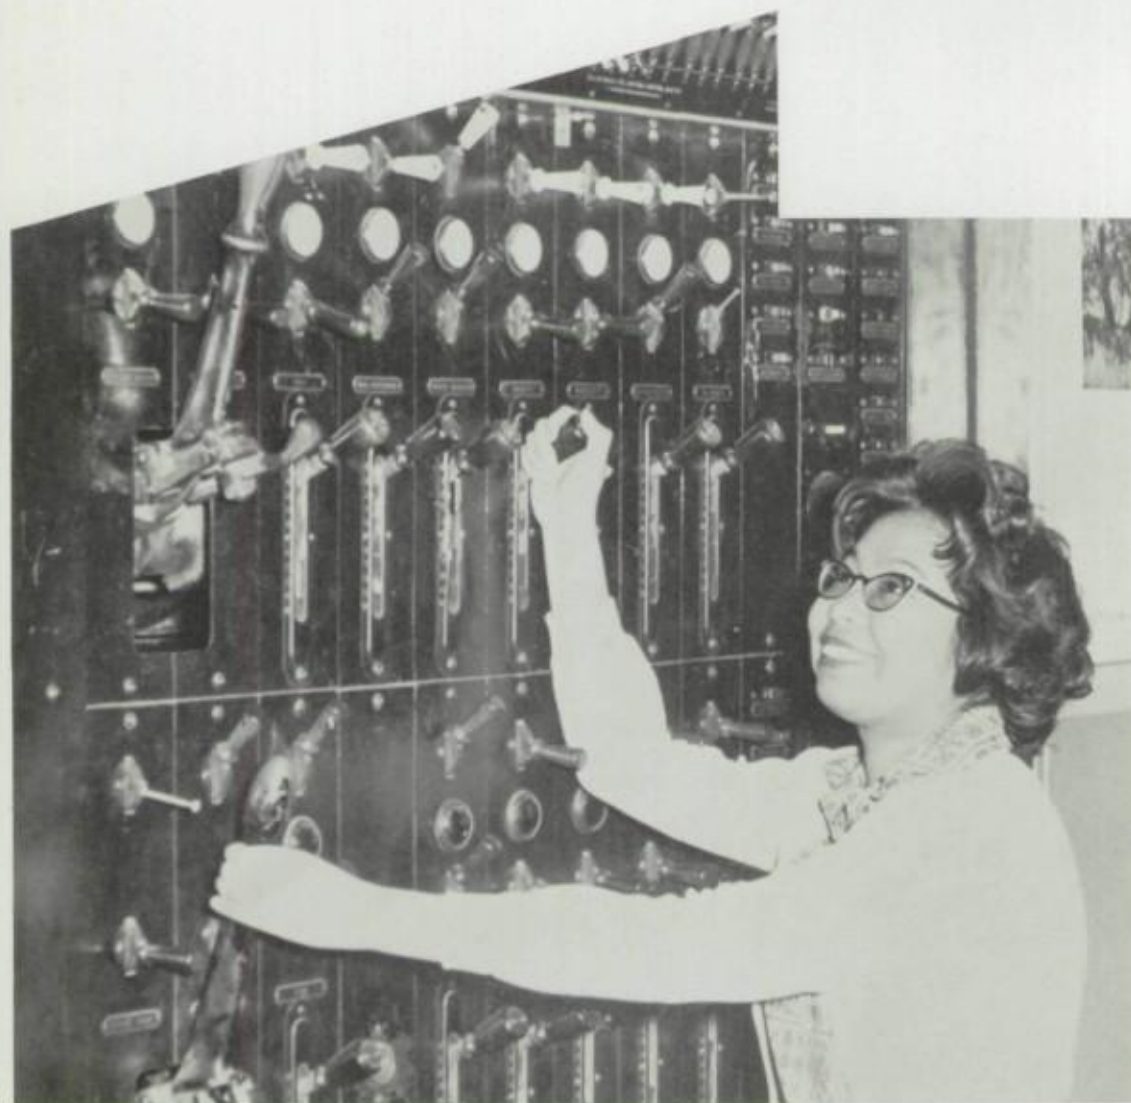

JT's "School Family" Extends Hospitality

Judy Whiteside patiently tries to explain to Portia the fundamentals of baseball. But from the look on Portia's face, it is apparent that she is either completely baffled or she already knows the fundamentals.

Portia may not be too proficient in baseball playing, (RIGHT) but she makes up for it with clever basketball dexterity. From the looks of it, Portia could teach Judy something about basketball. There are many sports offered in the Philippine Islands that are similar if not identical to those offered in the United States. However, the sports in which our high school students participate are not offered until the Filipino student enters college. A high school student in Quezon has a choice of either swimming, volleyball, or folk dancing in the Physical Education classes. Nevertheless, in college the field is much broader, offering such sports activities as tennis, modern dance, bowling, and archery. They do not offer golf, however. It would seem to indicate that golf is one sport that the rest of the world hopes America keeps to itself.

An exchange student from Quezon City, Philippine Islands, Portia Casambre came to the United States in August of 1962 after graduating from the University of Philippines High School. When she was notified by the American Field Service, she was already in her freshman year of college. Her father is attending Ohio State University where he is completing requirements for a doctor's degree, while her three sisters and one brother reside in Quezon. Portia is living with the E. H. Whiteside family of 517 Third Avenue whose daughter Judy is a senior at JT.

Portia is intrigued by the myriad handles and levers on the enormous light switch panel backstage of the auditorium where she spends much of her time as she studies dramatics.

of Their "Home" to Portia and Jorn

Jack Shroeder, who shares his home with Jorn and has consequently become one of his fastest friends, points with pride to the latest addition to a well stocked trophy case while Jorn also reflects an understandable pride in the accomplishments of "his school." Incidentally, the trophy getting all the attention is the one the Steelmen basketballers annexed in the Morris Holiday Tournament. It's a first placer, naturally.

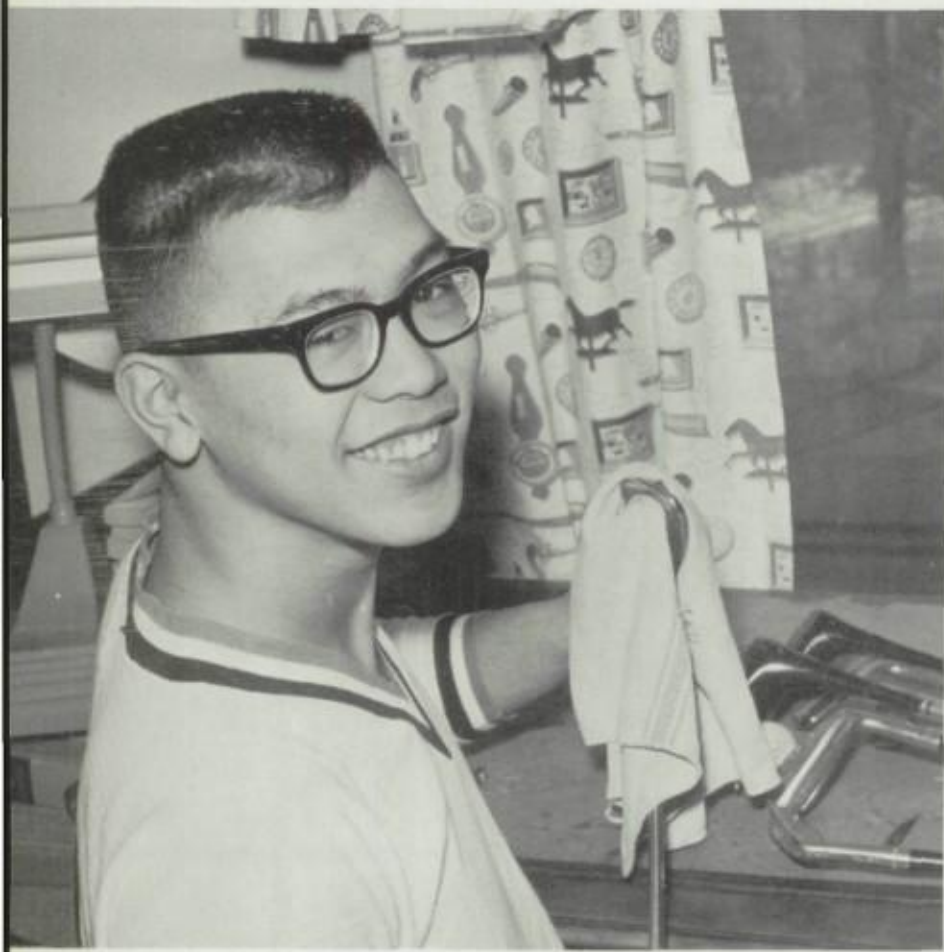

Jorn and Jack pause a moment before the statue of the Steelman, while Jack relates some of the historic data in back of the famous monument. The original name of the statue was "Science Advancing Mankind" and the robot-like figure exemplifies the force and onward movement of science.

Jorn Justeson (RIGHT), an exchange student from Kalundbork, Denmark, came to the United States in August of 1962. The student council members raised the money to sponser an exchange student by selling "Change for Exchange" tags. The senior class also helped raise money by promoting an after-game dance. Jorn is residing with the Milton Schroeder family of 606 Whitely Avenue. Jack Schroeder, whose family is extending the courtesy of their home to Jorn, is a senior at JT.

WHO'S WHO of '62: Showcase of the Chasing a little white ball around a cow pasture is one of STEVE AZUMA's supreme delights. On occasion, however, maintenance work must be resorted to and Steve (ABOVE) makes the approach to a little wood and metal polishing. Such activity, though, is a respite from his responsibilities as senior class president.

MARTHA ALDERMAN grasps at fleeting moments of athletic activity which she has cherished and enjoyed from the time of her first pig-tails. But her sweatshirt, slacks, and rubber-soled gym shoes are discarded when she dons her band sponsor's uniform. However, a basketball still feels comfortable in her hands.

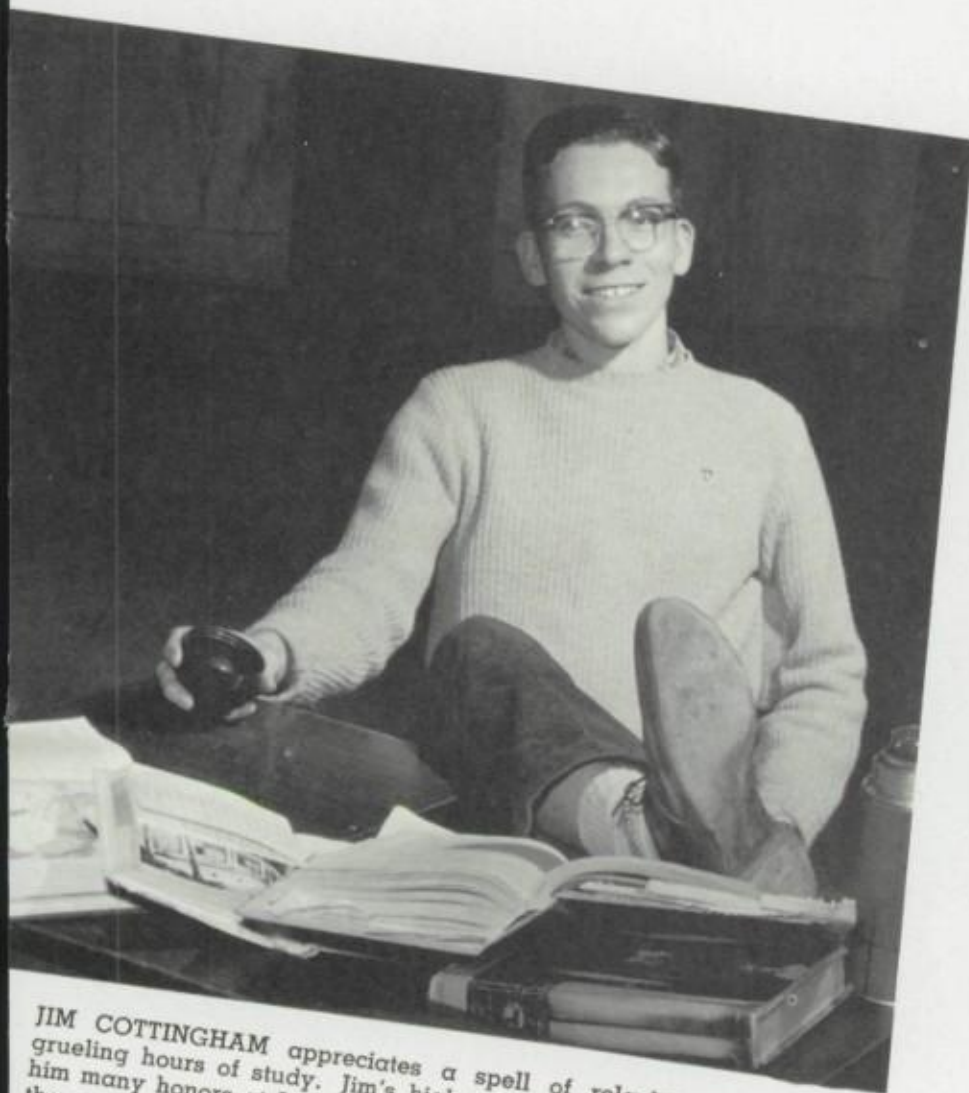

Reliving a fond memory of superb dining while in Italy as an American Field Service exchange student last summer, JANET CERNY pours over a typical menu and dreams fondly of lasagna. The bottle of wine nearby made the journey in her care to the United States unmolested and is still uncorked. (She's saving it for a special occasion.)

Perhaps pondering the approach an Oriental might make to a realistic situation, DON ANGUS examines the lines of Father Tsai, the character whose role he is to fill in the all school play, "The Lute Song." On opening night of the play, Don hopes he won't confuse the lines in the play with the lines of copy he must write as Sports Editor of the "J of '62."

Within these pages the editors of the "J of '62" pay pictorial tribute to the outstanding seniors at Joliet Township High School. Throughout four years of high school, these young men and women have contributed their time and talents to help sustain the high academic and co-curricular standards which have become synonymous with this educational institution. As a result of their contributions in a variety of areas, the members of the Class of 1962 can leave well-assured that they have left in their wake notable examples of leadership and courage that seniors to follow may strive to emulate.

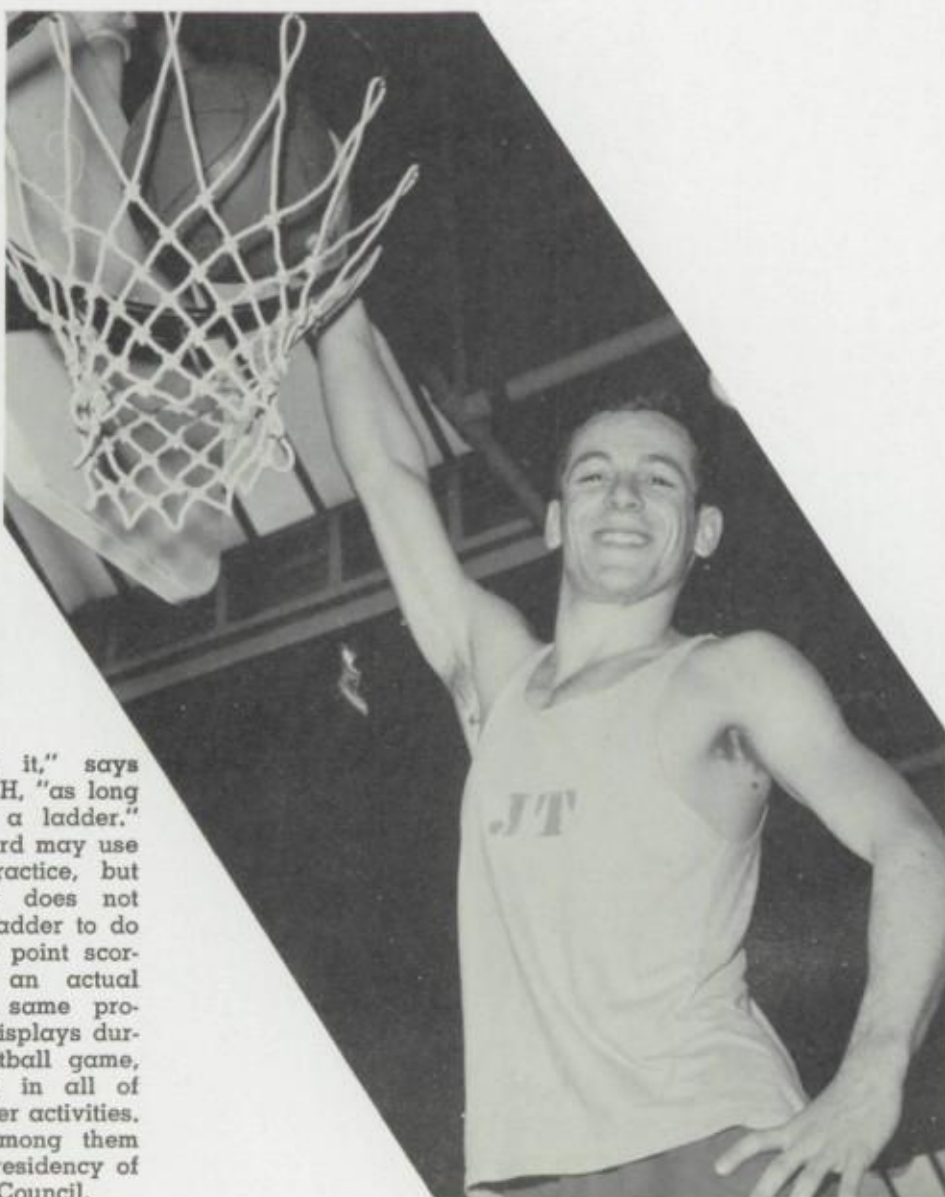

Senior Class Displays Prominent Students

JIM COTTINGHAM appreciates a spell of relaxing after some grueling hours of study. Jim's high scholastic position has earned him many honors at Joliet Township High School, among which are the presidency of the National Honor Society, and a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program.

Why an active girl like JANIS FITZHENRY should have to diet is beyond the comprehension of all the people she knows. Seemingly obsessed by dieting, it appears that Metrecal is a big thing in her life. Of course, along with any diet goes exercise and Janis gets plenty of that when she marches with the Joliet Township High School's National Championship band of which she is Blue Band Sponsor.

"Nothing to it," says DON HETTICH, "as long as there is a ladder." The 5'7" guard may use it during practice, but he certainly does not need a stepladder to do his share of point scoring during an actual game. The same proficiency he displays during a basketball game, Don exhibits in all of his many other activities. Numbered among them is the vice-presidency of the Student Council.

Trying to do two things at once may be impossible for most of us, but BETSY ENEIX (ABOVE) president of orchestra, seems to be doing a good job of it. In order to maintain her lofty position in the orchestra and retain her high academic average, a lot of hard study in music and school work is called for. So, (to make it more interesting) Betsy tries to combine the two.

This is getting to be habit forming for her; SUE KURTYAK sews another cheer-leading letter on her sweater. She has been leading cheers off and on since she was in the seventh grade. Sue was the Junior Class secretary last year making her ineligible for the cheerleading squad. But, the love of leading cheers for a crowd of loyal JT fans for their favorite team was too much of a lure, and she's back at it again this year.

WHAT? SANDY JENSEN (BELOW) reading "Huck and Yogi?" That isn't the type of literature one would expect Sandy to read. In fact, with her outstanding academic record and her job as Editor-in-Chief of the yearbook, it would seem to leave little or no time for outside reading. But Gee Whiz! A girl has to relax some time even with such "eruditical" reading as this.

These Custodians of Lofty Ideals, Standards

CHUCK LATHAM (LEFT) inspects a Model 52 Winchester rifle, the type the ROTC uses for its target practice and drills. The practical inspection of rifles, such as the one pictured, and other routine duties, were among the numerous chores he performed as Cadet Lieutenant Colonel, Battalion Commander of the Joliet Township High School ROTC.

DON DIXON (RIGHT) looks a little fearsome with that unsheathed saber in his hand. But when he is in uniform, he doesn't need a saber to command the respect of the RO boys. Actually, Don has a friendly attitude toward everyone whether they are civilians or military personnel. Don was Battalion Comander of the ROTC during the second semester.

SAMMY MILLER produly displays his numerous sports letters and awards. One of the Steelmen's more proficient gridiron performers, and an outstanding basketball player, Sammy well deserved the acclaim that has been lavished upon him. Many more honors and awards are destined to be his if past performance is any indication of the future.

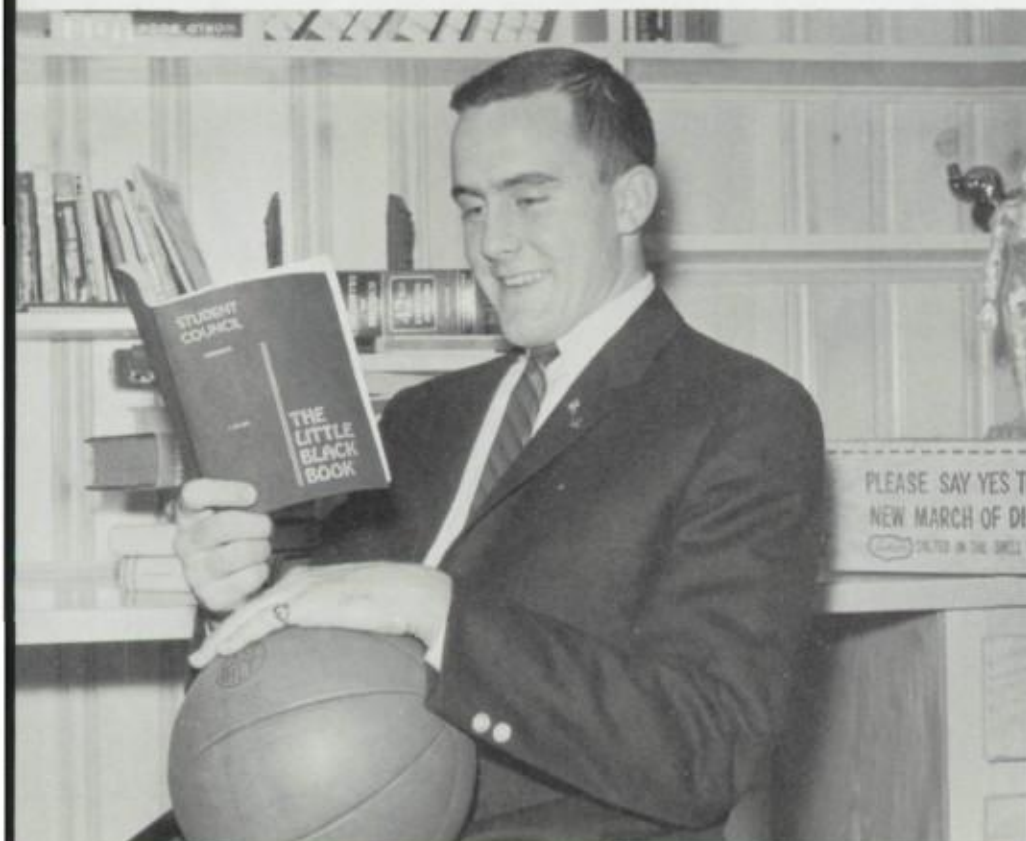

BONNIE NIELAND (ABOVE), B Company sponsor of ROTC tries on her hat for size. Through her scholastic achievements, dependability, and, above all, her sparkling personality, Bonnie received this high distinction of an ROTC sponsorship. By voluntarily assuming extra services, she has become a friend as well as a sponsor.

It's the little things that count. Here DICK WALSH (BELOW) performs a "small task" by shoveling the driveway. Dick's attitude all through high school has been that hard and tedious jobs can be little things with the proper organization. With Dick, the difficult chores he does immediately, the impossible takes a little longer. There are many projects that have been completed around the school by him that may not be apparent. However, closer examination would readily reveal many evidences of Dick's services to the school. For Dick, no job is too difficult to handle.

Accept Their Responsibility Graciously

Balls, books, and boxes are but a few of the articles representing the diversified activities of DOUG ZIECH. Proficiency in basketball handling has earned him the honor of being on the varsity squad since his sophomore year. The "Little Black Book," JT's student directory, and the hundreds of boxes of peanuts to be sold for the March of Dimes are but two of the many projects which he supervised as Student Council president.

Contemplating attending the United States Naval Academy, TOM RICKOFF (BELOW) thoroughly studies the navy catalog. By excelling as a football quarterback, Junior Class president, and top-notch student, he has compiled an impressive record to submit to any college.

Seniors Stroll the Paths to Yesteryear

With the completion of the Vocational Building (RIGHT), all of the shop courses such as Agriculture, Photography, Auto Shop, Electric Shop, and Wood Shop moved to their new location and vacated a great deal of badly needed space that was converted into new classrooms.

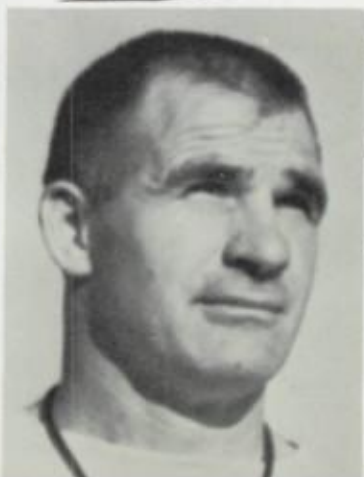

Mr. George Denison, the new yearbook and newspaper advisor, joined Joliet Township's teaching staff. His coming paved the way for new horizons in the yearbook and newspaper fields.

An uncommon happenstance occurred during our freshman year in which the Steelmen compiled a perfect football record . . . no wins and nine losses.

The yearbook editors have reviewed all the events which have occurred at Joliet Township High School since the fall of 1958. This was the year we seniors entered JT as freshmen. We have tried to choose what we feel were the "highlights" of the high school career of the Class of 1962. Perhaps a reminder of these events will stir your memory as you relive your journey through high school.

JT acquired a new head football coach, Mr. Ray Klootwyk. Unknown at the time, he was to carry the Steelmen on to a victory never before achieved.

For First Time in 6 Years JT Beats Catholic High!

It seems that Coach Klootwyk does a better job each year. After facing the humiliation of being defeated by an "arch enemy" six years running, JT finally retaliates and with a tight defense and sweeping offense takes the Hilltoppers 25 to 13.

A highlight in the history of Joliet Township High School was the coming of Doctor William C. French, the new superintendent. Upon arriving, he made every effort to acquaint himself with his "new home." While trying to learn about JT, he gave the school's personnel and the students a chance to get acquainted with him.

Janet Tozzi received the honor of being the first "Miss J," sweetheart of the yearbook. The contest was based on photogenic qualities alone, and Miss Tozzi richly deserved the title bestowed upon her as "Miss J" of 1961.

As a result of Mr. George Denison's persistence, JT procured a new collegiate size yearbook.

In 1961, Joliet Township High School joined the American Field Service exchange student program. This year, the student council raised enough money to sponsor two exchange students, Jørn Justeson, from Denmark, and Portia Casambre, from the Philippines.

THE JOLIET TOWNSHIP
HIGH SCHOOL

ALMA MATER

By
ROY E. JOHNSON

Roy E. Johnson, Joliet Township's choral director, has contributed several musical compositions in honor of Joliet and Illinois. But, to the students of JT, his masterpiece is the alma mater he wrote in honor of and for the glory of Joliet Township High School.

Another "first" at Joliet Township was the winning of the South Suburban League wrestling championship in 1962 by the Joliet matmen.

In 1912, a few musically inclined students formed an organization under the direction of Mr. Hiram A. Converse that was destined to grow and gain stature in the years to come. Now, the Joliet Township Orchestra is celebrating its 50th anniversary. From that humble beginning, the orchestra has flourished and blossomed into a proud organization with seventy talented members and is conducted by the accomplished conductor, Mr. Peter Labella.

For the first time in the history of Joliet Township High School, the Steelmen have attained that coveted and sought after position that every football team dreams of. That exalted achievement is a perfect season. Yes, the Steelmen of the Class of '62 have set a record that every superceding team will strive to attain—a perfect nine wins and no losses record.

Student Representation

Joliet Township High School representatives visited Marijke van den Nouwland, exchange student from Belgium, in her Silver Cross hospital room. Money was collected from different organizations in order to defray the cost of bringing her parents from Belgium. Marijke who attends Lincoln-Way High School lost her right foot February 3, 1962, in a car-train accident. Representatives from JT are Terry Cantu, GAA board member; Sue Richards, Sophomore Chorus; and Doug Ziech, Student Council President.

Casting tradition aside, the Student Council has inaugurated a new meeting program effective this year. With their election to the council at the beginning of the second semester, the freshmen members now meet with the upper class council representatives in one body. Pictured here are frosh members. Sophomore Chorus Is an Activity Which Provides

This year's Sophomore Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Robert Howell, is one of JT's most active musical groups. Some of this year's performances included the Veterans' Day Assembly, the Orchestra Concert, and special concerts at Oswego Community High School and Lincoln-Way High School. The chorus was also invited to audition for the Choral Concert program on television station WTTW, Channel 11, Chicago. To complete the year's performances was the annual Girls' Chorus Concert, "Songtime 1962," followed by an assembly in which the chorus presented some of the concert numbers to the student body.

Social activities were an integral part of the year's program. The annual Christmas Talent Show, performed within the chorus, was one of the highlights of the Christmas season.

Also, apparently enjoyed was a trip to Chicago to see "Bye Bye Birdie" and, at the end of the year, the annual Chorus dance, "Femmes Fancy," concluded a very full schedule of activities.

General Choir Offers Prime Opportunity

The General Choir, JT's music organization consisting of sophomore, junior, and senior boys, and junior and senior girls, is under the direction of Mr. Roy Johnson. The choir had a very busy year beginning with participation in the Armistice Day Assembly. Following the Armistice Day program preparation for the annual "Christmas Vespers" got underway. The choir, combined with A Cappella and Boy's Glee Club, provided enjoyable listening for the Christmas program. With spring, came the excitement of operetta practice and contest work. This year's operetta was "Annie Get Your Gun" and proved to be an artistic success. The choir also participated in the J.T.H.S. Spring Band Concert.

Socially, the choir was quite active, with a picnic in the fall, a Christmas Party, and the annual trip to the Indiana sand dunes. This year was one that will be remembered for a long time by many of the choir students.

of the School's Vocal Music Fraternity

The school year of '61-'62 proved to be a full and beneficial one for the A Cappella Choir. The social season opened with a picnic early in the fall at Pilcher Park. A lengthy list of performances began with the annual Veterans' Day program in the gym. Work began immediately on Christmas music after this initial public performance. Just prior to the holidays, Christmas Vespers was presented featuring soloists and the Madrigals. The Christmas party held in the gym closed the year 1961.

Early in February a group of soloists represented JT at the All-State Choir Clinic conducted on the campus of the University of Illinois. By early spring the organization was engrossed in work preparing for the District and State Choir contests. This involved individual soloists in addition to the singing group. Stage musicals performed by the Choir were "Brigadoon" and the operetta, "Annie Get Your Gun."

THE MEN BEHIND THE MEN

Delegating responsibilities to the cadets, teaching the cadets self-discipline, training the cadets to work as a unit, and participating in school ceremonies, JT's Reserve Officers Training Corps unit is helping boys to become men. Under the supervision and leadership of Captain R. D. Maguire, U.S. Army, with the assistance of Sergeants Campbell and Nelson and Mrs. Ehart, and with three sponsors to give moral support, RO cadets are developing into responsible, adult citizens. Already in community activities, they assist the Salvation Army in its Christmas Food Basket Drive and help out other worthwhile projects, such as the Civil Defense.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

The National Championship Band of Joliet Township High School is continually involved in myriad activities which are as impressive as the numerous awards and honors incurred by the organization.

Once each month the band assembles at Union Station in downtown Joliet to give local service draft selectees a rousing send-off to their initial training sites. This patriotic gesture, which has become a traditional personal duty of the band since the early days of World War II, can be better appreciated when it is realized that entraining for encampment is a ritual usually occurring at about daybreak. However, it would make little difference to the band boys when entraining occurred; they simply feel it their duty to see that the novice soldiers have a departure that they will long remember.

Regarded as the most spectacular display of marching technique is enacted by the band on the playing field at football games. During half-time periods the fans are treated to thrilling precision drill routines. The band has perfected elaborately executed marching routines to such favorites as "Steam Heat" and "St. Louis Blues." Several routines effected by the band have been patterned from those designed and used by the famous University of Michigan marching band. Also, the ideas and suggestions advanced by the band boys have been utilized to perfect these and to create others.

Performance at athletic contests also includes home basketball games, where the band helps create an electrifying sports atmosphere and generate enthusiasm with their spirited music.

Band music performed on its highest level occurs at the annual Winter and Spring Concerts. Music partisans fill the JT auditorium to listen to and marvel at the concerted effort of student musicians. This year the Winter Concert featured the newly formed Stage Band under the direction of Mr. Robert Haddock. Composed of students of the band and orchestra, this group displayed exemplary talent in the performance of popular swing music.

Each Memorial Day the band marches slowly and solemnly from the high school to Elmhurst Cemetery, where the grave of the late A. R. McAllister, first director of the band, is located. The band pays tribute to this noted director with a simple, but dignified rite. As taps are played in the background, the band president humbly places a wreath upon the grave.

On June 6 the band held its annual dinner-dance at D'Amico's 214 Club. Awards are presented to those who earn recognition at the State Music Contest. Another feature of the dinner-dance program is the awarding of pins to graduating seniors. New officers, sponsors, and honored guests are introduced. This prime social event brings to a satisfying conclusion an eventful and profitable year for the band.

At this juncture on the calendar, summer is only days away, which means the first call to summer practice, and the routine for a new band year is initiated.

All juniors in the band are encouraged to try out for student conductor in the spring before their senior year. After conducting a score of their choice, the aspirants are judged by the entire band with Mr. Houseknecht's approval. Four conductors are chosen, two for Blue Band and two for Gold Band.

The duties of student conductors include directing the band at basketball games, pep assemblies, and at any time when Mr. Houseknecht is absent. Student conductors have complete authority during the Blue-Gold Contest, which is held in the spring. At this time Blue Band and Gold Band compete with the student conductors directing. The contest is judged by local music educators. The winning band receives the honor of having its name engraved on a plaque.

Always a thrill to street side spectators is the appearance of the JT band on the march in the city. Here the band evokes the usual amount of awe and pride from the citizenry as the Blue and Gold proceeds along the avenue in the Veteran's Day Parade.

Skill in the art of stepping high with an arched back is requisite of drum major Bruce Ziech as he undertakes the responsibility of leading the band in parades and in the spectacular marching routines performed at half-time of football games.

Serving as Mr. Bruce Houseknecht's personal secretary for the past three years is Mrs. Eddie Guidetti. Among her many duties are issuing passes and conference slips, keeping the budget for the entire music department, and submitting information concerning contest work to contest officials. Additional prescribed duties include the supervision of the candy sales and concert ticket sales. With Mrs. Guidetti's time and effort, the music department is able to run more smoothly and efficiently.

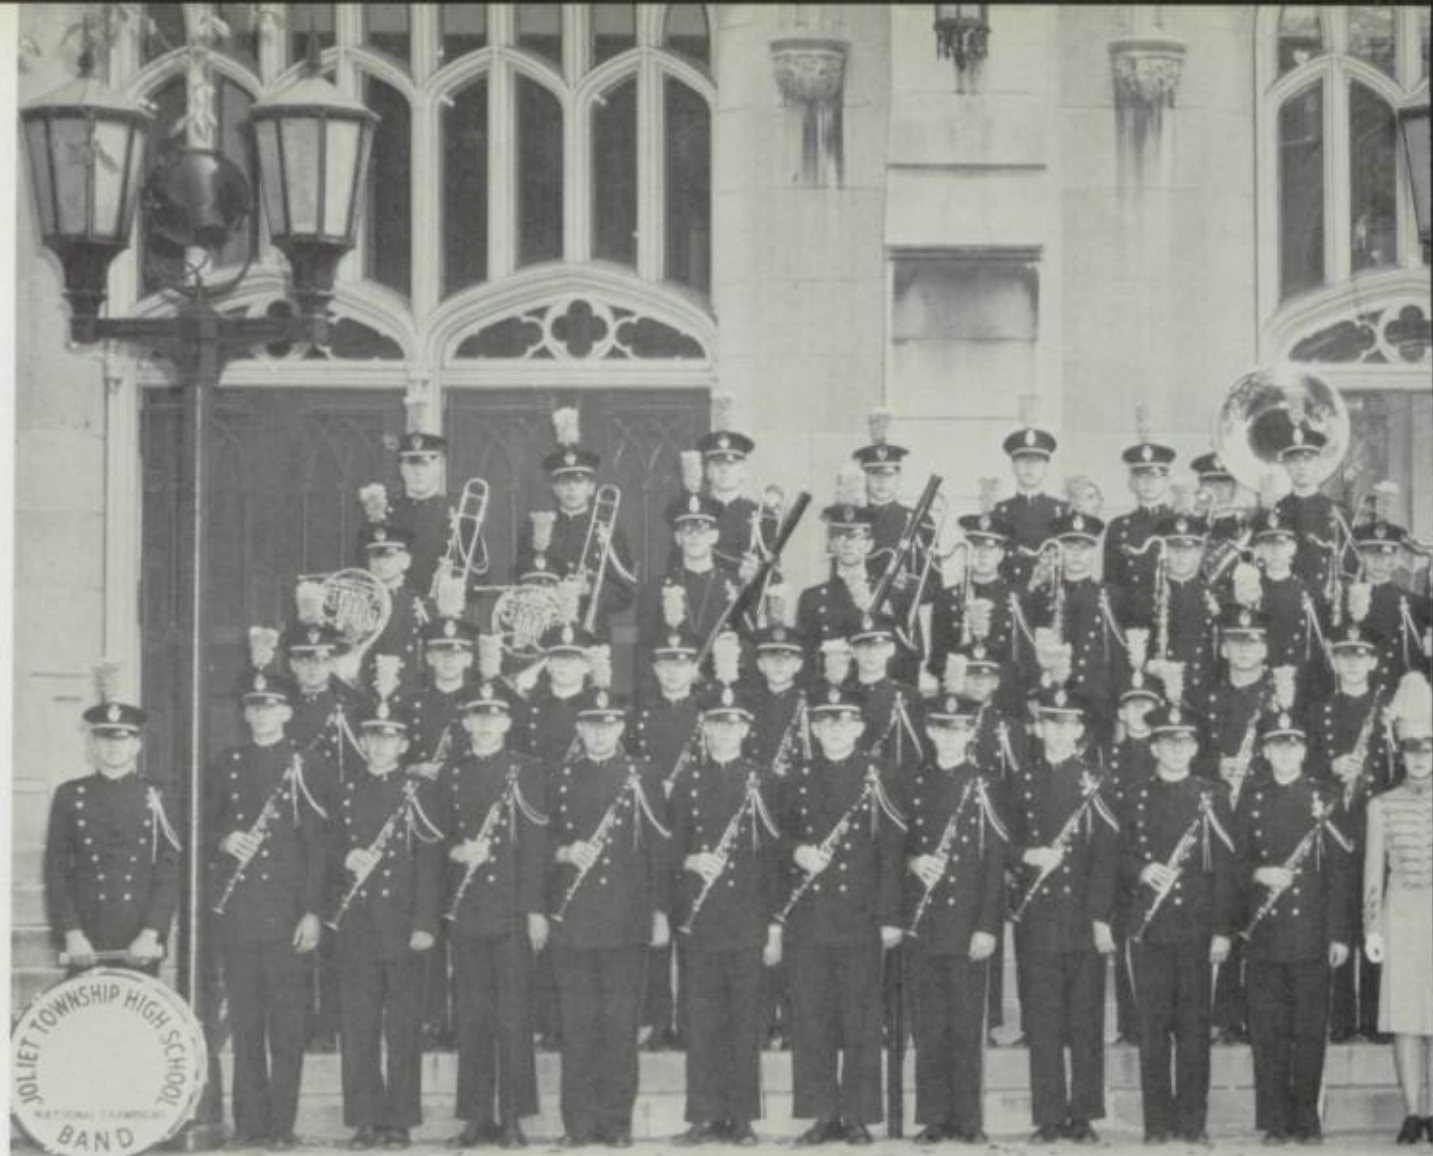

BRILLIANCE of BRASS of WOODWINDS ELECTRIFIES THE AIR

The flag raising ceremony, held during intermission between Frosh-Soph and Varsity basketball games, always impresses and stirs the patriotic soul. Saluting the flag as it is hoisted to the ceiling of the gym are Martha Alderman, Gold Band sponsor; Michael Jothen, band president; Janis FitzHenry, Blue Band sponsor.

Mr. Peter Labella

Present and only the second conductor of the Joliet Township High School orchestra. In service since 1948.

Joliet Township High School Orchestra

Unique among high school musical organizations is the Joliet Township High School Orchestra which is celebrating its Golden Anniversary this year. Distinctive qualities characterizing this orchestra include musical prominence in a school which is renowned for its National Championship Band and its continuous development and progress over the years while working under the supervision of only two directors. In a school where excellence in vocal music is also accepted routine fair, another product of an outstanding music department, the orchestra's phenomenal success is even more impressive in view of the competition for musical talent.

Under the direction of Hiram A. Converse, the orchestra entered its first State Contest in 1927 and won first place. This was the beginning of Joliet Township's orchestral prominence. In 1931 the orchestra won for the third consecutive time the state championship and was awarded permanent possession of the winner's trophy.

Celebrates Its Golden Anniversary

Continuing in now characteristic superior performance, Mr. Labella led the orchestra to superior ratings in all State Contests entered during the years, 1949, 1953, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, and 1961. In 1957, the JT orchestra was the only orchestral group to receive the Superior Award in the State Contest.

From its inception the orchestra has been presented in concert twice each year. Traditionally, the concerts feature student soloists and the best in orchestra literature.

As a direct result of orchestral training, several scholarships to Illinois Youth Orchestra Camps have been awarded to students musicians. District and State Contests for solos, ensembles, in addition to the entire orchestra, are entered annually. Year round interest in orchestra activity by students is attested to by the well-attended summer rehearsals.

First conductor of the Joliet Township High School orchestra representing thirty-six years of continuous service to the cause of good music from 1912 to 1948.

Although there is evidence of orchestra activity, on an informal basis, at JTHS as early as 1905, the august gentleman pictured above constituted the first official organized orchestra who played under the direction of Mr. Hiram A. Converse. The year was 1912 and these musicians were the trail blazers. Since their day the JT orchestra has traveled fifty glorious years to reach the crest of high school orchestral prominence. These gentlemen can be proud of the precedent they set and they can be equally proud of the succeeding generations of high school musicians who have

Marking the Orchestra's Golden Anniversary

Miss Audrey Totter

Noted Orchestra Personalities Past and Present

Mr. William Preucil
(Class of 1948)

Performed in the orchestra four years and was concertmaster his junior and senior years. The only native of Joliet to perform a recital in Manhattan's Town Hall in New York City. Mr. Preucil is now a professor of music at the State University of Iowa.

Mr. Don Haines
(Class of 1955)

Performed in the orchestra for four years and was concertmaster all four years. A graduate of Eastman School of Music, Mr. Haines served in musical units at West Point Military Academy, 1962-63.

Miss Kathleen Emmett
(Class of 1962)

Has been a member of the orchestra for four years and the leader of her section her junior and senior years. Miss Emmett has served the orchestra as publicity chairman during her senior year and plans to continue her study of music. Numerous honors and award have come her way through contests and performances during her high school musical career.

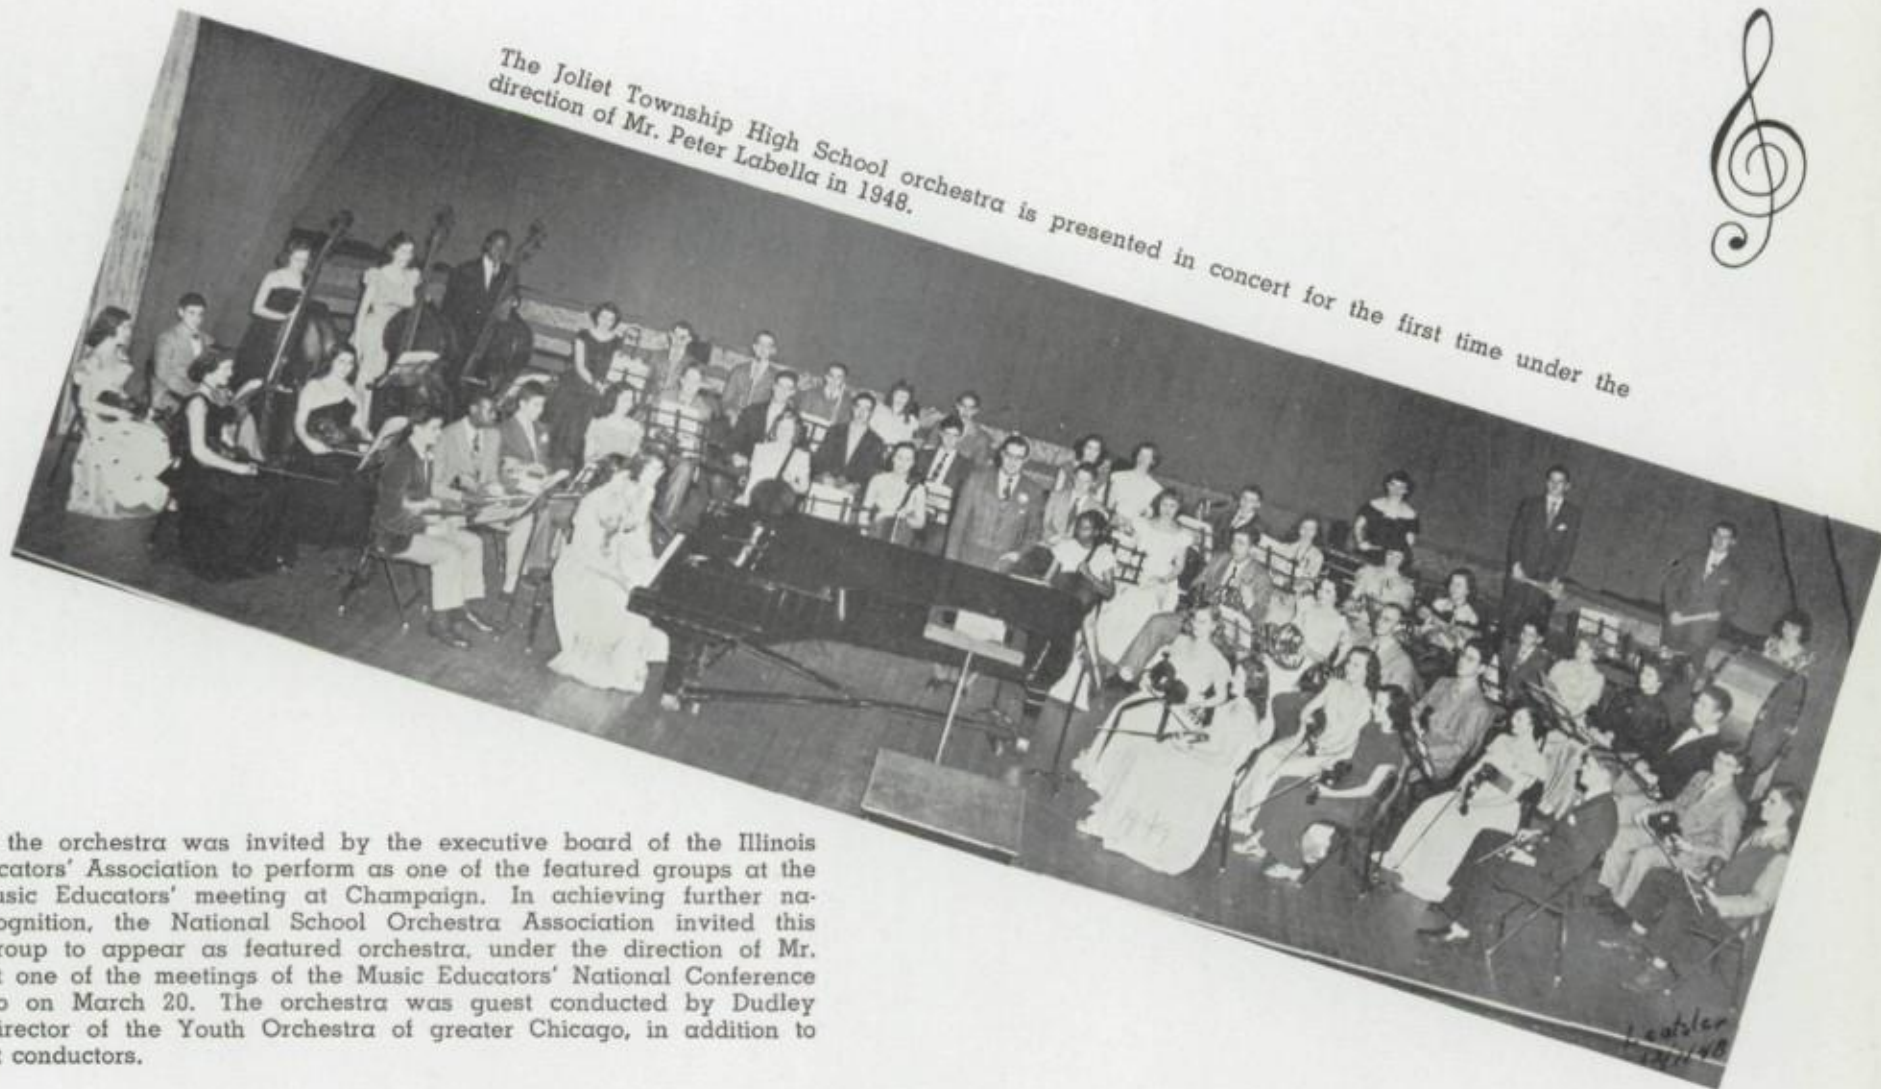

The Joliet Township High Orchestra is presented in concert in 1938 with Mr. Hiram A. Converse conducting.

Records show evidence of a student orchestra at Joliet Township High School as early as 1905. However, it was not until September, 1912, that Mr. Hiram A. Converse was hired to organize the first orchestra and become the first regular member of the faculty to direct the orchestra. This first school-sanctioned orchestra consisted of sixteen members and rehearsed once a week. Mr. Converse retired from his position in June, 1948. His successor, Mr. Peter Labella, assumed the director's post the following September.

Climaxes Five Decades of Majestic Music

The Joliet Township High School orchestra is presented in concert for the first time under the direction of Mr. Peter Labella in 1948.

This year the orchestra was invited by the executive board of the Illinois Music Educators' Association to perform as one of the featured groups at the Illinois Music Educators' meeting at Champaign. In achieving further national recognition, the National School Orchestra Association invited this musical group to appear as featured orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Labella, at one of the meetings of the Music Educators' National Conference at Chicago on March 20. The orchestra was guest conducted by Dudley Powers, director of the Youth Orchestra of greater Chicago, in addition to other guest conductors.

Many of the activities of the orchestra are made possible through the co-operation and sponsorship of the JTHS Orchestra Boosters Association which offers lay leadership and assistance.

Incessant encouragement is given by budding musicians by the director and all members of the JT Orchestra Boosters Association. Incentives to do well are offered freely. Trips to special concerts in metropolitan areas, awards to Outstanding senior members and informal parties, picnics, and field trips, including the annual Orchestra Dinner-Dance, all tend to create a comradeship among the students which gives zest and purpose to their musical training. All this has been made possible and is done more easily through the loyalty and enthusiasm evidenced by the Boosters Association.

Distinguished guests who attended the orchestra banquet in 1961 held at the Joliet Country club include some of the most loyal friends of the Joliet Township High School Orchestra. These staunch supporters of good music come from the lay public as well as the JT school family. Making an appropriate orchestra boosters "family" portrait are: Left to right, Mrs. Clarence Stallman, Mr. Clarence Stallman, JT First Vice-Principal; Mrs.

Peter Labella, Mr. Peter Labella, Orchestra Director; Mrs. Bruce Houseknecht, Mr. Bruce Houseknecht, Head of the JT Music Department; Mrs. Franklin Norem, Mr. Franklin Norem, President, Orchestra Boosters Association, 1960-1961; Mrs. Forest McAllister, Mr. Forest McAllister, Masters of Ceremony and Co-Chairman, second annual Dinner Dance.

To Prosper a Musical Organization Which Has Become a Living Legend in Our Own Time

Charged with the responsibility of giving the students administrative guidance to the JT orchestra this year is this board of officers. The president is Betsy Eneix, seated second from left. Other officers include Art Hammon, treasurer; seated at left, Jean Szepek, vice-president, third from left, and Kathy Hall, secretary, seated at right. Serving as social chairman this year are Charles Hawes and Candy Holloway, standing.

One of the members of the first organized orchestra in 1912, Mr. Herbert Hinrichs, center, and Francis Meyers, right, orchestra member from the class of 1932, congratulate Mr. Peter Labella, orchestra director, at the 50th Anniversary Fall Concert presented November 19, 1961.

In a good will gesture to help celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the Joliet Township High School orchestra, Kathy Emmett, publicity chairman of the orchestra, presents a souvenir disc commemorating the 50th anniversary of the orchestra to Dr. William C. French, JT Superintendent. The discs were evolved by the members of this year's orchestra to have a memento of this special orchestral year. Assisting in the presentation are Jean Szepek, left, orchestra vice-president, and Diane Grohne, right, concertmistress.

Proving Grounds for Nations' Young Women

Through an organization called Tri-Hi-Y, girls learn to meet and solve problems which confront their community. By helping the less fortunate with Christmas and Easter food baskets, they practice good citizenship.

Tri-Hi-Y is made up of twelve individual clubs. These clubs try to include in their program service projects. For these humanitarian deeds, they are rewarded with a social each month. Tri-Hi-Y's World of Fun is enthusiastically received by all who attend. A variety of entertainment is provided for the entire evening. The finale of this event is a dance where the King and Queen for the "World of Fun" are announced.

Another social event which all the girls look forward to for months, and remember for years, is the annual Spring Dance. Held in early spring, the dance gives the girls a chance to select the escort of their choice!

A Tri-Hi-Y member is provided with many fond memories. Some of these are sad and touching while others are happy and frivolous. All of these memories, however, give her pride in her community, her club, and herself.

The National Honor Society, since its formation in 1921, has served to recognize the achievements of top students in high schools throughout the nation. Though most emphasis is placed upon scholarship, membership is also based upon ratings in areas of leadership, character, and service. The size of any chapter is limited to fifteen percent of the graduating class.

The flaming torch of the NHS emblem is symbolic of the leadership and guidance received and expected from all members.

Essentially this is an honorary society. The local group, however, performs services to the school and the student body through such projects as tutoring, guides for major events, and book exchange management.

Meaning of Education!

Illustrating the old idea of how things aren't the way they used to be are Mr. and Mrs. McClain. Their son Roger is currently a sophomore at JT. On "Back to School" night many parents realized that school isn't really all play, but often a lot of work! To cover the territory in this building sometimes causes even feet to hurt.

Open house at JT is enjoyed by many of our student's parents. There is only one main problem derived from this. How does one find the correct rooms? Some of our N.H.S. members are shown here trying to assist our parents. They are Sandra Jensen, Doug Ziech, and Martha Alderman.

Besides trying to help our distressed parents, the guides also give enjoyments to the visiting parents by telling them some of their own school experiences. The two guides shown here are Dick Walsh and Sue Kurtyak.

Service is a phase of school activity upon which membership into National Honor Society is based. This year for the first time the Future Teacher Association lent a hand to the NHS on "Back to School Night." Pictured as service guides for parents who attended JT's "Back to School Night" are Sherrie Eaton, FTA; Sunny Meditz, NHS; Janis FitzHenry, NHS; and Tom Rickhoff, NHS.

The club pictured at bottom, left, is known as Chess Knights. It meets after school once a week. During the year matches are held with teams of neighboring schools.

The Mathematics Club is an organization in which students are given the opportunity to investigate some of the aspects in mathematics which are not covered in regular classes, such as topology, numeration systems, and symbolic logic. The sponsors who head the organization are Miss Fischer and Mr. H. Howard.

Membership is open to any students who plays chess or wants to learn to play chess. This year's officers are Doug Fornango, president; Karen Lind, secretary; Timm Thorson, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Little, sponser; and Harold Leyerle, vice-president.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

This organization is designed to encourage homemakers of tomorrow to understand all the problems of the modern woman. To help these girls cope with these strifes are Mrs. Ziesmer and Miss Newman, sponsors of the organization. Besides this, the girls are trained in the techniques of cooking and sewing.

National Forensic League Fosters Speaking Activities at School and Throughout Community

The National Forensic League is a national honorary speech organization for high school students. J.T.H.S. has had a chapter since 1959.

Students are admitted to membership by having participated in inter-school speech and debate activities and by having spoken before adult audiences in the school and community.

As students accumulate speech experience, they are awarded degrees of advanced standing which are honors in themselves and which may qualify the speakers for college scholarships.

The League sponsors a speech and debate tournament each year at the state level and a national tournament each summer.

Speaking to members of the NFL is Mr. Paul Johnson, sponsor of the organization. Members are, FRONT ROW: Burrus Carnahan, John Justesen, Margaret Leinen, Wally Sippel, Larry Peet, Carol Larson, Linda Kroll. ROW TWO: Dave Williamson, Linda Keir, Bob Cary, Karen Wight, Karen Lenz, Don Angus, and Karen Lind.

Debate at JT was reactivated during the school year, 1957-58, after a long interval of inactivity. Since that time it has grown from an activity involving about six students to one involving thirty. Members pictured at the right are, at podium, Burrus Carnahan, president; ROW ONE: Mr. Johnson, sponsor; Margaret Leinen, John Low, Wally Sippel, Larry Peet, Carol Larson, Linda Kroll. Karen Lind, representing the journalism department presented a pictorial and audio report on the school in the first round, and in the second round she presented a report on the community of Joliet.

Janis FitzHenry, Miss "J" of 1962, poses before the cameras after being officially crowned by Dick Walsh, faculty editor. Sally Smith, business manager of the "J," presented her with a gold bracelet, and Don Angus, sports editor, presented her with a corsage.

Outstanding students receive deserved recognition when Boosters' Club declares them "Personalities of the Week." Shown here is Sandy Jensen who received the Junior Citizenship Award, which was presented by the Joliet Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Janis FitzHenry glows with joy as Dick Walsh, faculty editor, presents her with a bouquet of red roses signifying her coronation as Miss "J" of 1962 at a regular Thursday morning Booster Club meeting.

Chroniclers of That Wonderful Year When

Fighting fires is the main duty of any chief, and, as "Chief" of the "J" of '62 staff, Sandy Jensen, left, is no exception. However, besides smoothing over the flare-ups which occur in any organization, it was her task to keep the flames of spirit and enthusiasm burning brightly throughout the year.

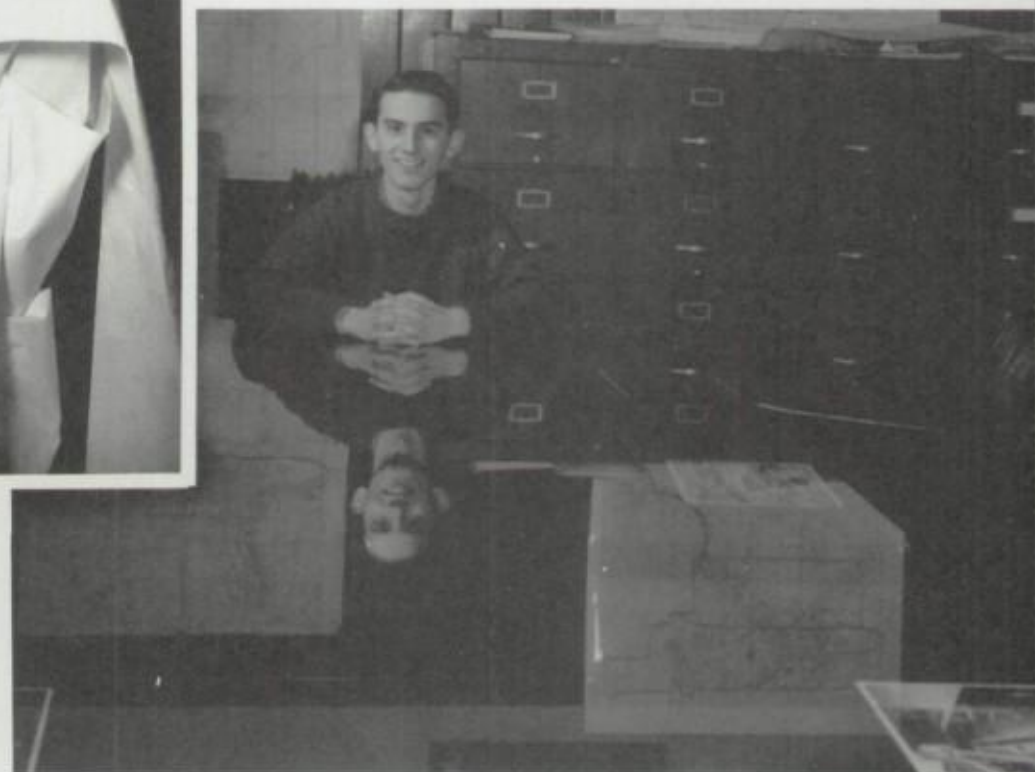

Names, names, and more names! Janice Paver, Senior Class Editor, right, has read more names and seen more "mug shots" than she cares to count.

Bewitched, bothered, and bewildered is Sally Smith, below, Business Manager of the "J" of '62. Sally's job is to promote publicity for the book, to process the money for the 2,500 subscriptions, and to make the delivery on time. She faced this job in her own confused, complexed, but capable manner.

Being Social Events Editor often causes Janis FitzHenry, ABOVE, to wander (?) in a state of "date"-dreams. However, to keep up with social activities at JT it was necessary at times for her to be wide awake. Janis always was, and didn't miss a social trick. Being of a social nature, she was usually there herself to make the event a memorable one.

Dick Walsh, Faculty Editor, will attest to the fact that there is quite a bit of research work involved in compiling teacher statistics.

"Champion" Was Synonymous With JT

To get a better perspective on sports coverage, Don Angus, LEFT, Sports Editor of the "J" of '62 found a choice vantage point for viewing sports events. Our athletic teams' championships throughout the year created a "sports dream" situation. Don acknowledges such cooperation with his enthusiastic intentions to give sports its proper place in the school annual.

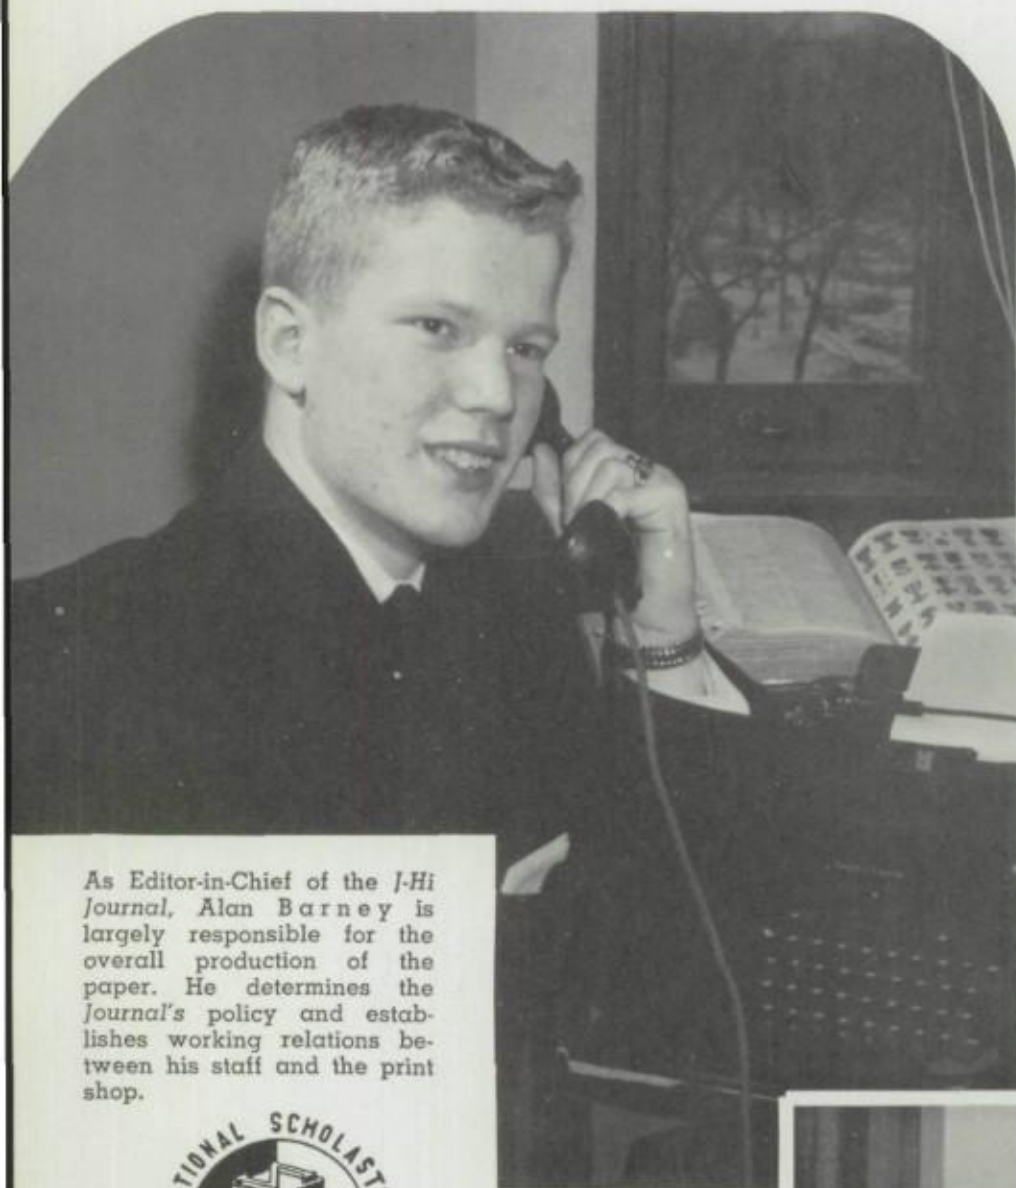

Algebra, history, or typing? Wondering what picture to take next is Betsy Eneix, above, Academic Editor of the Yearbook. The 96 homeroom pictures included in her section added their share to the confusion.

ABOVE: During the past twelve months Gloria Vercellotti has perhaps lost proper perspective in regard to the true objectives of JT. For some time now Gloria has regarded this educational institution as nothing more than a "house of clubs." As Organizations' Editor she hit the deck every day, dealt with myriad club hands, drew lots of pictures, bid high on pages, bluffed several teachers, effected a brilliant spread, and checked out with a grand slam. In doing so she even had to cut a few classes.

Comprehensive Training Results From Publishing

As Editor-in-Chief of the J-Hi Journal, Alan Barney is largely responsible for the overall production of the paper. He determines the Journal's policy and establishes working relations between his staff and the print shop.

Catching up on a few odds and ends, Carol Merinic, business manager, checks the books to see that everything is in order. Carol succeeded Elaine Nelson, who held this position during the first semester.

Donna Jean Gott is circulations manager and exchange editor. Donna is in charge of paper distribution, and sees that exchange papers are sent to advertisers, other schools, and subscribers.

Mike Hamrin, sports editor for the J-Hi Journal, is keeping up with the latest news in sports and is forever searching for a new "angle" in sports coverage.

the J-Hi Journal Completely on School Premises

Karen Lind, a junior, served as news editor of the "J-Hi Journal." Her duties entailed the scouting of news, making contacts for news stories, writing the stories, planning the layout of the front page, seeing big stories were played up, correcting galley proofs from the print shop and finally watching the presses roll.

The "J-Hi Journal," JT student newspaper, serves a dual role. It is a laboratory and teaching aid for journalism students, and, it gives them the opportunity to have real experience in writing stories, selling ads, making up pages, and in the actual production of a newspaper.

Described as a bi-weekly tabloid, the "Journal" also serves as a publicity organ for all organizations of the school. An additional attraction is the inclusion of a national student pictorial magazine, Scholastic Roto in each issue.

This year the "J-Hi Journal" is under the direction of Editor-in-Chief Alan Barney. His staff consists of News Editor Karen Lind; Feature Editor Joyce Williamson; Sports Editor, Mike Hamrin; Nancy Seiler, editorial editor; and Donna Gott, circulation editor. The "Journal" sponsors a "Mr. and Miss JT" contest during the second semester in which senior girls and boys are nominated from various clubs. The student body then chooses the outstanding senior boy and girl for the titles "Mr. J.T." and "Miss J.T." in recognition for their services to the school.

Gotta' get this copy over to the print shop fast!!! Deadline is today noon. Calmly meeting her deadline for the paper is feature editor, Joyce Williamson.

"All you have to do is review 'War and Peace' in fifty words or less." Saving a lot of little space is one of the problems that confronts Nancy Seiler, editorial editor, who also writes a book review column.

Publication Infants Recently Struggling for Survival

The JT News Bureau is a part of the publications program under the direction of George R. Denison. Reporters gather news, write stories, take pictures, and send releases to outside publications. The purpose of the news bureau is to obtain publicity for the school through other means than school publications.

The news bureau editor is Alan Barney who assigns "beats" and sees to it that news is gathered and sent to commercial publications. Dick Walsh, Nancy Seiler, Joyce Williamson, Karen Lind, and Judy Grossman help cover beats for news and features.

Director of the JT News Bureau, Alan Barney, makes story assignments to the staff and edits material which relates school life at JT to the local newspapers and radio stations.

Perusing the sports section for hints on an up-coming story is Mike Hamrin, sports editor of the JT News Bureau.

Karen Skikas takes time to pose for a picture as she pursues her work as feature editor of the News Bureau. Karen has been with the JT publications for three years and plans to continue her journalism work in college.

"News is my business," professes Judy Grossman, reporter for JT News Bureau. She is typing copy to be sent to a number of commercial publications.

Riding herd over a remuda of "war horses" such as the likes of those rounded up to man the twenty-five student publication offices is a chore Mr. George Denison ties into with boundless vigor (to hear him tell it). Keeping high spirited, and sometimes unbroken, charges adhering to the straight and narrow, and out of trouble with school officials, is a challenge that must be met and coped with on a daily basis. It means steadily increasing gray in equally decreasing hair, but he says he likes it.

In operation for the second year is the JT Publication's Council. Composed of the editors of the four school publication units, the Council's primary responsibility is to make policy decisions regarding the operation of the publication's program. Pictured in session are, left to right: Alan Barney, director of the JT News Bureau; Judy Nuetzmann, editor-in-chief of the Blue and Gold; Sandra Jensen, editor-in-chief of J of 1962; Karen Lind, news editor of J-Hi Journal; and Mr. George Denison, publications director.

Cheerleaders Expel Energy,

During the spring five girls are chosen for the Varsity squad, while the Frosh-Soph squad is chosen in the fall. The criteria of selection include cheering ability, enthusiasm, audience contact and neatness. The judging staff is composed of present cheerleaders, faculty representatives and Student Council representatives. Miss Patricia Lemanski, the cheerleaders' sponsor, is also present. This is only one of Miss Lemanski's duties. She also offers advice at practices and serves as a consultant to the girls when problems arise. In addition to being "cheerleading coach," Miss Lemanski is a girls' physical education teacher.

This year the squads are operating under a new merit system, which helps install punctuality and neatness. This year the cheerleaders cheered for several championship teams. They have successfully carried out their main objectives: igniting enthusiasm and promoting school spirit.

DR. WILLIAM C. FRENCH
Superintendent of Joliet Township High School

MR. JOHN H. FRENCH
Assistant Superintendent of Joliet Township High School and Junior College

Always important to school administrators is enrollment. Here is depicted a high level conference among the first three ranking administrative officers of Joliet Township High School. Discussing projected enrollment figures shown on a special color chart are Mr. John French, Mr. Clarence Stallman, and Dr. William French.

MR. CLARENCE D. STALLMAN

MRS. CATHERINE H. BRAUN
Second Vice-Principal of Joliet Township High School

by School Board and Administration

Dr. William French, superintendent, speaks to the members of the Board of Education who are seated at their conference table. Listening attentively to the superintendent's remarks are, SEATED, counterclockwise from Dr. French, Mr. Howard Lloyd, vice-president of board; Dr. E. Charles Coheneur, Mr. George Hankinson, JT business manager; Mrs. Verna Carey, secretary to the board; Dr. Robert Geist, president of board; Mr. John Kingsbury, Mr. Walter Mertz, Mr. William Grinton, and Mr. Norman Keck.

The Joliet Township High School Board of Education, which is composed of seven members elected from the district, tackles such problems as establishing an over-all school policy, providing educational equipment to meet the standards of a "recognized" school, employing personnel, and fixing salaries. The Board has the power to approve payment of employees and all bills, dismiss teachers, suspend or expel students, and to sell obsolete equipment. It establishes the health services and school lunch program, approves the curriculum, sees to it that the buildings are repaired and improved, and it approves the budget which provides funds necessary to maintain the school.

In order to best take care of the business of the school, the Board meets once a month. Special meetings and study sessions are also held for investigating the major problems.

A major problem which took many hours of study, promotion and hard work on the part of the Board, was the tax referendum. The referendum which was passed by a two to one majority, will provide two new, four year high schools for our school district with occupancy expected for 1964.

Interested townspeople of Joliet turn out in great numbers prior to the bond issue election on December 9, 1961, to hear a report on the state of the school's crowded conditions. Dr. Jack Childress, insert, who conducted a study of school enrollment as a member of a professional survey team from Northwestern University, addresses a citizen's group.

Relaxing momentarily from the pressures of decision during a Joliet Township High School Board of Education meeting, are, left to right, Dr. Robert Geist, Mr. John Kingsbury, Mrs. Verna Carey, Mr. George Hankinson, Mr. Walter Mertz, Dr. E. Charles Coheneur, Mr. Howard Lloyd, Mr. William Grinton, Dr. William French, and Mr. Norman Keck.

MISS HELEN MAHANY,

secretary to the Deans, Mrs.
Eleanor Quas.

Most people think of the work of deans in terms of resolving student discipline problems, and the major portion of their time is spent with counseling difficult students. However, other facets of school activity also come under the jurisdiction of the deans. For instance, they are members of the student scholarship committee and the National Honor Society committee. Miss Mahany chooses the Ivy Bearer for Ivy Day and chooses the DAR Award winner. She is in charge of the organization of the school monitors. Mr. Haines chooses the Kiwanis Club's "Senior Boy of the Month" and chooses the SAR Award winner. He is also sales chairman for the school. The deans make arrangements for college representatives to visit the school so that students may talk with them about college opportunities.

Department Chairmen Perform Executive Duties

Each of Joliet Township High School's nineteen departments operates under the jurisdiction of a supervising chairman who coordinates the teaching program of his academic area. These department chairmen are appointed to their posts by the superintendent with the approval of the Board of Education. Even though the administrative duties, especially in the larger departments, are burdensome, each of these department heads assumes a heavy teaching load, and in some cases, performs home room duties. The chairman makes decisions regarding teaching methods for the course work in his academic field, outlines courses of study for each teaching assignment, approves textbooks and updates reference materials for use in his department, and presides at department meetings. He arranges for substitute teachers, assigns classrooms for the teachers in his department, balances the number of students in each class, and makes regular reports to the superintendent. With strong moral fiber and a sense of responsibility, these academic leaders are dedicated educators in the true sense of the word.

In a revamping of the special education department this year, the academic counselors and the social workers were organized to form the basis of a new department whose need was dictated primarily by the additional enrollment. Need for expanded organizational work and the necessity for integrating more parents into the program were reasons also cited for the creation of the new department. With Mr. Charles Woolard as chairman, the counselor group is charged with standardized testing throughout the school, is responsible for orientation of eighth grade students contemplating entering JT, handles academic programing and assignment of classes, and offers scholastic and social counseling. The department offers additional services such as information on college, career, and scholarship opportunities. The counselors conduct group guidance meetings and are an accessible source of information regarding students for teachers.

For all members of the department, the chief area of work remains educational and vocational counseling. All counselors attempt to have individual conferences with each of their assigned students at least once yearly. The number of conferences could range up to twelve per year depending upon the needs or requests of the student. Conferences are on a volunteer basis for the most part but there are certain "called" conferences. Much work of the counselors is involved with selecting students for academic classes and solving ability grouping problems.

Most personal problems are referred to the social workers who deal in a sympathetic and understanding manner with the uncounted difficulties which directly affect a student's school life and his relationship with society.

MISS MIRIAM MANCHESTER
In Service At JT From 1931-1962

Miss Miriam Manchester has been a member of Joliet Township High School's English department since 1931.

She was graduated from the Illinois State Normal University High School and attended Illinois State Normal University Teachers' College, where she received her bachelor of education degree. She received her master of arts degree from Columbia University. After earning her master's degree, she did post graduate work at the University of Illinois, Columbia University, and Cambridge University in England. She is a member of Sigma Kappa, a social sorority; Kappa Delta Phi, scholarship fraternity; and Pi Kappa Delta, a forensic fraternity.

Prior to 1931 Miss Manchester taught in several Illinois high schools, including Argenta, Normal, Bloomington, and Danville. She taught at Lakewood, Ohio, as well as the University of Illinois and a summer session at Illinois State Normal University.

Active in community organizations, Miss Manchester is a past president of the Joliet Branch of the American Association of University Women, a past president of the Joliet Business and Professional Women, for which organization she has served as district chairman and as a member of the State board, and a past president of the Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Miss Manchester holds membership in the National Education Association and the Illinois Education Association. She has twice been delegate to the N.E.A. National Convention and has served as a delegate to the I.E.A. State Convention. As a member of the Joliet Township High School and Junior College Teachers' Association, she has served as chairman of the Education Week committee, and the welfare committee, and has been a member of the legislation committee. She holds membership in the Illinois Association of Teachers of English, and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Miss Manchester was author and co-director of the Will County Centennial Pageant in 1936, sponsor of a JT dramatics club, and co-sponsor of a civics club and was twice faculty general chairman of the junior-senior prom.

She has traveled through most of the United States, including Alaska and has also visited Mexico, the West Indies, the Virgin Islands, and Europe. While in Europe she toured the British Isles, Scotland, Germany, Switzerland, and France.

In a setting that has become quite familiar to her after many years of service as a classroom teacher, Miss Miriam Manchester works diligently with the most important people in the world—her students. Miss Manchester appears in her element here as she shares with her charges a wealth of wisdom and practicality. Students who have come under the influence of Miss Manchester over the years are the better for it.

MR. EDWARD A. RADKE
In Service At JT From 1923-1962

Joining the Joliet Township High School faculty in 1923, Mr. Edward A. Radke has served the school as a teacher of automotive mechanics throughout his entire tenure. In service for thirty-nine years, which makes him the dean of the teaching faculty, Mr. Radke carries his staff status graciously.

Before becoming a teacher, he served in various capacities in an automobile factory and was service manager in a large garage. After twelve years' experience in the automotive field he decided to share his knowledge and experience with others by teaching them about auto repairing.

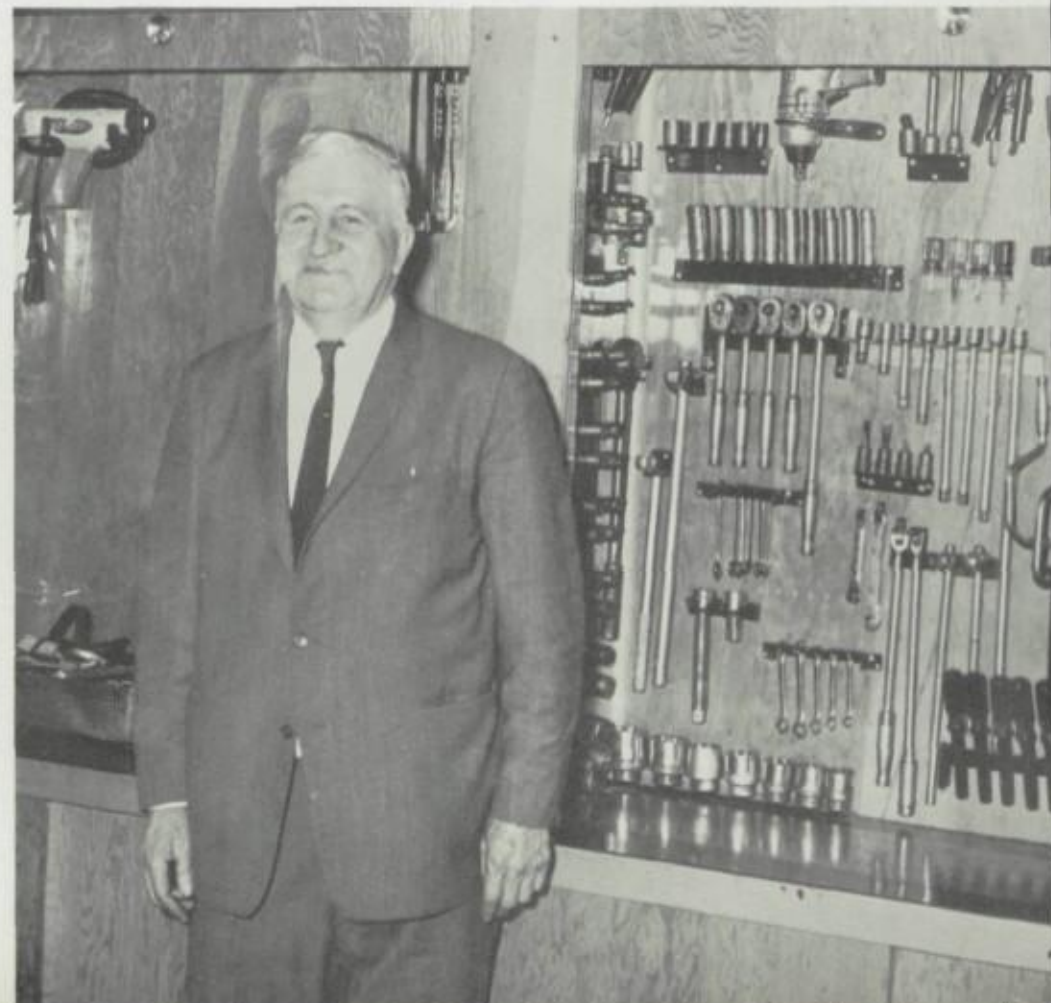

Mr. Radke received his bachelor of science degree from Oshkosh State Normal College in Wisconsin. He did graduate work at the University of Illinois and Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical University.

Mr. Radke's teaching career is unique in as much as he has taught in only one school. The school, of course, is JT.

He maintains membership in the National Education Association and the Illinois Education Association. He is also an active member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Mr. Radke retires from active teaching after devoting a life-time of service to the public in earlier times and later to the students of Joliet Township High School.

Utilitarian instruments are literally the tools of Mr. Edward Radke's trade. He is not only a master mechanic himself, but myriad tools are used constantly as he shares his professional knowledge with his students in automotive mechanics. Here Mr. Radke radiates obvious pride in his "tools of the trade" as he stands by an elaborate display.

THE TEACHER

THE TEACHER IS A CULTURE-BEARER.

He leads the way toward worthier tastes, saner attitudes, more gracious manners, higher intelligence.

THE TEACHER IS A PLANNER.

He sees the young lives before him as a part of a great system which shall grow stronger in the light of truth.

THE TEACHER IS A PIONEER.

He is always attempting the impossible and winning out.

THE TEACHER IS A REFORMER.

He seeks to remove the handicaps that weaken and destroy life.

THE TEACHER IS A BELIEVER.

He has abiding faith in the improvability of the race.

HIGHEST RECOGNITION AFTER AN ACCUMULATED 146 YEARS SERVICE TO JT

MR. ROBERT L. PRICE
In Service At JT From 1924-1962
(Deceased, March 19, 1962)

Mr. Robert L. Price, chairman of Joliet Township High School's physics department until his death on March 19, 1962, served on JT's faculty since 1924, with the exception of one year during which he taught advanced physics for superior high school students at West Monroe High School in West Monroe, Louisiana, under the Frost Kraft Grant of the Olin-Mathieson Corporation. This was the school year 1958-59.

He was graduated magna cum laude from Hamline University where he received his bachelor of science degree. He received his master of arts degree from the University of California.

Before joining the JT teaching staff, Mr. Price taught at the University of California, the University of Wisconsin, and Hamline University. In addition to teaching physics, electrodynamics, astronomy, and mathematics during his brilliant teaching career, he took time to enjoy photography and astronomy as his hobbies. He was sponsor of JT's first camera club, and at his suggestion and under his leadership the classes of 1951 and 1952 secured the planetarium for the school. He boasted a thirty-seven year perfect attendance record at JT. This included the year he was in West Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. Price held membership in the National Education Association, the Illinois Education Association, the Joliet Township High School and Junior College Teachers' Association, the American Association of Physics Teachers and American Institute of Physics, and the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers. He served as Chicago representative on the National Council of American Association of Physics Teachers for two years, and had served as chairman and secretary of the Physics Section of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers.

Mr. Price was lecturer for two summers at St. Cloud State College for superior high school students in the field of astronomy. Basic astronomy was his lecture subject for the high school and junior college teachers who attended the Eastern Tennessee State College last summer. Mr. Price was an active member of the Universalist Church of Joliet. He was scheduled to retire in June of 1962.

An astute student of the sciences for the greater portion of his life, Mr. Robert Price, chairman of the physics department, shares the wealth of his experiences in the field with two of the many thousands of students who have come under his influence over his long career. While the students examine an apparatus used in the study of physics, Mr. Price clarifies the use of a micrometer.

MR. ERNEST E. KOHL
In Service At JT From 1924-1962

Mr. Ernest E. Kohl has devoted almost forty years of loyal service to Joliet Township High School as a teacher of mathematics.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Lafayette College, and his master of arts degree from the State University of Iowa. Before coming to JT he taught at several Iowa schools, including the State University of Iowa. He was also superintendent of a consolidated school before he joined JT's faculty in 1924.

As a member of the Kudos Club, Mr. Kohl has held all four offices at one time or another during his membership. He has served as secretary of trustees and elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Joliet, where he is a member. He has always maintained high professional standards and has been active in educational groups. He belongs to the National Education Association, the Illinois Education Association, Phi Delta Kappa, and the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He also holds membership in the Joliet Township High School and Junior College Teachers' Association, where he has served as treasurer.

Mr. Kohl's special hobbies include gardening and reading. His retirement from active teaching service will be dated from 1962.

For many years Mr. Ernest Kohl has been most relaxed while "juggling figures." He has always prided himself in developing completely an analytical mind, which has enabled him to always approach any problem with a high degree of objectivity. His retirement may mean a reduction of routine work, but his love of figure manipulation will never diminish.

Main Intersection for Processing Student Traffic

The nurses of the JT health service department, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Ruthernbeck, arrange for all freshman physical examinations. In case of an accident occurring in the school, they administer first aid to the injured. The nurses file accident reports and excuse students from gym class when they are unable to participate in the regular physical education class. After counseling with the nurses many students are either sent home or referred to a physician, depending on the nature of their illness. Complete health records of all students are maintained by the nurses.

Mrs. Dorothy Ruthernbeck and Mrs. Marjorie Nance, school nurses, tend their duties in the health services office where they admit, treat, and release students every day of the school year.

Mrs. Goldie Koshak, Mrs. Agnes O'Connor, Mrs. Marjorie Enderson, standing, and Mrs. Catherine Braun, work together to efficiently maintain the school's official enrollment and attendance records.

The personnel of the attendance office, with Mrs. Catherine Braun as supervisor, keeps a daily record of attendance and tardiness. This information is recorded on attendance cards and later transferred to the students' permanent files. All notes coming from home, which state the reasons for absences, are trimmed and placed in the school's permanent files. The attendance office issues "nights" for tardiness, processes new students' enrollment, and issues clearance blanks for January graduates and dropouts. They arrange for students to be excused for field trips, also. All attendance records are kept for three years in accordance with Illinois law.

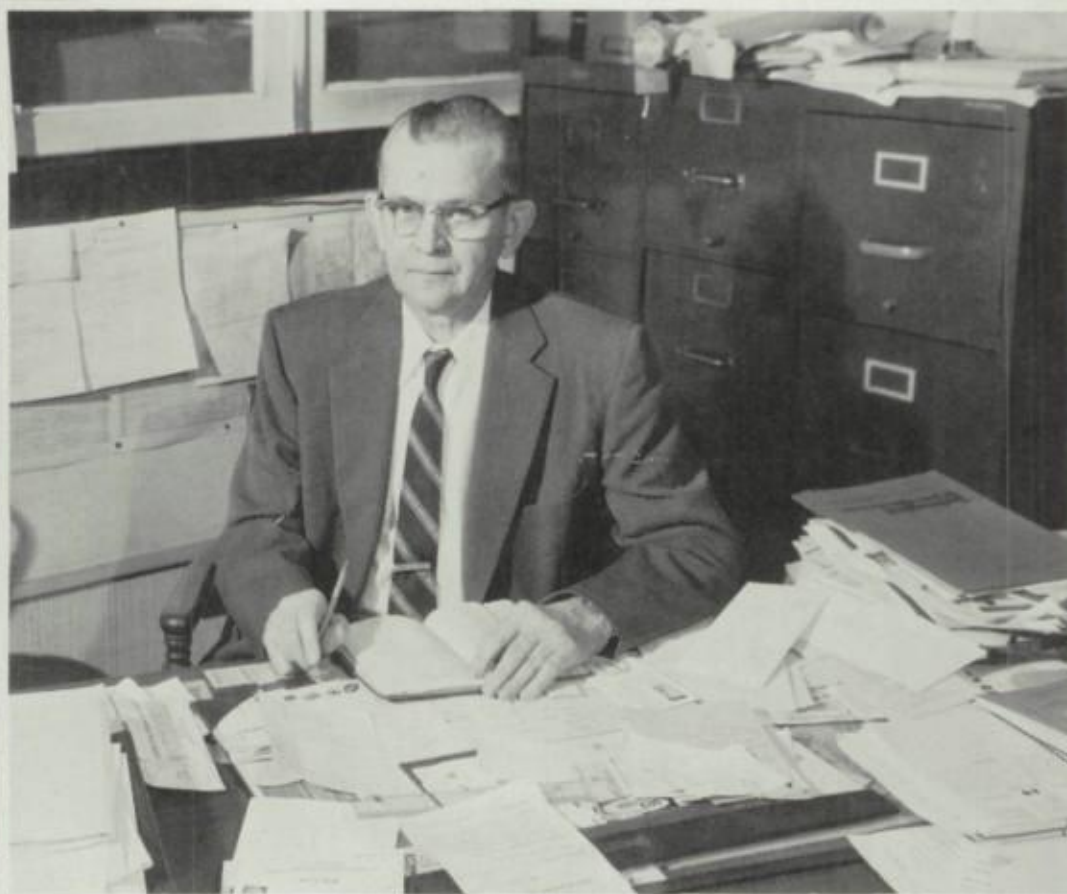

The attendance office has the only up-to-date file of student program cards in the entire school. They maintain the official school calendar, along with the business office, and arrange for student assemblies. The office employs two junior college students as clerks. Approximately thirty high school students are used as runners, messengers, and clerks, to help carry on the complex operation of the attendance office.

Conceding the fact that mob scenes such as those pictured above are not typical of student re-entry practices after absence, the nurses and attendance officers, perhaps, at times, feel students are coming at them from all directions eager to get back into school on any given morning after heavy absenteeism.

Nourishing School Family Properly Is Food Services Objective

MISS MARY HAMMER
Director of Food Services

Mrs. Margaretta Jacques and Mrs. Ann Dolasin cut and display pie prepared by the school bakers. Approximately 220 pies are baked every day in our school kitchen. Striving to satisfy 1,760 pie-hungry lunchers daily is one magnanimous chore.

It takes many a cook to serve JT's 3,700 students each day in the cafeteria. Contrary to the old adage, too many cooks do not spoil the broth. A few of the ladies who help to prepare nourishing lunches daily for the school family includes this relaxed group pictured above. They are, SEATED left to right, Emma Niegmann, Frances Walters, Selma Kelty, Mabel Williams, Frieda Lemke, Helen Muhich, Mary Borella, Bess DiGusto, Rose Pullara, and Ina Fors, and STANDING, Margaretta Jacques, Ann Dolasin, and Thersa Turner.

Forty-three Teachers Join Staff in Fall of 1961

New teachers to the Joliet Township High School and Junior College faculty were honored at a dinner early in the fall. The affair was given by the board of education and the administration.

Each year new teachers are added to the Joliet Township High School faculty. Some positions are open because of retirements or resignations, and promotions while others are actually created because of increased enrollment and additions to the curriculum. Figures show that sixteen teaching positions had to be filled this fall because of retirements, resignations, promotions, or through deaths. The others were created because of added course offerings and an increased enrollment of 413 high school students and approximately 200 junior college students.

All new teachers are assigned a "big brother" or a "big sister." This "big brother" or "big sister" is a faculty member who is usually a member of the new teachers' department. The "big brother" helps the new teacher find a home if necessary, shows him around the school, introduces him to fellow teachers, offers advice when he is requested to do so, and in general, assists him in becoming quickly oriented into this complex institution.

George Marshall, David Warner, Ruth Widau, Paul Koutnik, and Thomas Parish, were new teachers in the fullest meaning of the word last fall. They are shown examining a table center piece which was used at the faculty dinner which marked the beginning of their teaching careers.

Teachers Live Their Work

Teachers who have served on JT's faculty between twenty-five and thirty years gather around Louise Woodruff's group of statues known as "Science Advancing Mankind." They are, from left to right, Henry Simpson, William Hughes, Beatrice Lane, Marjorie Ochs, Homer Kline, and Edmund Puddicombe. Herman Walser, a member of this group, was not present for the picture.

Living proof of the fact that JT is a "teachers' school" are these instructors of long standing. Succumbing to the use of the old cliché, staff members who have "found a home at JT" are, gentlemen veterans, Everett Nelsen, Ivan Baldwin, Leslie O'Blenes, Roy Carlson, Perry Goranson, and Maynard Leatsler, and, lady veterans, Lucille Stewart and Mary Ryan. Others belonging to this group, but who were not pictured are, George Fahrenholz, Donald Imig, and Clarence Stallman.

For many years a certain few teachers have been entering the building from the Jefferson Street entrance each school day to pursue their instructional duties. Most have tended to take the statue of Abraham Lincoln, which they see at the top of the stairs, for granted and little notice is taken. However, Mr. Lincoln, in spirit perhaps, always takes note and undoubtedly approves the daily appearance and work of these veteran teachers who have continued to advance the educational philosophies which he revered and held dear. What more appropriate background to use to portray loyal service than the statue of Abraham Lincoln. Teachers who have served on the staff for over thirty years are, left to right, Leonard Onsgard, Ellery Frost, Miriam Manchester, Harry Leinenweber, Dorthe Hudzietz, Glenn Evans, Catherine Adler, Ernest Kohl, and A. A. Wills. Not pictured are Robert Price and Edward Radke.

Mr. Charles Schoenknecht, chairman of the biological science department, shows Mrs. Elsie Kline his latest book which is entitled "Ants." Mr. Schoenknecht is writing a series of children's books which are designed to increase the child's understanding of science through interesting reading supplemented by home projects.

In observance of Will County's 125th Anniversary Celebration many men grew beards. Teachers participating in the beard growing contest are, seated from left to right, A. A. Wills, who was general chairman of the entire celebration, Donald Green, Gilbert Bell, and Charles Woolard. Standing are William Odenthal, Beryle Longman, Leland Thornton, Richard Burget, Al Meyer, and Guy Haines.

At the suggestion of our progressive student council, Mr. Roy Johnson, A Cappella choir director, composed our school's Alma Mater. It was accepted as the official alma mater song by the Board of Education in the fall. Also, this year, Mr. Johnson arranged the musical selections "Illinois" and "The Holy City" which were performed by the combined choirs and the concert band.

To the Class of 1962

As the Joliet Township High School prepares to graduate its eighty-fourth class, it is significant that regardless of current debates over various aspects of public education, the basic goals and hopes for our graduates over the years, remains much the same. While each class must be measured against its own time, the elements that are basic to our purposes appear to stand firm over the years. Thus the school has done its best to prepare each student for the challenge that lies ahead with special emphasis upon basic principles of character, the importance of our way of life, and an intelligent understanding of the responsibilities and rights of the American Citizen.

Education and learning do not stop with graduation from high school. The framework of the future has been laid, but it is the responsibility of each graduate to keep building upon this framework toward the future. The measure of our success will be taken not only in terms of the personal accomplishment of the individual for his own ends, but in terms of his service to his community and his country as well.
